STOCKS GO UP IN WIDEST SWING IN 18 MONTHS

But July Wheat Is Lowest Since 1896.

New York, June 3.—[Special.]—Shaking off the reactionary influences that had depressed prices steadily for several weeks, the stock market moved sharply upward today in the widest advance in eighteen months since Nov. 15, 1929, the second day of the recovery from the disastrous break of that period.

The advance, which extended to every part of the list, was accelerated by the announcement that banks were making a more liberal policy in loans on stock collateral. The fact that many banking institutions have fixed 5 per cent as adequate margin behind collateral loans as compared with 8 per cent up to this time and 6 per cent or more a year or more ago, was translated into a powerful bullish argument, resulting in a sweeping price advance on the stock exchange.

But Wheat Price Sinks.

While stocks here were advancing, grain values in Chicago and other western markets declined to the lowest levels in years as a result of the sudden withdrawal of the federal farm board's support. July wheat, closing below 87 cents a bushel, was at its lowest in Chicago since 1896. Price declines ranged from 10 to 13 cents.

In New York, however, stocks that had been losing ground gradually and in some instances alarmingly since the end of February, recoiled with such speed and suddenness as to embarrass greatly an army of professional speculators who have been selling the market aggressively and on a broad front for at least three months.

One Stock Up 42 Points.

The net gains in the most active issues ranged from 2 to 11 points, while Auburn Auto, long a spectacular performer, rose 42 point in what was regarded one of the most sensational advances in market history. This one added more than $7,500,000 to the open market value of the company's outstanding stock.

United States Steel common, which in the morning went close to its previous top of 83¼, ran up for a net gain of 5½ points, closing at 88⅞. Allied Chemical closed at 88⅞ with a gain of 5¼ points. American Telephone and Telegraph rose 7½ points. American Tobacco, 6¼. New York Central was also up 5¼ points and the other railroads experienced a similar rise.

Cross Section of Market.

Fifty representative stocks made an average net gain today of $7.82, an advance which has not been equaled since these averages rose $10.82 two days after the culmination of the 1929 boom. Twenty-five industrial shares advanced an average of $12.40 today, while 25 rails rose $3.24. Transactions on the stock exchange involved a total of almost 8,100,000 shares.

With today's rally taken into account, the net decline so far in 1931 in the average price of fifty stocks was $22.65.

The bond market followed the leadership of stocks by advancing sharply.

WHEAT PRICES CRASH

BY PAUL POTTER.

The federal government's artificial props in American wheat pits were summarily withdrawn yesterday and prices values fell back to world levels and below with a crash.

Declines of 10 to 13 cents a bushel sent traders scurrying to cover in the wheat pits of nearly all American markets during the day. Prices of other grains also were deflated in the day's slump.

While the federal farm board's stabilization buying of wheat for future delivery had ended last Friday, farmers and grain dealers had been led to believe that the market would be supported by a continuation of the government's intermittent purchases of cash wheat in a gradual price decline during June.

Drop Starts in Minneapolis.

Yesterday, morning, however, the decline started in Minneapolis when for the first time since the government began stabilizing prices last October the "pegged" price was broken down. Other markets followed suit, but not until nearly noon was the word sent out by Chairman Alexander C. Stone of the farm board in Washington that all its wheat buying had ceased.

George S. Milnor, president of the farm board's grain stabilization corporation,

9,000 FASCIST GROUPS TOLD TO CRUSH ENEMIES

Chiefs of Catholic Clubs Face Exile.

Fascism's Edict

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, June 3.—The directory of the Fascist party, presided over by Premier Mussolini, spent two hours today discussing the controversy with the Vatican. The following resolution was adopted:

"The directory of the Fascist party, with regard to the recent controversy, caused by the revelation of documented evidence of open and occult hostility of some sections of Catholic Action, while reaffirming its profound and immutable respect toward the Catholic religion, its head, its ministers and temples, declares in a most explicit manner that the Fascist party has firmly decided not to tolerate any residues of anti-Fascism, which thus far have been spared, under any new or old banner whatsoever under which they may seek shelter.

"The directory therefore orders the leaders of 9,000 Fascist groups in Italy to be inspired in their action by this principle and reminds them that those who have fallen for the triumph of Fascism in the revolution demand that the revolution be defended inflexibly against anybody at whatever cost."

ROME, June 3.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini today declared war on anti-Fascism in Italy, "under whatever banner," and, according to news from the Vatican at least one of the Catholic Action society leaders was under arrest. He is an attorney named Corsanego, honorary general president of the Italian Catholic Young People's organization. It was said he probably soon would be on his way to political exile on the island of Lipari.

Other reports said a dozen Catholic Action leaders had been arrested in various cities and also faced exile. It was said that they were all men who had opposed Fascism previously.

"Wipe Out Anti-Fascism."

Premier Mussolini's "declaration of war" against anti-Fascists was made at a special meeting of a small body of Fascist leaders which formed the directorate of the party. The premier presided at the meeting and it was said he definitely mentioned the Catholic Action society.

Orders were issued to the 9,000 Fascist groups in Italy, with more than one million active members, to be guided by the thought that Fascism "is firmly determined not to permit whatever remained of anti-Fascism and which thus far has been spared, to find refuge and protection."

The groups were told that those who gave their lives for Fascism "demanded that it be defended at any cost."

Accuses Catholic Society.

The directorate charged that some sections of the Catholic Action society had been "openly and surreptitiously hostile" to Fascism.

With this blunt statement of policy Il duce and his group of leaders begin to formulate plans to take into Fascism's fold the young Catholics from the dissolved groups. Various provisions were made to strengthen the Fascist groups of men, women and youths with the idea of making them into a stronger body able to incorporate thousands of new recruits.

Catholic youths who may wish to join the Fascist clubs, however, would have to hurry, it was said, because a time limit has been placed on recruiting in some sections.

Pope Strikes Back.

In a speech to the college of chaplains of immigrants, reported today in the Vatican newspaper Osservatore Romano, Pope Pius XI. was quoted as having said last night that the dissolution of the Catholic youth clubs violated the right of the church to form and guide young people and that it also violated the natural law, "made for the good of souls," under which men form themselves into associations.

He denounced the government's official communique, which asserted that Catholic societies, "not directly connected with the national Fascist party," had been dissolved "without the slightest incident."

AT NIAGARA YOUTH IS HERO, BUT TO MOTHER HERE HE'S A TRUANT

Edward Di Ruscio, 20 years old, may be a hero to the outside world, but to his mother he's just a boy playing hookey who ought to be home.

EDWARD DI RUSCIO [A. P. Photo.]

The mother, Mrs. Philomena Di Ruscio, 50 years old, was informed last night at her home at 233 East 22d street, Chicago Heights, that press dispatches had told how her son dared death yesterday by leaping into the swirling waters of the Niagara river, approximately 400 feet above the American falls, and had saved the life of a woman. It was said that the woman, believed to be Miss Bertha Smith, 55 years old, had jumped into the river with suicidal intent.

Young Di Ruscio, sitting in his automobile with his cousin, Leonard, saw Miss Smith leap, and swam out to her, a distance of 50 feet, and brought her to shore while hundreds of tourists looked on.

"It was fine that he should save a woman from going over the falls," commented Mrs. Di Ruscio proudly last night. "But I'd like to know why he's not home. He went east to look for work, couldn't find any, and I sent him money to come back. He should be home right now."

U. S. LOOKING FOR DRY AGENTS WHO CAN THINK

Washington, D. C., June 3.—[Special.]—More than 2,000 applications to take the examination for a prohibition agent's job have been received, the civil service commission announced today.

The lists have been radically changed to obtain a higher grade of "acumen and common sense," and the age limits have been lowered to the 21-35 level.

A prohibition agent's pay is from $2,300 to $2,800 a year, according to service.

$1 Ticket on Derby Brings Him $34,000

A $1 ticket on the Canadian Veterans' sweepstakes on the English Derby yesterday brought a small fortune to John A. Wagner, 38 years old, of 2234 Southport avenue, who for 18 years has been an accountant with the Western Union Telegraph company in Chicago.

Wagner's $1 ticket, the second he ever purchased on a horse race, drew Orpen, the mount which finished second in the Derby yesterday, and is expected to net him approximately $34,000 as his share of the pool on the second place winner. The second place pool amounted to $68,000, Wagner getting one half on his ticket and Rita Rivet of Montreal the other half.

Wagner bought his ticket last April and tucked it away. Last Sunday after the drawings he received a telegram from the promoters of the sweepstakes at St. John's, Newfoundland, telling him he had drawn Orpen.

Until he gets the money, Wagner said he would not decide how to dispose of it. However, he said he plans to set some of it aside to educate his seven year old daughter, Ellen.

$150,000 FOR $2.50

Boston, Mass., June 3.—[Special.]—A radio in a room in Morgan Memorial here announced this morning that Cameronian had won the Derby and Joseph Kennedy, a Negro, who earns $2.40 a day, slid from his chair to his knees and with tears running down his face, cried, "Lord, I thank Thee for this blessing!"

Cameronian had brought him $150,000, one of the first prizes in the Irish Free State hospitals sweepstakes, for a $2.50 ticket bought on the installment plan. It means undreamed of fortune to this laborer who earns barely enough to support himself and whose wife and three children are stranded in Kingston, Jamaica.

The ticket cost him more than a day's wages, and when he sat listening to the broadcast of the race he had just $1.11 to his name.

Kennedy was one of five Americans who held tickets on the first three horses in the race, which will pay them a total of $400,000. Thomas O'Connor, an engineer, won $75,000 on his ticket on Orpen, and S. L. Horowitz, a printer, won $50,000 on Sandwich.

George Hill, a lumberman and automobile dealer of Norway, Me., a town of 410 inhabitants, won $75,000, and William T. Coyle of Cleveland, an elevator operator, won $50,000. Altogether Americans drew $744,000 of the $9,500,000 prize money. The Irish hospitals will get $3,500,000.

Drama in Kennedy Victory.

None of the stories of sudden transition to wealth of these other prize winners compared in drama with that of Kennedy, who works at Morgan Memorial as a repairer of knicknacks.

This morning, with the hour of the famous race at hand, Kennedy begged off a half hour from work. He went to the room of Edward Ferrie, superintendent of the children's settlement department of Morgan Memorial, to listen to the radio broadcast.

Ferrie sat with him. "They're off!" was the shouted word of the announcer Kennedy heard, but the next two minutes were lost to him.

Ferrie shouted, "You've won!" and Kennedy awoke to the fact that his working days are over if he chooses.

Nancy Carroll Seeks Divorce; Has Mate's Aid

BY TOM PETTEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Pictures on page 3.)

New York, June 3.—[Special.]—Nancy Carroll, the little red haired screen star who wears those pink doodads so charmingly, is getting a Mexican divorce. Nancy, who came up from 10th avenue by way of a Broadway chorus, is giving John M. Kirkland, her husband, the air because romance flew out the window somewhere along the primrose route. It all leaked out today—just another 10th avenue success story.

And Jack Kirkland, the reporter-playwright mate, who piloted Nancy from the back row of the chorus into the hearts of a million screen fans, is helping her get the divorce just as he helped her get everything else along the road to stardom.

Started Nancy to Fame.

It was an unusual romance and it had an unusual end on the seventh anniversary. Most of Hollywood's matrimonial wrecks have been caused by poor sportsmanship on the part of the husband. Freedom of the wife's check book has contributed its smashes. Neither figured in the Carroll-Kirkland wreck. The ground on which the divorce is sought is incompatibility—but the smash came because business stifled love.

Nancy's salary is $5,000 a week. Jack writes unsuccessful plays. Seven years ago Jack's salary was $250 a week and Nancy's was $35. Times change and boosts along the way are easily forgotten. It was back in 1924 that Kirkland snatched Nancy from the left hand corner of a living chandelier number in a fading musical show, joined up with Tom Mix, and accompanied him to Europe as his press agent. Nancy went along as a bride and Europe helped to rub the rough edges away.

Friendship to Continue.

Back home again he pulled every wire to get Nancy started in Hollywood. Her parts were small bits in the beginning but Jack stuck by and kept the old publicity pot boiling. Times grew better and Nancy began to climb. Jack pushed her up every rung of the ladder to fame and got his finger stepped on for his pains.

Kirkland and Nancy are both in New York and they will stay right here and let Harry H. Oshrin, Nancy's attorney, take care of all the business of getting a divorce in Nogales, Mexico. The final papers will come along as a matter of routine in a couple of months.

Today they both admitted the divorce was under way. Said Nancy:

"I've nothing to say. The news speaks for itself. It is too bad it had to become public."

Said Jack:

"Neither of us wanted this to happen, but it was unavoidable. We both discovered that to continue being happy we must respect each other's independence. We shall continue to have a mutual interest in our daughter, Patricia Kirkland, aged 5."

No "Other Man" or "Woman."

Broadway has tried hard since the news of the divorce became public to find the "other man" or the "other woman." Apparently there is no third side to the Carroll-Kirkland smashup except too much success. The couple has been pictured as the ideal movie colony pair. Even now a screen magazine is on the stands advertising an interview with Nancy in which she reveals her "great love" for Jack.

There will be no alimony settlement. Nancy does not need money and after all Jack has not written any smashing hits. They have split the custody of Baby Patsy.

SHOT TO DEATH WHEN HE FIGHTS ROBBERS FOR $12

Resisting two holdup men, Oscar Erickson, 33 years old, of 340 West 118th street, an ice cream vendor, was shot and killed early this morning in Halsted street near 115th street. He had $12 in his pockets which the slayers did not take.

Erickson, an employé of the South Shore Good Humor Ice Cream company, was on the sidewalk when the bandits approached. They drew revolvers and demanded his money. Erickson seized the weapon of one of the men. The second bandit shouted, "Plug him!" and the robber grappling with Erickson fired. The bullet pierced Erickson's heart.

A hundred feet away Frank Novak, 12221 Parnell avenue, also an ice cream vendor, witnessed the murder. The killers fled past him. Novak told the Kensington police that he believed they were the same pair who robbed him recently.

Shortly after the shooting George L. Brimer, vice president of the ice cream company, posted a $1,000 reward for the arrest of the slayers.

MEETS REBUFF IN SPRINGFIELD, BUT FIGHTS ON

Leaders Invited to Harmony Parley.

Rebuffed in Springfield yesterday afternoon by the house revenue committee on his plea for a tax reform bill to pull Chicago out of the financial mire, Mayor Cermak sent out a call on his return home last night for a state "harmony" conference on taxation, to be held in this city this week-end.

Among those to be invited, the mayor said, are Gov. Emmerson, Lieut. Gov. Sterling, Speaker David Shanahan, and the majority and minority leaders of both houses of the legislature. Spokesmen for Cook county's principal taxing agencies, including the board of education, the park boards, and the sanitary district, will attend.

A spokesman for Gov. Emmerson, who is attending the governors' national conference at French Lick, sent word that Mr. Emmerson could probably arrange his schedule to be present.

Seeks Legislative Harmony.

"I want to find out whether the petty differences existing between the Cook county and downstate delegations in the legislature can be ironed out," Mayor Cermak declared.

"If the conference is successful, we will be able to go back to Springfield at the first opportunity with a united front on a comprehensive program for tax reform."

Arriving from Springfield on the Alton Limited at 7:30 p. m., the mayor was nettled to learn of the action of the house revenue committee in voting, 16 to 11, to defer consideration for one week on bill No. 1179. The bill provides for substituting a board of equalization of three appointive members for the present elective boards of assessors and reviewers.

Explains the Urgent Need.

"I had told the committee that immediate action on this bill was imperative," Mayor Cermak said. "I explained the position of the Chicago bankers, who have refused to underwrite any additional tax anticipation warrants until this bill is passed, and I asked the committee to consider the fact that the city now has only $150,000 in the treasury to meet pay rolls."

When informed that the committee had voted to postpone action on the bill within fifteen minutes afer he left the committee rooms, the mayor shrugged.

"Their action is not difficult to explain," he said. "No doubt the downstate members were irritated because Cook county legislators beat the income tax bill. This is their revenge."

Hopes to Save the Bill.

However, after a word of consultation with Corporation Counsel Busch, who had accompanied him to Springfield, Mayor Cermak expressed hope that the bill might yet be saved, an expression at variance with the sentiment of its backers at Springfield, who held that the committee's action definitely killed the measure for this session.

"I believe there is still time to push the bill through before a special session," said the mayor. "In my address to the committee I made reference to my hope of calling the statewide conference.

"It is possible that the committee members desired to postpone action on this bill until after the conference, although I tried to make it clear that the measures to be taken up at the conference would have no relation to this particular bill."

Regarding the conference, the mayor said it is his hope to have it start tomorrow and continue through Saturday and possibly Sunday. It will probably be held at the Stevens or the La Salle hotel.

THE SPRINGFIELD HEARING

BY PERCY WOOD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 3.—[Special.]—Fifteen minutes after Mayor Cermak of Chicago had asked it for legislative aid the house revenue committee today postponed consideration for one week of the bill he is pushing.

This bill, No. 1,179, would abolish the elective boards of Cook county assessors and reviewers and substitute a joint appointive group of three members. Unless it passes the assembly, say the Chicago bankers, they will buy no more tax anticipation warrants. Mr. Cermak told the committee that there is now only $150,000 in the city treasury.

"Enactment into law of this bill, now before your committee, providing for simplified assessment machinery, will have the effect of immediately restoring confidence and public credit," the mayor told the committee. "You should not wait for a special session; we must have immediate relief."

Committee Holds It Over.

Instead, by a vote of 16 to 11, the committee held it over.

"It was like calling out the hearse and taking it to the graveyard," said Minority Leader Igoe, who introduced the bill.

Another observer, Thomas J. O'Grady [Dem., Chicago], gave the simplest explanation.

"It's nothing but the same old heat," he said. "The Democrats won't vote to kick out their board of assessors and the Republicans don't want to lose control of their board of review. There's nothing complicated in that."

Those who voted to postpone have in mind the probability of a special session for the sole consideration of revenue.

"Why fuss with this now? We would only have to go over it again later in the summer," they said.

The mayor of Chicago talked for twenty minutes, amplifying an informal statement by the reading of a six page address in which he summarized the financial exigencies in the city and urged immediate action.

6 Millions Salaries Owed.

"Unless we have relief, I cannot predict what will happen," he said. "We owe $6,000,000 in unpaid salaries to school teachers, firemen and policemen. We are paying no bills for we have no money. There is $150,000 in the city treasury. The banks will buy no more tax warrants and if we don't get revenue, almost 50,000 people will be cut off the pay rolls.

"I have hopes that before the week is over a conference will be held between the governor, the bankers, the leaders of the legislature and the mayor, to agree upon some measure for you to consider."

"Don't you think, Mr. Mayor," asked Elmer J. Schnackenberg [Rep., Chicago], "that it would be better to hold our action until you have had that conference?"

Says Needs Are Immediate.

"Our needs are immediate," the mayor replied.

"Do you," continued Schnackenberg, "favor legislation to take forever from the people the right to elect their tax assessing and reviewing officials?"

"I'll answer that by saying that I am in favor of house bill 1,179," said Mr. Cermak. "The newspapers of Chicago also favor it."

"The newspapers were for the reassessment, too," returned Schnackenberg.

"Well, I think we Democrats can hold our heads high as far as that reassessment is concerned," the mayor answered. "It was ordered by a Republican state tax commission."

Mr. Cermak left the statehouse immediately at the conclusion of his address. He had hardly gotten out of the building when Representative William J. Warfield [Rep., Chicago] moved to postpone consideration of house bill 1,179 for one week, together with amendments to it of a rhetorical nature which were being offered by Ray O'Keefe [Dem., Chicago].

"If you postpone," warned Thomas O'Brien [Dem., Chicago], "you will kill this bill; if we don't get it now, we'll never get it. Let's vote it up or down right now."

How Committee Voted.

There was not much further discussion from either side. The roll call showed:

For postponement — Black [Rep., Champaign], Blackwell [Rep., Chicago], Bolger [Dem., McHenry], Bratton [Rep., Kankakee], Breen [Dem., Vermilion Grove], Crowley [Rep., Peoria], Durso [Rep., Chicago], Harris [Rep., Chicago], Hawkinson [Rep., Galesburg], Hennebry [Dem., Wilmington], Jenkins [Rep., Chicago], Mancin [Rep., Chicago], McCluggage [Dem., Peoria], Schnackenberg [Rep., Chicago, Swanson [Rep., Chicago], Warfield [Rep., Chicago].

Against postponement—Auth [Dem., Chicago], Boyle [Dem., Chicago], Bush [Dem., Pittsfield], Coia [Dem., Chicago], Donahue [Dem., Chicago], Keane [Dem., Chicago], O'Brien, T. J. [Dem., Chicago], O'Keefe [Dem., Chicago], Rategan [Dem., Chicago], Shannon [Dem., Chicago], Green [Republican, Rockford].

Later the committee did report favorably on the Igoe bill to allow the issuance of about $2,000,000 in bonds without a referendum to take up defaulted bonds. It was sponsored by County Treasurer McDonough of Chicago.

CERMAK TAKES PART IN GRADUATION OF HIS GRANDDAUGHTER

Mayor Cermak hurried back from Springfield last night to honor the most ardent of all his supporters in the mayoralty campaign—Vivian Graham, his 13 year old granddaughter.

The evening was a momentous occasion for Vivian, almost as momentous as that evening in April when she introduced to radio audiences her "granddad" as Chicago's new mayor. It was the night of her graduation from the eighth grade at Burnham school, Cicero, and 170 of her schoolmates, as well as 200 pupils of the Wilson and Roosevelt schools, gathered in the J. Sterling Morton High school auditorium for the exercises presided over by Frank J. Petru, president of the board of education.

Vivian was visibly the proudest graduate of all when Mr. Petru announced that her grandfather was present to take part in the ceremonies. Mayor Cermak then was ushered to the platform amid cheers. He declared the occasion to be "the happiest of his life."

After receiving congratulations from her grandfather Vivian said: "I shall never forget my obligation to Burnham school and I hope always to be loyal to the place where I learned to read, write, and think."

Vivian is the daughter of State Senator and Mrs. Richey V. Graham, 1916 South Austin boulevard.

RECORDER URGES FIGHT TO REVISE STATE TAX LAWS

County Recorder Clayton F. Smith, addressing members of the Chicago Real Estate board on the tax question last night, suggested that the group, such as the board, should launch a campaign for revision and amendment of the revenue article of the state constitution.

"The legislature, in session since January, has taken up its time largely with makeshift measures promising no relief," Mr. Smith asserted. "Mayor Cermak's advisory commission has been giving splendid service, but is chiefly concerned, however, with a proposal to substitute a new system of assessment and revision for the present method.

"Methods of appraisal and assessment as well as review may call for a complete change of form in the future, but before further tinkering with the tax machinery is considered we must have some speedy solution of the main problem. That problem is reapportionment of the whole tax burden and its fair division."

$20,000,000 DUE ON PUBLIC BONDS DURING THIS YEAR

$8,000,000 of Debt Must Be Paid on July 1.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

More than $20,000,000 in bonds of the local governments are due before the end of the year. Of the total, more than $8,000,000 of these bonds are due July 1, less than four weeks away.

None of the seven local governments which issued the bonds has the full amount in cash at present to meet its bond and interest payments for the remainder of 1931.

Some of the bonds falling due are payable out of the 1929 taxes, of which less than 58 per cent has been collected. To pay others, the taxes of 1930 have been relied upon, and these taxes have not been assessed. The valuation of property on which to make the 1930 assessment has not been completed.

Start Negotiating Loans.

Most of the seven tax expending bodies must borrow the money with which to meet their funded debt obligations. Some have made tentative arrangements to get the cash, and others are negotiating. All have been active since Cook county defaulted last Monday on bonds and interest totaling $1,868,400.

Fiscal agents of each of the other six governments asserted yesterday that they will "somehow or other" escape the county government's situation. Their difficulties have been increased because the banks desire more assurance of tax collections before lending substantial amounts on tax anticipation warrants. Part of that assurance would come with enactment of certain bills before the legislature on which little progress had been made so far.

Bonds and Interest Due.

The amount of bonds and interest on bonds of the several local governments, which will be due July 1 and the total due during the entire year, are shown in the following tabulation:

	July 1.	During year.
Sanitary district	$2,497,447	$7,168,218
City	2,831,438	5,712,876
South parks	1,031,960	3,635,640
West parks	639,033	1,254,692
Lincoln park	529,270	1,246,882
Schools	458,375	1,166,750
County	55,000	663,955
Totals	$8,043,524	$20,843,014

Up to June 1 the sanitary district had paid $5,293,869 this year in bonds and interest, but all of the money used to make those payments was borrowed on tax anticipation warrants. The district is in better shape than some of the other local governments, because it pays off its warrants as the taxes are paid in the current collections. Trustee Ross A. Woodhull, chairman of the district's finance committee, hopes to be able to borrow enough, by means of temporary loans, to meet the district's funded obligations.

The amounts of the district's bonds and interest payable at the due dates for the remainder of the year are shown as follows:

Due date.	Principal.	Interest.	Total.
July 1	$1,836,000	$ 661,447	$2,497,447
Aug. 1	1,332,500	497,956	1,830,456
Sept. 1	50,000	69,440	119,440
Oct. 1	250,000	165,312	415,312
Oct. 25		198,625	198,625
Nov. 1	300,000	606,937	906,937
Dec. 1	850,000	350,000	1,200,000
Totals	$4,818,500	$3,349,718	$7,168,218

The city government has no bonds due this year, but it has interest payments to meet totaling $5,712,876, and the school board also has interest due totaling $1,166,750. Of the aggregate of $6,879,626, $3,289,813 will be due on July 1, and the remainder on Dec. 31.

City Controller M. S. Szymczak, who is the fiscal agent for both bond accounts, said that the July 1 interest will be paid on time. He did not indicate where the money is coming from.

Other Resources of City.

However, the city has considerable income from licenses and in addition has the authority to borrow its own surplus and trust funds, of which there are said to be enough on hand to pay the interest due on July 1. No arrangement has yet been made to obtain the interest money due at the end of the year.

The controller of the south park district said that arrangements have not been completed for financing all of the bonds and interest due this year, but he said that he is confident the cash will be obtained.

The Lincoln park board reported that with an estimated temporary loan of $200,000, it will pay all of its bonds and interest on time. The west park system, according to its auditor, will have to borrow a large part of the money to meet its bonds and interest. The $111,000 already paid this year has been with money obtained on tax anticipation warrants.

Situation of Park Systems.

The 1931 bonds and interest of the three park systems, with the amounts due on each due date for each board are shown as follows:

SOUTH PARK BOARD.

Due Date.	Principal.	Interest.	Total.
July 1	$820,000	$211,960	$1,031,960
Aug. 1	775,000	313,960	1,088,960
Sept. 1	475,000	252,020	727,020
Oct. 1	200,000	112,500	312,500

Totals	$775,000	$465,882	$1,240,882

The seventh local government is the county board, which on Monday defaulted on $1,868,400 of bonds and interest. No one connected with the county government is overconfident that the bonds and interest due during the remainder of the year will be paid promptly. The county is attempting to get the bill through the legislature permitting the refunding of both bonds and interest. If that succeeds the county will issue new bonds in payment of those which fall due.

No Loans on Tax Warrants.

No one would make a prediction yesterday regarding what will be done if that bill fails to become a law. The county so far has been unable to borrow money on tax anticipation warrants. It has no authority to use its surplus and trust funds for its temporary needs.

The county's funded obligations for the remainder of the year are as follows:

Due, date—	Bonds.	Interest.	Total.
July 1	$50,000	$ 5,000	$ 55,000
August 1		56,725	56,725
October 1		67,750	67,750
November 1		4,800	4,800
December 1		345,180	345,180
December 31	100,000	135,000	135,000
Totals	$50,000	$613,935	$663,955

It is reported that the Chicago bankers have intimated to the fiscal agents of each of the seven local governments that it will be exceedingly difficult for any of them to sell tax anticipation warrants, for current expenses, if they default on any more bonds, regardless of what legislation may be passed at Springfield.

Day in Springfield

THE SENATE.

Defeated tonight the Lee bill for an examining board for osteopaths.

Passed H. B. 470, appropriating $4,830,200 for the pay of officers and members of the next general assembly and officers of state government for next biennium.

Passed Blackwell house bill for appointment of Illinois Mexican friendship commission of nine members to visit Mexico and create a friendly attitude towards Illinois products. Appropriates $5,000.

THE HOUSE.

Received the report of the railroad electrification subcommittee, headed by William G. Thon [Rep., Chicago]. This held that, due to the "gigantic" proportions of the subject and the committee's limited study of it the bill should not be recommended "at this time." The committee found, however, that the pollution of the air by smoke from railroad locomotives, "is a menace to the health of the people of Chicago, particularly the children."

STATE INCOME TAX KILLED BY ILLINOIS HOUSE

20 Downstaters Aid Cook to 75-74 Vote.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 3.—[Special.]—The Lantz state income tax bill was killed by the house today by members from Cook county and downstate industrial centers. It failed by two votes. The roll call stood 75 for and 74 against. The bill required 77, a constitutional majority. It had been passed by the senate April 15 by 30 to 17.

L. P. HENNEBRY.

The vote today became a tug of war between rural and urban members. Downstate lined up against Cook county. All Cook county legislators present voted against income tax and they were reinforced by twenty downstaters from cities including Joliet, Peoria, Rockford, East St. Louis, Springfield, La Salle, Decatur, Freeport, Bloomington, and Alton.

All support for the measure came from downstate. More than any other roll call this session, the vote showed the growing development of an "urban consciousness" in the legislature on matters of taxation.

"Means Double Taxation."

In the onslaught opponents of the income tax argued that it would be a poor tax instead of a lieu tax—that as it stood it was double taxation and that it would saddle a new tax load on the farmers as well as upon the small wage earners in the towns and cities. It was assailed as a "makeshift."

Attention was directed to the fact that the voters have twice voted down constitutional amendments permitting income tax and that income tax was one reason for the defeat of the proposed new constitution eight years ago. The old question of constitutionality was battled over.

Advocates of the bill urged that the question of validity should be put up to the supreme court, while antagonists held that for years prevailing thought among the experts has been that nothing short of a constitutional amendment will permit a law on the subject to stand.

"If this bill passes," cried Michael F. Hennebry [Dem., Joliet], "this legislature will be forever condemned. The people defeated income tax last November, and I, for one, am not with the people."

Analysis of Vote.

Party lines were broken down. An analysis of the roll call shows the following:

On the bill—Downstate Republicans, 45; Democrats, 29—74.

Against the bill:

	Reps.	Dems.	Total.
Cook county	27	27	54
Downstate	9	11	20
Total	36	38	74

The defeated measure, which was largely prepared by the Illinois Agricultural association, was combated on the ground that partiality is shown corporations in the bill, and that, although it sought to shift part of the tax burden from agriculture and real estate, it would in effect saddle another tax upon the man behind the plow as well as upon the white collar man and the flat dwellers in the cities.

Argue Back and Forth.

"Why are corporations exempt in this bill?" shouted Elmer J. Schnackenberg [Rep., Chicago]. "Owners of land will have to pay an income tax on top of their property tax."

"Well," said Homer J. Tice [Rep., Greenview], "this will benefit the taxpayer without adding an unnecessary burden, for it will bring to the financial support of the government groups which now pay no taxes."

"This bill would exempt corporations," remarked William G. Thon [Rep., Chicago], "but it would make the small earner pay tax on the income from the sweat of his brow. It's a bad bill."

"It will be something of a cure for real estate owners who pay 80 per cent of the taxes," said Truman A. Snell [Dem., Carlinville]. "It puts the constitutionality right up to the Supreme court where it belongs."

"It's a most vicious law," objected Raymond T. O'Keefe [Dem., Chicago].

"It adds a new tax burden," argued Michael L. Igoe, minority leader. "The situation cannot be solved with makeshift bills—the only way is through a revenue amendment to permit classifications of intangible property so that each kind will carry the burden it should."

"Until some effort is made to cut costs of government, it would be a hardship to the taxpayers to pass this bill," said Howard L. Doyle [Dem., Decatur], one of the twenty voting with Cook county members.

EIGHT HOUR LAW FOR WOMEN IS ADVANCED TO PASSING POSITION

Springfield, Ill., June 3.—[Special.]—The women's eight hour law was advanced to third reading in the house today after attempts to amend it failed. It is being engineered by Minority Leader Igoe.

At the passage stage, the bill still exempts employés of mercantile establishments, restaurants, hospitals and hotels. A dozen amendments were offered which would include other classes of female employés but each was tabled on motion of Mr. Igoe and R. G. Soderstrom [Rep., Streator], president of the Illinois State Federation of Labor.

The amendment which drew most fire was offered by John M. Peffers [Rep., Aurora] and would permit women to work ten hours a day if they had a physician's certificate showing them to be physically fit.

"That is not a doctor's province," objected Igoe. "Laws are passed by the legislature. I can't believe this amendment is sincere and move it be tabled." This motion prevailed.

A full two hours was consumed in the debate over the amendments which terminated when F. W. Lewis [Dem., Robinson] moved to strike the enacting clause, which would kill the bill. This failed to pass by a vote of 36-81.

TREASURER SHIES AT CHARGE HE HOLDS UP FUNDS

County Treasurer McDonough denied in Springfield last night that he has $41,000,000 in his possession that could be distributed immediately to the local taxing bodies for use in retiring tax anticipation warrants. Complaints had been made that he was delaying the turn over of collected revenue.

"I deny most emphatically that I have detained the distribution of $41,000,000," the county treasurer said, "or that I have deferred turning over $1 longer than necessary. I have actually turned it over faster than my predecessors.

"There is about $80,000,000 in the county treasury, and this will be distributed as quickly as possible after it has been audited and prorated among the taxing bodies.

"I am going to issue a call today to all the taxing bodies for a conference in my office. The money will be turned over to them as rapidly as we can turn it over, but we cannot go beyond the limits of our office machinery in expediting it."

CAFE MAN SLAIN, PARTNER IS SHOT OVER CARD GAME

Player Charges Cheating and Opens Fire.

Herman Marcus, 58 years old, owner of the Rumanian Tea garden on the second floor at 3303 Roosevelt road, was shot and killed last evening by an unknown assailant who also shot and critically wounded Max Margolis, 46 years old, 4916 North Albany avenue, who police said was a card shark and the operator of a gambling concession in Marcus' restaurant.

According to the story told by witnesses who were taken to the Fillmore street police station several patrons of the place were gambling at a card game when the killer, it was said, discovered that Margolis was cheating by moving a toothpick about in his mouth to indicate the character of his cards to his partner.

The killer, known only as a newcomer from New York, left immediately, but returned with a gun and demanded the return of his money. When Marcus refused he opened fire and when the proprietor fell turned his gun upon Margolis, who had tried to disarm him. Then he fled. Margolis was taken to the Mount Sinai hospital, where his wounds were reported serious.

James Cermak, 50 years old, bartender in the Little Bohemia café, 1722 Loomis street, died yesterday in St. Anthony's hospital of wounds received Monday morning when two armed men entered the café and shot the bartender when he refused to give the combination of the safe.

Flames and Smoke Rout Tenants on Gold Coast

Fire that had smoldered in a chimney for several days early this morning burst out into the Czecho-Slovak Art studio at 121 East Oak street and routed Miss Ann Feriansik, the owner, and Miss Emily Kuzma from their apartment at the rear. The smoke aroused tenants on the three floors above the studio. Among the tenants is Edward A. Dato of the real estate concern of Krenn & Dato, Inc. The damage was estimated at $100. The building is owned by Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick and is across the street from Mrs. McCormick's home at 1000 Lake Shore drive.

Woman Holds Up Woman in Flat and Gets $1,100

A woman bandit, posing as a prospective buyer, held up Mrs. Pearl Solomon in her apartment at 4763 North Keystone avenue yesterday, menaced her with a revolver, and stole $200 in cash and $900 in jewelry. After the holdup the robber escaped in an automobile driven by a male confederate.

Britton and Howland Suspended by Alcock

Acting Police Commissioner John H. Alcock yesterday suspended Sergt. Wellington Britton of the detective bureau and his colored partner, Sergt. Witnesses testified that they hijacked eighteen ounces of morphine from two colored dope peddlers.

STORY TOUCHES COP'S HEART AND HIS BOY'S BANK

About a year ago, Motorcycle Policeman Anthony Snyder of the Lincoln Park force, his heart touched by a hard luck story, took Harry Sperling into his home at 2632 Orchard street. He also found Sperling a job in Norman McPhee's undertaking establishment on the north side. Sperling had been a chum of the policeman's brother, Hank.

One morning McPhee found his safe had been robbed of $300. He suspected Sperling, but Sperling stoutly maintained his innocence. Policeman Snyder also doubted the undertaker's suspicions. That night Policeman Snyder noticed a bulge under the seat of his automobile. He investigated and found $300. He turned the money over to McPhee and Sperling went to jail.

On his discharge Snyder decided to give Sperling another chance and took him into his home again. About six weeks ago Sperling disappeared. So did a toy bank, containing about $12, belonging to Snyder's son.

That was about six weeks ago. Last night Policeman Snyder was riding in Diversey parkway. At Halsted street his motorcycle broke down. A small crowd gathered. Policeman Snyder looked up. He spotted Sperling.

Fifteen minutes later Sperling was locked up in the Sheffield avenue station. He will be charged with larceny. Police went to his room at 2701 North Halsted street. They found the empty toy bank.

VOTE NEARS ON GOV. HORTON AMID OCEAN OF WORDS

Impeachment Is Beaten, Executive Claims.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Nashville, Tenn., June 3.—[Special.]—The impeachment of Gov. Henry H Horton was in the balance tonight as members of the house of representatives rested after a day of debate.

It is a question whether the scales were swayed a hair's breadth by the long arguments and the charges flung across the floor of the house, for underneath all the oratory and all the fright and wrong of this situation there are forces which have lined up a solid block of votes to stand by the governor. The administration is claiming a sure 54 votes, three more than necessary to defeat impeachment.

The opposition to the governor does not admit defeat, but they are rather gloomy. The explanation is said to lie partly in a deal made with the Republicans in which eleven are said to have been swung to the administration in exchange for promises of new roads under a new thirty million dollar bond issue which is in the making.

And Other Inducements.

School textbook deals, contracts for road material, jobs for relatives and other more personal inducements are given as the explanation of this remarkable whittling away of the Horton opposition during the last few weeks.

The impeachment of Warren Hastings, the French revolution, and inevitably, the crucifixtion of Christ, were drawn into today's flood of oratory as these southern legislators were focused at last upon the bone of four months of contention. It was, historians will agree, a red letter day in the 70 years of state history, this day in which Gov. Horton, ex-country lawyer from the Cumberland plains, Baptist deacon and Sunday school teacher, was accused and defended by silver tongued speakers.

It was Representative W. Y. Boswell of Morgan county, originally an anti-Horton man, who drew the greatest applause from the administration supporters. Speaker Walter Haynes threatened several times to clear the galleries as they demonstrated their approval of the Boswell defense plea.

Loud and Eloquent.

"We stand today in the shadow of a great wrong," said the big voiced lawyer from Morgan county, who paced back and forth in front of the house like a man talking to a jury. "This is a solemn hour in Tennessee's history. There is a conspiracy in Tennessee the like of which has never been seen in the history of American government. It is an attempt to overthrow the state government, to seize the reins, by a few politically ambitious men.

"The article of impeachment is the first of this conspiracy. There have been two powerful political factions in the state for years. The government of the great Austin Peay and its opposition, and they hounded him to a prematuer death. They renewed the battle against the present governor, down to this hour. The people repudiated them at the ballot box and now they seek power by impeachment.

Turns to "Billy Goats."

"Every one knows that there will be no conviction across the hall, for the opponents of the governor have bitten the dust three times now, by increasing majorities against them. They have sacrificed their brilliant speaker to bolster up a losing cause. Why spend $300,000 more. After four months of work not a single act of wrong doing has been laid at the door of the governor. The billy goats over in the senate have done been voted down."

He spoke of prejudice in this case.

"That prejudice," he said, "which crucified the messenger of God, seeks to lay its slimy fingers on our governor and destroy him. Men from middle and western Tennessee, I appeal to you. Men whose fathers fought under Jackson in the bloody hickory grounds and at New Orleans, strike this monster of prejudice and kill it. You from the mountains, with the iron and power of the granite hills in your souls, descendants of the men who fought at Kings Mountain and sent the power of England reeling back across the seas, I appeal to you to slay this damnable prejudice. Kill the damn thing dead."

In a reply to Boswell, Representative C. J. Mooney of Memphis, son of the late editor of the Commercial Appeal, called upon the legislators to summon up their moral courage, spurn the lobbyists and the threats of the governor's friends, and vote for the impeachment. He was applauded warmly.

Mr. Mooney said that the opposition to congressman Ed Crump's activities was a smoke screen to hide other motives and he called attention to reports which have been printed that Mr. Boswell was trying to sell a farm to the state for $60,000. The Horton defender made no reply to this charge.

"I am as proud of my state as any one," said Mr. Mooney, "but we cannot deny that Gov. Horton has put a stain upon it. The question is whether we are going to wipe it off or whitewash it.

"You have seen these lobbyists here, these prison guards, game wardens, cement men, bankers, all who hope to fatten by this administration staying in office.

Resist Intimidation, He Urges.

"It has been hard to stand fast. We know that Caldwell's bank examiner has put into motion actions against personal mortgages, seeking to intimidate men. This is hard to bear, but it was hard for men to offer their lives in France.

"No man on this floor can maintain that Caldwell and Lea could have got five cents of state money had it not been for Horton. There is no escape from that. He was responsible, and he must be tried."

Chairman John Tipton of Covington, in moving for pa[illegible] of the first article of impeachment, said:

"We are facing today the greatest question that ever confronted this house. We are passing on the fitness of an executive. Never before have impeachment articles been presented in this house. It is a situation we would all like to avoid, but we must meet it like men. Who made this situation? The chief executive and his co-conspirators, Rogers Caldwell and Luke Lea.

Recites Alleged Misdeeds.

"The conspiracy article shows the rotten political conditions that have existed in the state for the last four years. It goes into the inside workings of your state government, a government in which the people have lost confidence.

"The conspiracy can only be shown by circumstances. Caldwell had the money, Lea the press and Horton the command of the state government. He gave Caldwell and Lea practical control of the highway, banking, insurance and finance departments. If they found a man not pliant to their will his political head was chopped off. They needed money because of the depression and the state issued bonds in excess of amounts actually needed, and deposited two-thirds of it in banks controlled by Caldwell and Lea. The Bank of Tennessee was a private clearing house for Caldwell & Co. In excess of seven millions is now tied up or lost in this way.

Neglected Legal Safeguards.

"The governor failed to observe the statute requiring bonds of his various commissioners, and he failed to comply with the reorganization measure in making department estimates.

"You can talk forever on the corruption that has been going on in this state. Every member knows these facts are indisputable. This is a fight for honesty in high places. The lines are drawn. There has been the most gigantic lobby in the history of the state to influence this house. The people of Tennessee expect every man to do his duty and vote for the articles of impeachment."

Meanwhile, over in Criminal court, Rogers Caldwell lost his fight for a postponement of his trial for fraudulent breach of trust, growing out of the bank failures. Judge Chester K. Hart denied Caldwell's motion for a delay and ordered the case to trial next Monday.

BEDFORD LEAVES HIS FAMOUS GARDENS AND LODGES TO THE PUBLIC

Westport, Conn., June 3.—(AP)—The renowned gardens and lodges of the late E. T. Bedford, Greens Farms millionaire and philanthropist, will be maintained for the use of the public under the terms of his will filed today.

Bedford died May 21 at the age of 82. He was president of the Corn Products Refining company and was formerly an associate of John D. Rockefeller Sr. in the Standard Oil company.

The will disposes of an estate estimated at between $5,000,000 and $7,000,000, although his gifts to charity and to philanthropic foundations in the last few years are estimated at about $15,000,000. The bulk is left in trust for his children and other members of the family and their heirs.

HOLD ENGINEER NEEDN'T WATCH TRACK WORKERS

Albany, N. Y., June 3.—[Special.]—The Court of Appeals has ruled that the driver of a locomotive over the railroad tracks leading to the Grand Central station in New York City has the "primary duty to operate his train and keep alert for signals," rather than be on the lookout for workmen along the tracks, where a watchman is employed to warn workmen of approaching trains.

The ruling was in the action of Rosina Fierro, as administratrix of Savino Fierro, who sued the New York Central and New York, New Haven and Hartford railroads in the death of Fierro. He was killed by a [illegible] of the latter railroad.

Witnesses testified that there [illegible] nothing to prevent Fierro from observing the approach of the train as that others heeded the warning of watchman when he blew his whistle.

AUDIT FINDS WAY TO SAVE SCHOOLS 2 MILLION A YEAR

Would Cut Out Fund for Automatic Pay Boosts.

The operating expenses of the board of education, totaling over $60,000,000 a year, can be reduced by more than $2,000,000 annually without impairing the efficiency of the public schools system, according to the findings of auditors who have been studying the board's books for the last two weeks.

The auditors were hired at the suggestion of a state senate subcommittee on education to investigate charges of extravagance on the part of board members who were appointed under the old administration.

It was reported yesterday that the senate subcommittee probably would not hold its next hearing until Saturday, although the survey and audit of the school finances are now complete. The hearing has been delayed because of injuries incurred by Senator A. S. Cuthbertson, chairman of the committee, in a recent automobile accident.

Would Cut Out Pay Boosts.

The auditors' report will not be made public until the senate committee meets, but it was learned last night that the largest single item recommended for deletion is an annual school appropriation of approximately $1,800,000 for automatic increases in salaries and promotions.

The auditors have gone thoroughly into all departments during their investigation, it was learned. Ernest Withall, business manager for the school board, admitted he had been questioned concerning the annual expenditure of $30,340 for chauffeurs and the maintenance of expensive automobiles for the trustees.

"The auditors just wanted some general information," said Withall. "I don't think there will be any change there. I don't care if there is. I drive my own car."

Lewis E. Myers, president of the school board, said recently that the investigation would not be a whitewash. "I am sure these men will find nothing and that their findings will be considered very seriously by the board," he stated.

Asks $50,000,000 Bond Issue.

At a meeting of the school board finance committee yesterday, Trustee Joseph P. Savage suggested the floating of a $50,000,000 bond issue to finance a building program sufficiently comprehensive to provide seats for the 62,000 children now being crowded into portables and receiving only part time instruction.

Savage pointed out that the bonds could be retired with appropriations for the building fund over a period of about 10 years. Robert F. Carr, newly appointed Democratic trustee, objected to immediate adoption of a plan which, he said, "would only add to the complexity and difficulty of the situation."

The trustees also discussed the plan of paying the employés, to whom $5,175,000 is now due, with "participation certificates." This move was suggested by President Myers as an emergency measure.

According to the plan, a tax anticipation warrant to the total amount of the salaries due, would be deposited with a trust company and the certificates issued against it. The certificates would bear 6 per cent interest and would be redeemable when the warrant can be redeemed through tax collections.

WASHINGTON STATE'S MOUNT VERNON WANTS NAME EXCLUSIVELY

Mount Vernon, Ill., June 3.—[Special.]—Mount Vernon in the state of Washington seeks a monopoly of the name and the chamber of commerce of that city writes Mayor Hal Smith here that the western chamber is writing the mayors of nineteen other towns named Mount Vernon asking them to adopt some other name in order that the Washington town may have the exclusive use of it.

Other states listed containing a Mount Vernon are Illinois, Georgia, Arkansas, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Missouri, New Hampshire, Texas, Maine, Maryland, Michigan, Oregon, South Dakota, Tennessee, New York, North Carolina, Virginia, and Wisconsin.

"BLACK HAND" NOTES DEMAND $50,000 OF FOUR

Pekin, Ill., June 3.—(AP)—The receipt of "Black Hand" notes demanding a total of $50,000 was reported to Sheriff James Crosby today by four farmers in Spring Lake township, Tazewell county.

Each of the missives was left in the mailbox, and each read:

"You are one of four to raise $50,000, unless this is done, beware of this mark." Below were hand prints in ink. "In three or four days," said a postscript, "we will return and expect to get some information from you."

Ernest Shoop, one of the recipients, said three men and a woman were seen driving up to his mailbox. They covered their faces when noticed by a friend.

North Western Railway Cuts Room Fares 20 Pct.

A 20 per cent reduction in the railway fare for passengers occupying individual rooms on the room cars of the Corn King Limited and the North Western Limited of the Chicago and North Western railway will become effective tomorrow, the railroad announced yesterday. The reduced rates which will require only one full fare ticket for a room instead of a fare and a quarter, will be in operation between Chicago and Omaha and Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul, bringing savings of $4.48 on the Omaha trip and $3.56 on the journey to the Twin Cities.

CLUB TO PROTEST TO WASHINGTON ABOUT RAID AT SOUTH BEND

South Bend, Ind., June 3.—(AP)—Members of a South Bend civic club voted today to protest to federal authorities against the conduct of prohibition agents during a raid here last week. Club members said they would send resolutions to Amos W. W. Woodcock, prohibition enforcement director, in Washington.

They took up the issue, they said, on reports of witnesses that the agents were intoxicated and that they created undue disturbance. Aloysius Przybysz declared he believed the disturbance hastened the death of his brother, Anselm, bedfast two doors from the scene of the raid, and declared he would take the case to the courts.

Przybysz said when the agents came onto his property he ordered them off upon finding they had no search warrant. They refused, and a fight ensued. A crowd gathered and additional federal and police forces were called to quell a near riot. Five men were arrested, charged with obstructing the agents, but Przybysz was not among them. Anselm Przybysz died three days later.

ENDS HIS LIFE WITH GAS.

An unidentified man killed himself by taking gas yesterday in his room at 4000 Clarendon avenue. He had removed all identification marks from his clothing. Mrs. Charles Mullen, landlady, said he had given the name of Richard Oman, believed to be fictitious.

PHONE PRESIDENT REFUSES TO PAY ON CITY DEMAND

Not Legal, Hale Tells Council Group.

F. O. Hale, president of the Illinois Bell Telephone company, yesterday refused the demand that the company pay the $4,267,000 which the city claims under the terms of the telephone franchise which expired in January, 1929.

ALD. HODES.

No new franchise having been agreed upon, the officials of the company have no legal warrant to pay money to the city, Mr. Hale told a subcommittee and a group of other officials who made formal demand for the money.

Ald. Barnet Hodes [7th], chairman of the sub-committee, presented Mr. Hale with a formal statement, in which he outlined the financial plight of the city.

"I believe," Hodes said, "that your company is now in a position to show the taxpayers your appreciation of the fair treatment and generous patronage accorded you in the past, not only by paying the obligation which it is apparent you are technically attempting to evade, although morally obligated to pay, but in addition immediately purchasing from the city a substantial amount of tax anticipation warrants to help Chicago in its present emergency."

"There is no desire on the part of the company," said President Hale, to avoid any payment which is legally due or which it may lawfully make, nor is there any thought of taking advantage of the financial condition of the city government to influence the terms of the proposed ordinance.

"Neither the officers nor the directors of the company can legally assume responsibility for paying money under an ordinance which has long since expired, or anticipating the terms of a new ordinance not yet passed.

"Until there is a legal agreement determining the amount which it should pay, the company is without power or authority to make any payment."

Members of the delegation which represented the city were Ald. Hodes, Ald. O. E. Northrup, and Ald. A. E. Loescher, City Controller Szymesak and Assistant Corporation Counsel Martin Foss.

The first franchise ordinance passed after the old franchise expired was vetoed. The present negotiations have been delayed by demands that the telephone company give a definite pledge to assume the cost of relocating any of its lines which must be moved in construction of the subway.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE'S PROPAGANDA TACTICS ATTACKED IN SENATE

Springfield, Ill., June 3.—[Special.]—Promises that the Illinois Farmers' institute will lay off further efforts to serve as a "propaganda mill" on controversial issues, such as prohibition, and the picturing of women in cigaret advertising, followed another onslaught in senate committee by Senator Earl B. Searcy [Rep., Springfield].

Searcy moved to strike out the appropriation for the speakers' bureau, saying it had degenerated into a booking agency for "ossified theorists" operated by state taxpayers' money.

He charged it had departed from its mission of dealing with agricultural problems. Senator Harry Wilson of Pinckneyville, president of the institute, avowed the institute would quit trying to run the universe and the controversy closed.

Gentlemen:-

It was with a great deal of pleasure that I read of your increase of 51.58% during May, over May a year ago.

I wish other merchants would follow your lead. I wish they would merchandise as you do, give as big values and as low prices. It would mean re-orders,- more men at work everywhere.

It would mean that others could build as you built your 9-story addition to be followed up by an addition again this Summer. It would mean steady employment for workers, even over-time work such as employees are getting in your store, and it would keep wages at the high American standard.

American wage-earners want work--if others followed your lead, they would get it.

Sincerely yours,
John Fitzpatrick

THE DOLLAR YOU OWN

One of the happiest phases of the present situation is that money has more purchasing ability today than it has had in years.

An idle dollar is of little worth. It is only when it is put to work that it has real power.

America has made it a habit to think of good investments as a matter of stocks and bonds. But the time has now come when investment in useful and beautiful commodities is surely one of the wisest and safest of personal undertakings.

Earnings everywhere in America are still relatively high, while prices are remarkably low.

The dollar you own today is not only bigger than yesterday's dollar, but the quality of merchandise it may command for you is almost without parallel in American securities.

It is a day of opportunity.

Not many men or women in this price-conscious organization of ours can recall a time when a dollar in action could achieve so much in this store as it can right now. In all departments it is not "sale merchandise at bargain prices," but full Field quality at the new and lower price ranges, that now invites thoughtful consideration.

MYSTERY TO VEIL CHICAGO'S OWN SCOTLAND YARD

But Alcock Gives a Peep at Its Workings.

More secret than the Secret Six—that's Chicago's new Scotland Yard branch of the police department, as described yesterday by Acting Police Commissioner Alcock. Not only will the new bureau members keep up a relentless hunt for evidence on which to convict criminals but it will act as an intelligence service for the commissioner, it was learned.

"How many men will be assigned to the Scotland Yard detail?" Alcock was asked.

"Ah," said he, "Scotland Yard never tells."

"How will it operate?" asked an interviewer. "Will Scotland Yard's jurisdiction supersede that of the detective bureau or the district police at the scene of a crime, a murder, for instance?"

Never Forget a Crime.

"The proper steps will be taken," was the indirect reply. "Scientific methods of crime detection will be used to the utmost. No crime will be forgotten."

Questions as to whether men assigned to our own Scotland Yard would include any who had studied or are about to study at Northwestern university's school of crime detection brought an answer that indicated the personnel of the bureau would be anonymous. Capt. William Shoemaker, "hard-boiled, honest, good hearted Shoes," will be in command and Assistant Corporation Counsel William Luthhart will be its legal adviser, but other names are not to be disclosed and crossing duty awaits him who talks about his job.

Police to Be Supervised.

That intelligence work was to be done by the bureau was disclosed by the acting commissioner when he said:

"The policeman who goes about soft drink parlors seeking to find out whether some one is getting a highball will soon find himself in trouble. He's not snooping around in the interest of police work. He should devote himself to crime suppression and the arresting of criminals."

The acting commissioner, who in ten days will have completed a year as head of the Chicago police, said he was well pleased with the progress made so far in the war on crime. The accomplishments of the department in the year make him proud, he said.

"Chicago is a wonderful city," he proclaimed. "And it's going to have wonderful police service."

No Scandals Like N. Y.

This brought about a discussion of the scandals in New York in which it was disclosed that policemen assigned to the vice squad framed innocent women and had them put in jail.

"Nothing like that can happen here," Alcock said. "We don't have one unit only responsible for vice conditions. We don't send policemen out to accost women, buy them drinks, take them to places, and then make raids. Chicago captains know their duties concerning vice and they don't undertake to be censors of public morals. We are interested in keeping down major crime and not in personal supervision of our citizens."

Figures supplied by the coroner on the number of policemen killed and bandits killed during the last six months gave an idea of Alcock's administration methods. The figures were as follows:

	Policemen killed.	Bandits killed.
December, 1930	0	3
January, 1931	1	4
February, 1931	1	6
March, 1931	0	3
April, 1931	1	3
May, 1931	4	2
Total	7	31

That's a fair average, but we want the ratio higher than 4½ to 1," Alcock commented. "A dead policeman is a great loss, while a dead bandit is a great gain."

The record of civilian encounters with bandits during the six months was shown as follows:

	Citizens killed.	Bandits killed.
December, 1930	7	2
January, 1931	2	4
February, 1931	6	5
March, 1931	4	1
April, 1931	2	3
May, 1931	6	1
Total	27	16

"Chicago passed through a critical winter in fine style," Alcock said, "and the police record of captures of killers is improving every month. With our Scotland Yard on the job we'll be in excellent shape."

GIVES UP AFTER 38 YEARS TO PAY 'DEBT TO MAKER'

Made Promise When Shipwrecked.

Lincoln, Neb., June 3.—[Special.]—Charles E. Johnson, 66 year old grandfather, who escaped from the Nebraska penitentiary in 1893, with seven months of a two year term for forgery yet to serve, surrendered to Warden Fenton at the prison this afternoon.

Johnson, who returned to his former home at Oakland, Neb., last week, after wandering for 38 years as a fugitive, said today that in returning to serve out his sentence he was keeping a promise made "to his Maker" three months ago while clinging to an uncharted rock off the storm lashed coast of Japan.

Makes Promise to God.

Shipwrecked, he said, he promised God that if his life were spared he would return to Nebraska to serve out the prison time he had evaded by dropping over a stone wall in the dead of night at the Nebraska penal house almost four decades before. He had been sentenced to prison for two years for forging his mother's name to a threshing machine note.

An hour after he jumped into the sea, Johnson said, a Japanese life saving crew rescued him. He was put on a boat and landed at Seattle. He made his way to Minneapolis, then to his Nebraska home at Oakland, where he revealed his identity. He left there on foot Sunday last and trudged most of the way until a traveling newspaper man picked him up in his automobile.

Reconciled to Prison Life.

Entirely reconciled to prison life, he told Warden Fenton, he entered the prison office and asked to be confined. His return was a contrast to the drab reception tendered most convicts, for even the veteran warden expressed the opinion that he "is not a bad old fellow at that."

To Warden Fenton he admitted the "going had been rough," that prison carried no pall for him, and that times were "hard for an old man." He was assigned to a place in the penitentiary vegetable room, and asked to be put to work at once, but was told to rest until tomorrow.

Johnson's wife died last March, after a long illness. He said he did not want to give the name of his children and grandchildren. "I don't want the children running to their mother with a newspaper telling her their grandfather was a jailbird."

SLAYER SUSPECT GETS 67,000 VOTES IN LOS ANGELES

Los Angeles, Cal., June 3.—[Special.]—David H. Clark, former deputy district attorney, awaiting trial on the charge of shooting to death Charles Crawford and Herbert Spencer, polled 67,000 votes in the city-wide run-off election for municipal judges yesterday. The magnitude of his vote astonished local political followers. Clark ran only 28,000 votes behind his rival, the incumbent, Charles B. MacCoy.

Clark today was in jail, trying to arrange for $100,000 bail.

SEVEN SEIZED IN CAPITAL RAIDS IN COURT TODAY

Link Killing to Robbers of Salvadore Legation.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 3.—[Special.]—The office of the United States district attorney here was preparing today for the arraignment tomorrow of the seven men arrested last week when the police department opened up its war to rid the capital of gamblers. All were picked up in raids conducted without search warrants.

The police in the meantime were checking up on the results of their raids yesterday on three gambling houses in the downtown district. One of the resorts occupied a three story building in the heart of the business section and was elaborately fitted up as a bookmaking headquarters. The place, the police believe, was a clearing house for smaller bookmakers throughout the district. Through a failure in raiding technique, the police allowed the managers of the place to escape through a trap door into an adjoining building and caught only one minor employé.

Continuing their investigation of the recent murder of Jack Cunningham, police informer, the police today announced that they had definitely connected Cunningham's slaying with the burglary of the Salvadorean legation in which Don Carlos Leiva, chargé d'affaires, was attacked and slugged. A pistol picked up by a Negro laborer, said the police, had been tested and was found to have fired both the bullet which killed Cunningham and several shots during the struggle with Dr. Leiva.

COL. HOUSE FOR ROOSEVELT AS 1932 CANDIDATE

New York, June 3.—(AP)—The Herald Tribune in a copyright story, says Col. Edward M. House has reëntered national politics as an active participant in the movement to obtain the Democratic presidential nomination for Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Col. House's exact status in the Roosevelt movement, says the newspaper, is cloaked with some of the same quiet mystery which surrounded his missions for the late President Wilson.

The Herald Tribune, however, says he acknowledged his activity when his attention was called to reports that his friends were receiving letters urging them to support Roosevelt.

From his summer home in Manchester, Mass., Col. House said:

"I am for Gov. Roosevelt personally and politically because he was a part of the Wilson administration and because, it seems to me, that the Republicans want any Democrat nominated that has been mentioned rather than Roosevelt."

GIRL, 15, SHOOTS KIDNAPER, THEN IS SLAIN BY HIM

Love Abduction Ends in Tragedy.

Winona, Minn., June 3.—[Special.] Evelyn Brown, 15, of Beaver Dam, Wis., kidnaped by a 33 year old adorer, Roy Ashley, was shot dead by Ashley at a roadside near here today after she had dangerously wounded the man with his own pistol in an attempt to escape. Tonight the wounded man was believed dying.

A farmer and his wife who witnessed the tragedy told police that the wounded man dragged the girl from his car and sent a bullet through her head as she pleaded for her life. She died instantly. Police tonight had pieced out this story of the tragedy:

Ashley, a roomer at the Brown home in Beaver Dam for a number of years, had recently been forced to leave by Mrs. Lillian Brown, the girl's mother, after she discovered the roomer's attentions to her 15 year old daughter.

He Invades Girl's Home.

Last night Ashley appeared at the Brown home at midnight. The mother heard him enter and when she attempted to turn on a light he threatened to shoot her.

Ashley waited until Evelyn returned from Fond du Lac, where she had gone with neighbors, and then forced her to go with him "for a little ride." He disconnected the telephone as he went out.

When Evelyn failed to return Mrs. Brown went at dawn to the Beaver Dam police, who issued a warrant for Ashley, charging kidnaping.

After driving all night Ashley and the girl pulled up at a filling station near Winona. Ashley got out of the car and started to fill the radiator with water, leaving the girl at the wheel and his revolver on the seat beside her. The minute Ashley was out of the car the girl shouted to filling station attendants, "He kidnaped me."

Flings Bottle at Her.

Ashley whirled and flung the water bottle at the girl's head. Her answer was four shots from the revolver which she had snatched from the seat. Ashley staggered but did not fall. Evelyn forced him back into the car at the point of the gun and started back toward Beaver Dam.

To get the gun away from the girl Ashley faked faintness and said he would let her go if she drove him to a hospital. During a moment when she thought him unconscious, he grabbed the gun away from her. They were a quarter of a mile away from the scene of the first shooting and near the Frank Schultz home, a short distance from Winona.

How the Girl Died.

Members of the Schultz family told authorities Ashley pushed the girl out into the road and shot her in spite of her frantic cries for mercy.

As the elder Schultz rushed up Ashley sank to the ground and muttered, "She shot me, then shot herself."

He was taken to a hospital at Wabasha, Minn., and an emergency operation was resorted to late today in an effort to save his life. At the hospital Ashley told police that he had killed the girl. He said she had agreed during the night to elope with him and he had allowed his revolver to get within her reach because he had no thought that she would attempt to get away.

Girl Drove the Car.

The police also learned that the girl had driven the car from Beaver Dam, as Ashley was unable to operate an automobile.

Should Ashley recover, authorities are prepared to issue a murder warrant for him, but his chances of recovery were deemed slight. One of the girl's bullets inflicted an apparently mortal wound in the abdomen.

Winona police began a search for a second man rumored to have been with Ashley, but members of the Schultz family told them only Ashley and the girl were in the car. And Ashley did not mention a second man.

The automobile used by Ashley in his abduction was a new one, purchased by the man from the proceeds of a soldier bonus loan. He had not learned to drive and while at the Brown home Evelyn drove him and her mother about, Beaver Dam police learned.

Evelyn had attended junior high school at Beaver Dam until a few weeks ago.

KILLS HIMSELF WITH GUN.

Sam Pyle, 51 years old, committed suicide yesterday by shooting himself in the head in the basement of a restaurant owned by his sister, Mrs. Laura Kenney, at 809 South Kedzie avenue. She and his wife, Anna, knew no reason for his act, they said.

FRANCE DICKERS WITH RUSSIA FOR BUSINESS TREATY

PARIS, June 3.—(AP)—Pressure from industrialists, who are said to be suffering as a result of recent trade treaties between Russia and Italy and Russia and Germany, is given in official circles as the basis for a French desire to negotiate a business pact with the soviet government.

The foreign office said today that a Russian delegation will arrive here in a few days, presumably empowered to negotiate such a trade agreement. It was revealed that this same soviet group visited the French capital shortly after Germany concluded her trade treaty with Moscow. After secret conversations the delegation returned to Russia, ostensibly with proposals for such an agreement.

Franco-Russian trade favors the latter country. In the first three months of this year France imported $4,440,000 worth of goods from Russia and exported only $630,000 worth. France buys principally oil and wood from the soviet union.

Find Skeleton of Missing Englishman in Canada

VICTORIA, B. C., June 3.—(AP)—Police were informed today that the skeleton of John Noel [Patch] Sennett, a young Englishman who began a walk from northern British Columbia to Vancouver last fall, had been found in Pine pass, about 150 miles along the trail from Pouce Coupe to Prince George.

Evanston Woman Surprises Thief Leaving Her Home

Jewelry valued at $625 and $38 in cash were stolen yesterday from the home of Dr. Edward T. Kennedy, 2305 Girard avenue, Evanston, by a thief who ransacked the home while Mrs. Kennedy was in her garden planting flowers. As Mrs. Kennedy reëntered her home she encountered the man. He apologized, saying he had "entered the wrong house," and rushed to a waiting car, in which he drove away.

FRANCE ADOPTS REDUCTION IN SIZE OF BATTLESHIPS

Tonnage Cut from 35,000 to 23,333.

PARIS, June 3.—(AP)—A movement to reduce the size of battleships from 35,000 tons, authorized by the Washington naval treaty, to a considerably lower tonnage, took on new force today during a committee meeting of the French chamber of deputies.

Construction of three 22,333 ton ships of the line instead of two ships of 35,000 tonnage during 1931, 36 was advocated by Charles Dumont, minister of marine. Only one of those would be built during 1931-'32.

The finance committee approved his proposal and also ratified the building program for 1931-32, which includes one 23,333 ton vessel, two secondary cruisers, one coastwise transport and a dispatch boat.

The entire naval question is scheduled for debate in the chamber of deputies next Tuesday.

MERCHANT YELLS; BANDITS FLEE.

Maurice Davis crouched behind the counter and yelled at the top of his voice when two bandits entered his jewelry store at 1212 North Clark street yesterday. The robbers fled without touching diamonds valued at $5,000 which were in the showcase.

Freshness is only one step in getting GOOD COFFEE

We've learned a lot about coffee in the last 72 years. And the most important thing is . . . that your best coffee is the coffee you like best . . . no matter what it costs or how it is packed.

Of course you want your coffee fresh. That's as important as having a coffee that exactly suits your taste. So A & P has made natural freshness of newly-roasted coffee—the out-of-the-oven freshness that cannot be imitated—a prime essential of A & P Coffee Service. And we are able, as no other coffee merchant is able, to guarantee this natural freshness. You see, we sell more coffee by far than any other organization. The coffee sells so fast that there's no time for any of it to become stale.

3 lbs. (Special) 55c — Money cannot buy better coffees than these. Their low prices are possible only because A & P handles so large a quantity of coffee—far more than any other organization in the world, and controls every step from the growers to you.

But that's only one point to consider. We've found what people like in coffee—in its flavor, body, aroma and strength. And we found years ago that no one blend can please everyone. So we developed, as you know, three different blends, Eight O'Clock,

Money cannot buy better coffees than these. Their low prices are possible only because A & P handles so large a quantity of coffee—far more than any other organization in the world, and controls every step from the growers to you. (Special) lb. 23c

Red Circle and Bokar. One of these three blends far outsells all other coffees in the world; another is the second largest seller. The third has already won fifth place in the few years it has been on the market.

Again, here's something else. Have you ever thought what perfect grinding means in making good coffee? Not ready-made, open-the-box grinding, but accurate, carefully adjusted grinding that guarantees your coffee in exactly the right condition to give you perfect results from your favorite method of coffee making. What a difference that makes! Understand, too, that we don't want simply to sell you coffee. We want you to enjoy it—to have perfect coffee in your cup. So we've studied the methods of coffee experts, and have gathered these methods together in the form of simple, accurate directions for making perfect coffee by any method. They're in our Coffee Booklet. You may have one any time.

Money cannot buy better coffees than these. Their low prices are possible only because A & P handles so large a quantity of coffee—far more than any other organization in the world, and controls every step from the growers to you. (Special) lb. 27c

When you add these points together, you get something you can find only in an A & P store . . . A & P Coffee Service.

Study coffee a little—and find a new pleasure and comfort in the grand old drink that has become America's best-loved beverage.

And again—remember that the coffee you like best is the best, no matter what it costs or how it is packed.

Coffee Satisfaction is assured by A & P Coffee Service:

155 WOMEN GET EVANSTON AUTO DRIVING DEGREES

Graduate from School with Good Marks.

Yesterday was commencement day for women drivers in the city of Evanston. Of the 241 women who took the course in the theory of driving an automobile under Prof. Frank Kreml, policeman director of the suburb's bureau of accident prevention, 155 received diplomas.

Miss Cynthia Clark, 700 Forest avenue, Evanston, possessed of B. A. and M. A. degrees from Northwestern university, was the drivers' class valedictorian with the grade of 100. Two others received the same grade, but Miss Clark was judged leader of the class because her paper displayed greater knowledge of the automobile and its working.

More than 800 Attend.

More than 800 women attended part of the classes in the theoretical course, but only 241 attended four classes, the prerequisite for admittance to examination. The examination was held May 27. The judges were David E. Walker, assistant superintendent of school district 75; Police Magistrate Harry H. Porter, and Earl J. Reeder of the Evanston Safety council.

Passing grade was set at 80. The class average was 81.25. The judges returned the papers with errors corrected. No corrections were made for errors of spelling, punctuation and correction, although many needed such revision, the judges said. Several of the students gave answers which the judges considered highly instructive.

Some Queer Answers.

To the question, "What parts of a car should be lubricated?" several women included in their answer the brake, the lights, and the wheel base. To another question demanding to know the major parts of the ignition system answers included the muffler, cigaret lighters, and horn.

MOTORISTS TOLD OF TAXATION AND ACCIDENT CRISIS

Warned to Protect Their Interests.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

West Baden, Ind., June 3.—[Special.]—Motor transportation, both commercial and recreational, is facing a crisis. Its future depends upon the solution of three major problems: The protection of operators against undue taxes; the expansion and beautification of pavement facilities, and the abatement of the growing toll of lives taken by accidents.

THOMAS P. HENRY.

This was the annual message from Thomas P. Henry of Detroit, president of the American Automobile association, delivered here today before the association's national conference.

Load Taxes on Motorists.

"The motor tax structure," he said, "has become complicated, burdensome and topheavy. The railroads are campaigning to cripple motor transport through heavier taxes and restrictions. Real estate operators are trying to shift more of the expenses of government onto automobile owners. And there is talk at Washington favoring a federal gasoline tax. Any increase in the tax burden of car ownership will curtail ownership and deprive society of the educational, recreational and economic benefits of motor transportation.

"The need for express highways, especially in centers of population, has become so urgent that it seriously reduces the benefits of car ownership.

"Since much of our automobile travel is for recreation—a most wholesome recreation, particularly for the city worker and his family—the billboards are a blight. These pleasure drivers are paying with license fees and gasoline tax for a pleasant outing on the highways. The billboards, which contribute nothing toward the pavements, are detracting from this pleasure.

Accident Toll Increasing.

"The toll of accidents, steadily increasing, is perhaps our most serious problem. In the last year the increase in motor vehicle registration was less than one per cent, but automobile accidents increased 12 per cent, fatalities increased 4 per cent, and injuries increased 13 per cent.

Col. Sidney D. Waldon of Detroit, chairman of the motor vehicle taxation committee, in an annual report pointed out that not only are the urban extensions and connections the weakest and most dangerous links in the nation's highway system but also the traffic of cities pays a tax far out of proportion to the attention it receives from the administrators of highway funds.

At the close of today's session Mr. Henry was reelected to his ninth successive term as president of the association. Charles M. Hayes of Chicago was reelected first vice president. The convention will adjourn tomorrow.

Judge Frees 22 Accused of Speeding; Warns Cops

A police efficiency plan went awry yesterday in the Fillmore street court when Judge Freeman L. Fairbank freed twenty-two defendants charged with speeding when a single policeman appeared to prosecute them all. The arresting policemen must appear, he warned.

DOWNSTATE AND CHICAGO TILT IN SENATE DEBATE

Springfield, Ill., June 3.—[Special.]—A wordy altercation over "nullification" sprang up between Senators Harold G. Ward [Dem., Chicago] and William R. MacCauley [Rep., Olney] tonight. It occurred during a debate over a senate bill to require auto owners to show a statement that they have paid personal property tax on their cars before they can get their licenses.

"You downstaters are always trying to mace the cities," cried Ward. "Cook county pays 53 per cent of the taxes. You take the oath of office to obey the constitution, yet refuse reapportionment. You are hardened nullifiers."

"Blame everything on us country squires," said MacCauley. "Yet it was you Democrats from Cook county who ran out on us yesterday on congressional reapportionment."

"Anybody who knows anything," retorted Ward, "knows that reapportionment was got up by Republicans."

The bill was lost. The senate also killed the bill to tax all cemeteries.

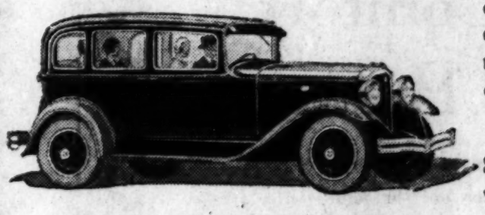
STUDEBAKER today and Standard tomorrow is not a mere advertising phrase, but a familiar phase of Studebaker experience . . . and Free Wheeling is a notable example.

Studebaker introduced Free Wheeling . . . Pierce-Arrow adopted it, Lincoln adopted it, less expensive cars adopted it, and others are preparing to adopt it!

And why shouldn't they? What car can conscientiously continue to deprive its public of principles of propulsion that enabled Free Wheeling Studebakers to defeat 38 cars of 19 makes and all prices in the American Automobile Association national championship for economy of gasoline and oil?

Free Wheeling literally turns upkeep upside down . . . save 15% to 20% in fuel and oil . . . "rests" your engine one mile in five and thereby saves repairs. Driving that is restful beyond belief results from minimum clutch-pushing and from the fact that you relax every time the engine relaxes.



STUDEBAKER SIX

Lowest priced car with Free Wheeling as standard equipment, engineered as an integral part of the chassis. 70 horsepower—114" wheelbase . . . $895

All prices at the factory. Bumpers and spare tires extra.

Studebaker brakes, generator—all chassis details—are engineered for the most efficient operation of Free Wheeling.

You can buy your Free Wheeling Studebaker now with the certainty there will be no Summer model changes. In your Studebaker with Free Wheeling you have a car that exemplifies the forward-looking spirit of an institution which for 79 years has been ahead of its time in discarding the old and discovering the new.

SHIP ROTARIAN MAY MAKE JOB FOR UNCLE SAM

Fear Partly Raised Hulk Will Block River.

The removal of the old boat Rotarian, which for months has been resting on the river bottom near the Clark street bridge, may become a problem for the federal government today. For almost four years the hulk has been one of the flies in the ointment of city hall politics, and since Oct. 11, 1930, it has been an eyesore and obstruction to navigation.

Last night the old ship, whose cabin with its polished dance floor and mahogany furnishings was once the quarters of the Cook County Democratic club, floated legily in the river, with four feet of muddy water beneath its keel. Three months of work and the expenditure of $10,000, after a year of talk, had done that much. But there is danger that today the hulk may be allowed to settle back in its old mud berth on the bottom.

Contractor Wants Money.

Sebastian Schwager, the present and sixth contractor to worry over the salvaging of the Rotarian, said last night that he would be forced to quit his job of floating the boat unless Miles J. Devine, the owner, advances him some money. At present the boat is suspended in a cradle of cables running to a barge which Schwager rented from the city.

"If I am forced to quit due to lack of cooperation from Devine," Schwager said, "I will take all of my equipment with me. The boat will probably slide out into the channel where it will block navigation and then it will be between the federal government and Devine. Perhaps he will be willing to help the government lift it. He has constantly refused to give me any aid. I have been unable to find Devine for three weeks."

Col. W. C. Weeks, resident United States engineer, said that if the boat obstructs navigation the government will see that it is moved.

"We would first try to get in touch with the owners in that case," Col. Weeks said. "If unable to do that we would telegraph the chief of army engineers for permission and funds and would move it ourselves. If it did not obstruct navigation we would leave it up to the city. The Wacker drive quay is in the city's jurisdiction."

Former Political Headquarters.

When first towed into the river four years ago the Rotarian was headquarters for a city hall political club. No permit was ever obtained from the city for the Rotarian's river berth.

After it sank early in the morning while the quay was deserted a year ago last October rumors of scuttling, opening of sea cocks, sabotage, and political skullduggery flew about the city hall. An explanation of the sinking may be found when the hulk is afloat.

Yesterday a diver explored the outside of the hull. No large holes could be found. The diver stuffed the cracks. Two large pumps, throwing a 10 inch stream, worked constantly. But the boat did not rise an inch. There is no money for more powerful winches.

"There are no large openings in the hull," Mr. Schwager said, "but we can't tell from the outside whether the seacocks are opened or not. To close them we would have to enter the hull. To do that, it is necessary to rip through the dance floor. Mr. Devine refused to permit this."

Greensburg, Pa., June 3.—(AP)—Three children set a barn afire and burned to death in it near New Alexandria today. The dead are Clay Rubble, 7; Eva Rubble, 5, and George Rubble, 4, children of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rubble, farmers.

Enjoins a Chicago Husband from Getting Reno Divorce

Superior Judge Rudolph F. Desort yesterday gave the Reno divorce mill an Illinois legal jolt. In issuing an injunction to restrain a Chicago husband, the father of six children, from proceeding to get a Reno divorce, the judge served notice that a Nevada decree, granted a citizen of Illinois, may be held invalid here.

Judge Desort's ruling is regarded by lawyers generally as an effort in this state to support the movement of the American Bar association for uniform divorce laws. The decision is considered of vital importance to many Chicago and Illinois citizens who have obtained or are obtaining Nevada decrees. Under the judge's ruling these decrees may be subjected to attack.

Parties to the Injunction.

The injunction was granted to Mrs Edith Sylvan, 4426 North St. Louis avenue, and is directed against her husband, Joseph L. Sylvan, head of the Sylvan Auto Radio company, 2612 South Michigan avenue. The Sylvans have been married 21 years and have six children, all minors. The injunction was asked in Mrs. Sylvan's suit for separate maintenance, drawn by the law firm of Socrates & Davis.

Attorney Benjamin B. Davis presented to the court a letter addressed to Mrs. Sylvan by her husband's Reno attorney, serving notice of Sylvan's intent to file action at Reno under the recent law allowing the establishment of residence in six weeks. The Reno attorney's letter read in part: "In my opinion, happiness is an obligation which each person owes to himself, and anything which interferes with that happiness should be exterminated from their lives."

Attacks Nevada "Business."

Attorney Davis characterized the Nevada laws as a bid for an annual divorce business of $3,000,000. The six weeks residence law was adopted, he said, after the state of Idaho, with its glaciers, and the state of Arkansas, with its hot springs, made their divorce residence prerequisites the equal of Nevada's former ninety day law. He argued that the state of Illinois should govern its citizens seeking divorce.

Attorney Nicholas Socrates assailed the Reno laws.

"The state of Nevada has legalized gambling to induce bored divorce seekers," he said. "It is reported to have shut its legal eyes to the liquor traffic, to further enrich its citizens and shorten the six week period of waiting. If another state meets this latest bid, who can say Nevada will not reduce its requirement to two weeks and open a dozen more gambling houses?"

View of Judge Desort.

"If the grounds in Nevada were the same as those of Illinois," Judge Desort said, "the defendant, according to the complaint, could not secure a decree of divorce. He has left the jurisdiction of his state for the sole object of evading its laws and depriving his wife and children of the opportunity of protecting their interests, which they could do were action brought here.

"This court has no quarrel with the courts of Nevada, though the press of the nation has commented unfavorably on the divorce laxity of the latter state. This court is, however, interested in affording its citizens the rights granted them as citizens of Illinois and particularly those governing the marital state. On the basis of the mass of precedent created by the Supreme court of Illinois, which I am bound to follow, I grant the injunction."

Couple Married in 1910.

The petition for the injunction declared the Sylvans were married on Aug. 15, 1910, and separated on July 2, 1930. Their children were named as George, 19 years old; Gladys, 17; Helen, 16; Marshall, 11; Eleanor, 7, and Shirley, 6.

In the bill Mrs. Sylvan asserted that her husband receives an annual income of $50,000 and that he has given her only $35 a week for the support of herself and the children. The Reno attorney, she alleged, has declared that her husband will continue payment of this amount after getting a Nevada divorce.

The bill declared that Sylvan intends to get a Reno decree on trivial grounds and return to Illinois to resume citizenship in Chicago. It asked that the state of Illinois protect Mrs. Sylvan's right of dower, jointure, homestead, support and maintenance. It also asked an injunction to prevent Sylvan from disposing of his assets here and to enable Mrs. Sylvan to derive support from her husband's company.

AUTO IS FOUND BURIED ON FARM; SEARCH FOR BODY

Beloit, Wis., June 3.—[Special.]—Completely buried in the ground, an automobile was found late today on a former "moonshine farm" in the western part of Rock county, 18 miles from here. A discharged cartridge was found inside the car, adding to the mystery of its burial.

The machine is a 1926 Chrysler model, and the 1929 Illinois license plate, No. 948-641, showed it was issued to L. R. Wilson, of 1058 Loyola avenue, Chicago.

A Chicago telephone book listed Lester B. Wilson at that address, but efforts to reach him failed because his telephone is temporarily disconnected.

The farm on which the car was found now is leased by Herman Stephan. Until eighteen months ago it was used by bootleggers.

A squad of workmen will dig around the barnyard tomorrow in search of a body or other evidence which might explain the mystery of the buried automobile.

KING OF ENGLAND GIVES HUNDREDS IN INDIA TITLES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SIMLA, India, June 3.—Several hundred Indians in this country tonight feel themselves to be the proud and loyal subjects of their king-emperor, while Mahatma Gandhi, standing in his Bardoli stronghold, works at his spinning wheel and racks his brain for a sure but short cut to independence for India.

About twenty Indians became knights in the birthday honor list of King George. Many more became companions of the British empire or companions of the Indian empire. Hundreds of loyal Hindus and Mohammedans received purely Indian titles.

IL DUCE PUSHES "WAR" ON POPE; JAILS CLUB HEADS

Orders Fascist Groups to Wipe Out Foes.

the slightest incident," the pontiff declared:

"That expression is worth a treasure. It is enough to think of all the incidents, the irreverences, indecencies and vandalism in Rome and in smaller cities; in the edifices which enjoy extraterritoriality. It is enough to consider the offenses to the person of the supreme pontiff.

Calls Procedure Illegal.

"This procedure of dissolution was not taken by legal means because the Catholic Action society is under the protection of the concordat, which has become the law of the state and is supported by the bilateral pact. This was taken under orders from the police."

It was "ridiculous," the pope said, that any one should accuse organizations of Catholic young women of engaging in politics and equally ridiculous to lay the same charges against organization of Catholic young men which in the last few years have given 5,400 priests to the church.

"There is, however, this consolation," he said. "If the devil has not been tranquil, but has shown himself discontented, it is a certain sign that we are doing some good."

The Fascist directorate also decided today that a mass meeting of Fascists will be held next month and a big "first decessional exposition of the Fascist revolution" will be held in Rome, opening on Oct. 27, the anniversary of the eve of the Fascist "march on Rome." It will continue until March 23 of next year, the anniversary of the founding of Fascism.

Invite Pope to Move to Poland.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WARSAW, June 3.—A special committee, representing Polish Catholic organizations, today requested the government to transmit an invitation to the Vatican to transfer the papal residence to Vaval castle, in Cracow.

The committee pointed out that a precedent was set for such a removal in 1309, when Pope Clement V. moved to Avignon, France, during the "Babylonian captivity." It emphasized the difficulties Pope Pius XI. has been having with the Fascists government in Italy since the signing of the Lateran pact, and stated that Poland, being a Catholic country, is best suited for a temporary papal residence.

This sensational proposition is supported by millions of Polish Catholics.

Four Killed, 6 Injured in Train Collision in Poland

GARWOLIN, Poland, June 3.—(AP)—Four persons were killed and six seriously injured today when a munitions train collided with a switch engine near here. The munitions did not explode.

ITALY BARS NEWS FOR U. S. WHICH IT DOESN'T LIKE

Cables Are "Mislaid" for Day or Two.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, Italy, June 3.—Once, in a moment of daring, a weekly publication here likened the atmosphere of the Fascist press to that of the inside of a Prussian barracks. The function of the press is to serve the Fascist régime, but, unfortunately, when that function is laid down by law, the service becomes the same unanimous chorus of approval of everything as is the chamber of deputies.

Discipline of Press Severe.

The control and discipline is now severe. Editors of the papers throughout Italy are appointed by the Fascist party.

From official quarters come instructions to the papers on what news to emphasize, what to minimize and what to neglect altogether. During a recent earthquake here, for instance, instructions were issued from government sources that papers were not to devote more than three columns to the event, including pictures, and there were to be only strict accounts of the facts as given out by the police and prefects—no graphic descriptions, for the government did not want an impression of disaster to get out of the country to the harm of the tourist trade.

The papers as a result of this are gray and dull and in order to inject animation into them frequently polemics are manufactured on harmless subjects.

Foreign Press Feels Ban.

The discipline of the native press can be done, of course, by direct regulation; with the foreign correspondents in Rome it has to be done more indirectly and by less palpable means. Still, it is done with considerable skill and cleverness.

Here it is admitted that a certain amount of prestige is lost if the censorship is openly admitted. So the censor has a secret room in the central post office and all press copy reaches him through a pneumatic tube. If the copy is unsatisfactory, he holds it up until it is of no use to the correspondent's paper.

5 HURT AS TRUCK STRIKES STREET CAR; 1 MAY DIE

Joseph Todd, 70 years old, 7351 Dante avenue, a railroad watchman, was possibly fatally injured and several other passengers in a street car were shaken up last night when a truck and trailer collided head-on with the car in front of 8320 South Chicago avenue. Todd was on the front platform of the street car. The police arrested Morris Smith, 6738 South Racine avenue, the truck driver, and Earl Leiter of Center Line, Mich., his helper. They believe Smith may have fallen asleep at the wheel.

Charles Donnelly, 28 years old, 5038 West Quincy street, died yesterday at the Keystone hospital of injuries received Sunday when he was struck by an automobile while crossing Lavergne avenue at Madison street. W. J. Mels, 1429 Jackson street, was ordered to appear at the inquest to be held today. This death increased the Cook county motor toll since Jan. 1 to 434.

BOMBS EXPLODE IN LISBON MART; KILL 2, INJURE 10

LISBON, Portugal, June 3.—(AP)—Two dynamite bombs, resembling brass bed knobs, exploded today in the Campo Santa Clara, known as "the thieves' market," throwing the bargain hunters into a stampede and killing two persons and injuring ten.

Simao Garcia picked up one of the bombs while sorting some rubbish. It exploded, killing him instantly, and injuring seven persons. José Antunes, a junk dealer, was killed and three others when he picked up the other.

PARK OFFICIALS TO LAUNCH WORK ON OUTER BRIDGE

Commissioners for the Lincoln and south parks districts and members of the Chicago plan commission will board the yacht Mizpah at the Michigan avenue link bridge on Saturday afternoon and proceed to the mouth of the river where ceremonies will be held to mark the formal beginning of the construction of the new $10,000,000 outer drive bridge.

A salute of guns from the U. S. S. Wilmette will be the signal for the scooping of the first shovel of dirt. The contract for the bridge over the river proper has been awarded to the Ketler-Elliot Construction company.

WILKINS' NORTH POLE SUBMARINE STARTS ON TEST

New London, Conn., June 3.—[Special.]—The submarine Nautilus, in which Sir Hubert Wilkins and his crew propose to nose their way under the ice to the north pole, left here today for Provincetown, Mass., for a final standardization test preliminary to starting for its base of operations at Spitzbergen, Norway. If the test pans out according to expectations, Sir Hubert expects to set out across the Atlantic within the next forty-eight hours.

The Nautilus has been fully fueled and provisioned here for the trip.

At Provincetown Sir Hubert will be greeted by Commander Donald B. McMillan, another famous polar explorer, who will give him final pointers for coping with the dangers ahead of him. Both the "skipper" and crew of the submarine were in high spirits on their departure from here today.

There is a possibility that the Nautilus may stop over at London on its way to the Norwegian base. Sir Hubert had not reached a definite decision on that point when he left here.

Goat Island Is Renamed Yerba Buena by U. S.

Washington, D. C., June 3.—(AP)—The old Spanish name, Yerba Buena, was restored today by the United States geographic board to the island in San Francisco bay now known as Goat island. Mrs. Nellie Vandergrift Sanchez, a sister-in-law of Robert Louis Stevenson, was one of those demanding the change.

EACH MAYOR TO GET OWN SPIGOT IN WINE CELLAR

REIMS, France, June 3.—Shortly after their arrival here this evening from Strasbourg, the touring mayors sat down to a dinner in Reims' 300 year old city hall, which was badly mutilated by German bombardment during the war.

All of the choicest products of champagne province, including famous wines, were placed on the tables for the executives. Tomorrow the visiting executives will inspect the city's famous Gothic cathedral.

A feature of tomorrow's dinner will be a lunch in a champagne cellar. Individual spigots will be provided, each mayor who desires to have one of them.

Don't Rasp Your Throat With Harsh Irritants

"Reach for a LUCKY instead"

What is the effect of irritation upon the throat? Here are the exact words of a noted authority retained by us to study this question. He writes:

"First, the vocal chords, on account of their delicacy of structure, would be the first tissues to give indication of irritation, evidenced by the huskiness of the smoker's voice, the result of relaxed tension and slower vibration of the vocal chords. The next site of irritation would be the tissues adjacent to the vocal chords comprising the larynx, therefore the general focal point of the irritation would be in the voice box represented externally by the Adam's Apple."

So—Consider your Adam's Apple. Be careful in your choice of cigarettes. Don't rasp your throat with harsh irritants. Reach for a LUCKY instead.

GUINAN ON WAY HOME; SHE'S NOT 'MAD' AT FRANCE

"I'm the Big Sucker This Time," She Says.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HAVRE, France, June 3. — "Hello Broadway, here we come," was the chant of Texas Guinan's gang of dancing girls and boys as they surged up the gangplank of the liner Paris this afternoon on their way back home after the French government had decided that they could not provide "whoopee" for weary business men of Paris without a labor permit.

And then, as if this were too much of a defeat, La Guinan turned around and shouted in her deepest voice:

"But we'll be back. You'll be plenty glad to ask us back." All the while photographers were snapping pictures of Tex in her velvet riding habit, white horst and patent leather boots, and Tex was snapping back wise cracks in her best manner.

The "cuties," including the three who took French leave last night for an automobile ride with the son of a Dallas, Tex., millionaire, lined the rail as the ship put out to sea, blowing kisses and shouting "bon voyage" in a sprightly manner, although they were a little disappointed over not being able to "paint" the French capital.

Sitting sadly on his suitcase on the dock was the only casualty of the day, Harry Aslett, a Londoner, who had offered to marry Miss Guinan under the proposition that as his wife she could enter England and then divorce him. This altruism went almost unappreciated, because when Tex started for the gangplank she turned to her suitor and said:

"Good-by, sucker. No, I can't marry you. I have too many expenses already." Harry said he did not have enough money to take the boat back to Plymouth.

When the troupe arrived at the dock in two big motor buses, Texas seemed to have recovered some of her savoir faire which had slipped perceptibly during the five day confinement in the immigrant detention hotel. She greeted the reporters with her customary sallies, and talked freely about her troubles.

And Guinan Is Not Mad.

"No, I'm not mad on France. It was all due to poor management." And here she turned and darted a mean glare at her European manager, William Rondeau, who replied in a heated manner that he had done everything he could and more.

"I'm the big sucker this time," Miss Guinan went on. "To think I came over 3,000 miles to land in jail when any jail in the U. S. would welcome me any day."

POLICE EYE CHICAGO GANG; ONE WANTED IN ZUTA PLOT KILLING

Six Chicago hoodlums are under surveillance in St. Paul, police there advised the detective bureau last night. As a result, a murder warrant will be sought in the Felony court today against one of the men in connection with the attempted assassination of Jack Zuta in State street last July 1, in which a bystander was killed.

The hoodlums watched by the police are listed as Harold Denman, former highway policeman; Ted Newberry, Capone follower; Al Handler, John Buttery, Morris Waldman, and Harry [Frisco Dutch] Gold, alias Schmidt. According to St. Paul authorities the men are believed to be concerned with booze shipments between Canada and Chicago.

Chief of Detectives John Norton immediately forwarded records of the men. At the same time Sergts. Charles Reynolds and Frank Donohue announced that they would go to the Felony court today and ask a murder warrant against Denman in connection with the slaying of Elbert Lusader, 38 years old, street car motorman, who was shot in the attempt to kill Zuta. Bullets used in this shooting were said to have been traced to a gun owned by Denman. Gold, it is said, is wanted in connection with the "little massacre" of Sam Pellar, Michael Quirk, and Joseph Bertsche in a Fox Lake hotel on June 1 last year.

BERRY GRANTED DIVORCE AFTER 18 MONTHS' FIGHT

Judge Rudolph F. Desort granted a divorce yesterday in the Superior court to H. Roy Berry, wealthy real estate operator with offices at 77 West Washington street. For eighteen months Berry has bandied charges of drunkenness and cruelty back and forth in the courts with Mrs. Frances Mary Berry of 200 East Chestnut street.

Berry, however, was ordered to pay his wife alimony of $350 a month, and to give her attorney, John J. Kelly, an additional $6,500 in fees. She testified yesterday that her present living expenses are $600 a month and that she is under constant care by a physician, but Berry countered with the assertion that his real estate business has fallen off so that he has made only $5,000 since the first of the year.

His wife claimed that he has an income of $100,000 a year, and is worth more than $1,000,000. They were married in 1927, and Berry filed a divorce suit on Nov. 8, 1929. His wife filed her cross-bill soon after.

The couple called more than fifty witnesses in an effort to substantiate their charges, and counter charges, some of the witnesses coming from Cuba, Florida and California. Berry examined by Attorney Leonard Reid, his counsel, charged that his wife was frequently intoxicated.

FAIL TO SOLVE DEPUTY'S DEATH.

A coroner's jury reported yesterday that it was unable to determine the cause of death of Deputy Sheriff Raymond Gerrity, 38 years old, of 4655 Lake Park avenue, whose body was found in the lake on May 15.

HINDENBURG GETS PLAN TO MAKE UP 300 MILLION LOSS

Scheme Includes New Tax and Salary Cuts.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, June 3.—Chancellor Bruening today submitted an emergency relief plan to President Von Hindenburg with which the cabinet hopes to be able to cover a deficit of $300,000,000. Financial experts in Germany believe this figure too low and that the government's shortage of funds will total closer to $500,000,000.

They point out that Germany still has 4,000,000 unemployed to sustain, despite the fact that this is the best time of the year for the labor market. They feel certain that unless there is a striking improvement in business or a reduction in reparations payments, Germany will have 8,000,000 jobless by September eating up the money the government is scraping together by the emergency measures which the cabinet has asked the president to decree.

Plan New Income Tax.

President Von Hindenburg is expected to approve the measures before the end of the week. They include a super income tax, called a "crisis tax," a reduction in government payments to unemployment relief organizations, another four to eight per cent cut in the salaries of officials, a further ten per cent cut in ministerial salaries, and increased taxes on sugar and crude oil.

At a final conference tonight before Chancellor Bruening and Foreign Minister Curtius started for England to confer with Prime Minister MacDonald and Foreign Minister Henderson, the cabinet worked on an appeal to the patriotism of the Germans, which will head the proclamation of the emergency decrees. It is possible that this will include an official demand for reduction in reparations payments.

Politicians Fight Measure.

The chiefs of the government are seriously worried by the situation since the Wilhelmstrasse is being flooded with protests from politicians of all parties in all parts of Germany against the proposed measures, which they say "will bleed Germany to death."

One of the most eloquent came from Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, former president of the reichsbank, who demanded that Chancellor Bruening and Dr. Curtius refuse to continue to pay reparations at the forthcoming meeting with the British leaders.

Communists tried to storm the city hall here tonight, but mounted police foiled the attempt. One communist was shot and severely wounded.

Smash Store Windows.

Earlier, a group of hungry jobless men attempted to loot a big department store located a stone's throw away from the police headquarters. Numerous handbills ordering the looting of food shops were found near the smashed windows of the department store.

At Hamborn communists demonstrated today outside the court house during the trial of several unemployed who were charged with attempting to storm the Hamborn town hall a month ago. When mounted police sought to disperse them, the mob threw stones and tried to erect barricades. The police used their rifles, wounding three demonstrators.

FACTOR ATTENDS RACES AT WASHINGTON PARK GUARDED BY DEPUTIES

John (Jake the Barber) Factor, who is demanded by England on a charge of swindling investors out of some $6,000,000, was a visitor at the Washington Park race track yesterday, accompanied by two deputy United States marshals assigned to him.

Factor's extradition hearing before United States Commissioner Walker has been in abeyance for a week and will be resumed on Monday, when his attorneys, headed by United States Senator Otis F. Glenn, are to present objections to the crown's huge stack of depositions.

Chief Deputy Marshal Edward A. King said there was nothing irregular in Factor's going to the races, under the terms of the order remanding him to the marshal's custody.

"He can go anywhere he chooses, but the deputies must go with him," said Mr. King. "The order does not entail confinement. We are only charged with the responsibility of being able to produce him when required."

SEND PRAISES TO MacARTHUR FOR PACIFIST ATTACK

Washington, D. C., June 3.—[Special.]—Scores of messages were received today by Gen. MacArthur, army chief of staff, congratulating him on his attack of yesterday on clergymen who announce their would-be conscientious objections in event of another war. Many of the messages came from brother officers, who expressed delight that a high officer of the war department had begun an offensive against pacifists who carry on constant warfare against the army.

300 MODEL HOMES WILL BE BUILT IN PITTSBURGH

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 3.—(AP)—A $1,000,000 construction program to provide homes for 300 families at moderate rentals was announced today by the Buhl Foundation. The foundation has purchased a 45 acre tract in the Mount Washington district here, and construction will be started at once.

ASK TRUE BILLS TODAY AGAINST MRS. SUMMERS

State's Attorney Swanson announced yesterday that his assistant, C. Wayland Brooks, will go before the grand jury today to ask the indictment of Mrs. Margaret Summers on charges of killing four persons with arsenic to collect their insurance.

The 47 year old widow's attorneys, Emmet F. Byrne and Harold Levy, had threatened to invoke the writ of habeas corpus unless the state made a formal charge. Mrs. Summers is being held in the county jail on a coroner's mittimus.

With evidence already in hand that arsenic caused the deaths of her husband, Thomas Summers, her nephew, Thomas Meyers, and two peddlers, William Reenan and Thomas Lanagan, the authorities are seeking evidence that others succumbed to the poison. Where Mrs. Summers procured the poison, if she did procure it, has not been discovered.

STOCKS ADVANCE IN WIDEST SWING OF LAST 18 MOS.

But July Wheat Drops to Lowest Since 1896.

poration, issued a statement at Minneapolis also saying that the governmental agency was through buying wheat in any market.

Chairman Stone and Milnor were reported to have agreed on their move by telephone the night before, when heavy shipments of the new wheat crop began to arrive at terminal markets from Texas.

At Stone's office his assistant explained the reason for the government's withdrawal from the market. He said that unless the farm board withdrew, the Texas wheat would get the benefit of the "pegged" price until the previously planned final withdrawal on July 1, which would not be fair to new wheat coming in later from other sections.

Selling Policy Unchanged.

Milnor, in Minneapolis, said the stabilization corporation's selling policy was unchanged.

"The support of cash wheat and June futures had to stop some time," he said. "We felt that it was the right time to withdraw support as new wheat has become a market factor and the job of assisting with the marketing of last year's crop is about finished.

"The stocks of the stabilization corporation are being withheld from sale, with our price fixed at 82 cents for No. 1 Northern. This price will increase a half cent for each ten days up to June 30. We will not sell for less."

Milnor declared that yesterday's market performance was "better than I expected," considering the removal of all stabilization purchasing. He said he believed there would be rallies in the next few days, and made it clear there would be no "dumping" of the corporation's supply of wheat, estimated at more than 200 million bushels.

Heavy Losses Predicted.

That farmers as well as grain dealers would suffer heavy losses was indicated in a report of Nat Murray, Chicago grain statistician. Murray estimated that farmers still hold 42 million bushels of the old wheat crop on farms, a course urged upon all wheat farmers earlier by the farm board. An additional 52 million bushels is estimated to be in storage, mostly unhedged, in country mills and elevators.

Miss Hazel K. Benbow of the New York Central lines was elected president of the Railway Business Women's association Tuesday night at the organization's annual meeting in the Palmer house. She succeeds Miss Grace Tugwell of the Chicago and North Western railroad. Miss Marjorie Wood of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy was selected as first vice president.

Grape Industry Shaky Despite Huge U. S. Loan; Seeks More Funds

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 3.—[Special.]—In the field of federal farm relief, in which the farm board's wheat stabilization program has for long occupied the position of prime importance, interest in the board's assistance in stabilizing the California grape industry is now coming to the fore.

Two factors have combined to focus attention on this division of the board's activity. One is the request, still pending, that the board loan still further sums to the California fresh grape, raisin and grape by-products cooperatives.

The other is the retirement from the board, three days ago, of Charles C. Teague of California, who represented the fruit and vegetable industry in the board's membership, and who was chiefly instrumental in negotiating the board's loans to the grape growers and in assisting in the fabrication of a system of surplus control.

In Trouble for Three Years.

During the last three years the California grape industry has been an experimental laboratory. And its story is a case record of farm board aid, with all its attendant trials, hazards and failures.

There are also, the farm board points out, pages of success and chapters of optimism.

Because of overproduction and the inevitable price fall that followed, the California grape industry was headed for the rocks. On that point everybody is pretty well agreed. Along with the industry would have gone many banks filled, so it is estimated, with nearly $200,000,000 worth of paper representing loans on vineyards.

The $8,000,000 plants of the Sun Maid Corporation of Delaware, the common stock of which is held by the Sun Maid Coöperative of California, were in danger of foreclosure proceedings threatened by Dillon, Read & Co., who had underwritten and sold the corporation's bonds, of which $9,600,000 were then outstanding. Had the Sun Maid plants been taken over, the raisin industry would have lost control of its most important outlet.

Bankers Withdraw Aid.

California bankers, who had formerly financed the grape crop, declined to do so in the future.

There were too many grapes, too many acres in vineyards, too many growers. The California grape production was approximately 1,053,000 tons in 1921. By 1923 it had grown to more than 2,300,000 tons. More than 600,000 acres had been planted to vines. Many of these acres were in "marginal" land, profitable only under the most auspicious conditions, a liability in a falling market.

The grape growers issued a cry of distress, calling upon the newly organized farm board to help them out of the predicament into which they had got themselves.

The farm board answered the call. The board loaned the Sun Maid corporation $4,000,000 in order that the corporation might take up its bonds, which were then posted with the board as security. As further bonds were bought in the loan was increased to $4,390,000.

The board arranged with the banks and got them to agree to refund Sun Maid's bank debt over a period of years. The board agreed to take half of a commodity loan, of which about $4,000,000 was used, the bankers taking the other half. This loan was used to make advances to the member growers of the Sun Maid cooperative. All but about $700,000 of this has since been repaid. Among the banks sharing the loan was the Security First National of Los Angeles, of which Mr. Teague was director and vice president.

As the program developed the board assisted further and loaned more money until its loans, minus repayments, totaled more than 15 millions.

More than 35 per cent of the California grape growers, said to number between 15,000 and 20,000, belonged to one of the great coöperatives which had been created.

Wine Juice Prospers.

One of these was Fruit Industries, Ltd., which sough to dispose of some of the surplus by making the wine grape concentrate now being sold with such success to a nation thirsty under prohibition that its price is to go up 20 per cent on June 15. Fruit Industries received a loan of 2½ millions.

Through their various coöperatives, the grape growers contributed $1.50 a ton to a fund to buy and control the surplus.

The program helped but it did not cure. Scores of thousands of tons of grapes were not even harvested. But last year still saw a surplus of some 400,000 tons. Raisin prices were fairly well stabilized, but the control over fresh grapes was inadequate. Acreage was reduced to about 520,000 acres, but it is estimated that an additional 75,000 acres of marginal and submarginal land should be retired from production.

Want 10 Millions More.

And it is for such an acreage reduction plan that the growers now seek a further loan which, it is reported, may run over 10 millions. The present plan is—literally—a radical one, for it contemplates tearing up thousands of acres of the less productive vineyards by the roots, the owners to be recompensed by an assessment on the industry as a whole.

Should this new loan go through in an amount around 10 millions, it would mean that the farm board was loaning between 20 and 25 millions on a crop the farm price value of which in 1930 was only 31 millions.

Nor is that the only criticism made. As was revealed in the senate committee hearings in 1929 prior to the confirmation of Mr. Teague's appointment, when the farm board loaned the Sun Maid Corporation of Delaware the $4,000,000 to buy in its outstanding bonds, word that the board was behind the corporation shot the bonds up in value and gave their holders a profit, on paper at least, of more than $1,000,000.

Also, it is argued, the board's support of the industry has seemed, in some respects, a benevolence to the bankers as much as to the agriculturist. The board has never attempted to minimize the effect of its operations on the banks, however, and has countered by asking its critics whether they think it would do agriculture or the country as a whole any good to let banks filled with farm paper go to the wall, and have the farms and crops put up as security dumped on the market.

TAXATION AND DEPRESSION.

To the frequent protests against the increasing burden of public expenditure and the extension of bureaucracy in this country, Arthur Sears Henning's article of Sunday gives a concrete force which must impress even the most thoughtless.

All government in this country, writes Mr. Henning, federal, state, county, city, and village, cost about 13 billions of dollars last year, or four times what it cost before the war. The population increased only 25 per cent. Meanwhile our bureaucracy of officials is now larger than the army we sent to France and one out of every forty persons in the nation is on some public pay roll.

With an aggregate estimated national income of about eighty billions a year we are now paying about one dollar of every six for the maintenance of these government activities. The cost of government has gone up since 1913 about 333 per cent while our income had increased 135 per cent, and expenditures are still increasing.

We in Illinois must be impressed by the fact that among our own legislators there is virtually no effort to economize, but only an enthusiastic effort to find new ways to tax, new sources of public revenue. This effort includes all sorts of schemes, some of them such as the personalty tax proposals of our own city council, providing for actual confiscation.

In short, despite the increasing protests from the press and men of affairs, politicians have shown very little response, but are proceeding apparently on the theory that piling up taxes, spending money without restraint, is approved by the mass of their constituents. For a time that was in some degree true. That time has been coming to a close. In these days of trial the American taxpayer, as Mr. Henning remarks, "is beginning to stagger beneath the burden of the cost of government. Blessed at present with the highest standard of living in the world, he is groaning at the weight of a tax load steadily approaching that of the peasantry and pinched city dwellers of Europe and beginning to wonder if theirs is to be his fate, too."

As yet the reaction to public debt pressure is not reasoned, and results in many cases in demands for government action which increases the burden. The economic difficulties of the farmer, who first suffered the consequences of war inflation and deflation, have made opportunity for agrarian politicians with nothing but political panaceas to propose and in the cities post-war prosperity had created indifference to public expenditure.

All classes of the American people are now caught in a situation in which taxes are not to be laughed at, and it is possible that even the millions who do not pay any direct taxes are beginning to realize that they are paying indirectly and bear their share of the general burden.

It is not unnatural to hope that one of the benefits we shall win from our present adversity is a wiser and more foresighted attitude toward public expenditure and the insidious growth of the huge system of bureaucratic regulation we already have imposed upon ourselves. If we realize that inordinate public expenditures, which have increased the burden of taxation, have contributed to our present business depression and retard our recovery, we may adopt a more critical attitude toward them in the future and even toward the building up under one pretext or another of a permanent burden of bureaucracy.

The chief need is that the indirect taxpayers, who are in a great majority in the body politic, shall realize that they necessarily suffer along with the direct payer from the consequences of ill advised and inordinate public expenditures, that the diversion of capital from productive to nonproductive use, the exactions of government from business and property are translated into higher cost of living, lower business vitality, and therefore general depression with its destruction of savings and its widespread unemployment and destitution.

ABOLISHING SPANISH TITLES.

A decree of the Spanish republic abolishes titles of nobility. They may remain in social usage, but the law of the land does not recognize them. The revolution brought in all classes of Spaniards, the grandees with the commoners and peasants. Consequently the abolition of titles is not to be regarded as the attack of democracy upon aristocratic privilege, but as the statement of a democratic fact, without which modern democracy is not complete.

Democracy is not merely a legal organization which grants people parliamentary protections and recognizes certain authority as derived from them. If it is complete democracy it starts with a social theory of equality. Its other doctrines follow naturally. If it does not, accept such equality in principle it misses the spirit and remains incomplete. England missed democracy in its various revolutions. France got it in one and never lost it. In England parliament could behead a king without getting rid of the social institutions of which the king is the head.

The English revolutions proved that the crown and aristocratic privilege are interdependent. The one will bring in the other. The nobles require the kingship as a protection for their own position and its benefits. Nobility itself cannot call forth an uncritical and undiscriminating loyalty. That is given to the royal person, which is invested with illusions of superhuman qualities, mythical and mystical. An aristocratic class knows that its own immunities and privileges derive from the throne. The king in turn knows that the devotion of self-interest attaches the aristocracy to him. The alliance of the two makes democracy impossible.

Great Britain did not destroy the titled orders. The United States did not inherit them.

WANTED: A BOND MARKET.

The treasury issue of $800,000,000 of 3½ per cent bonds may serve to do much more than meet the government's deficit. The accumulation of savings accounts in recent months appears to have led the banks to accumulate bonds. Some of the banks, to be sure, have been obliged to dispose of securities in the effort to meet the demands of depositors upon them, but, taken as a whole, it is more than probable that the banks today hold more bonds than they have for many years, and, if this is so, it should follow that private investors hold less.

The new government issue may serve to restore the bond to the favor of investors. It is not many years since stock ownership was commonly regarded among business men as not very different from betting on the races. Indeed, it was only in the great bull market that the prejudice against common stocks was finally broken down. The consequences have been disastrous to many individuals, which should result in renewed favor for the bond as a form of investment. In the general rearrangement of security portfolios which will follow the issuance of the $800,000,000 loan the banks have an opportunity to inaugurate a vigorous selling campaign not only of the government's issue but of sound investment bonds in general.

It is becoming increasingly clear that the economic dead center is to be explained in no small part by the refusal of banks and individuals to finance new long term capital improvements. There never was more money available for short term investment and never less for the longer term. On all sides there is talk of overproduction as the excuse for refusing to make long term investments, as if there were no need for electrification of the railroads, rural electrification, improved housing, and other decencies of civilization which can be made to yield a safe, if not an extravagant, return over a long period. Bankers and business men are looking about for another automobile industry to restore prosperity, not realizing that sound projects such as have been mentioned are ready to employ at least as many wage earners as ever were occupied in the upbuilding of automobile plants and the assembly of automobiles, to which our recent periods of prosperity must be largely attributed.

The country has enormous savings. If under the leadership of the bankers the public could be induced to again buy bonds, the means of financing the capital improvements of the next decade would be at hand. The number of bond offerings in recent months has been small, perhaps in preparation for Secretary Mellon's new issue; now that that weight is about to be lifted is it not time to attempt to restore bonds to popularity among investors?

ANOTHER LIBERAL VICTORY.

[St. Louis Star.]

The new five-to-four liberal combination in the United States Supreme court hit its best working stride yesterday in declaring the Minnesota "press gag" law unconstitutional. That law made it possible for the courts to put a newspaper out of business by declaring it a public nuisance. It was used to suppress a Minneapolis publication for charging that the mayor was inefficient and the chief of police tied up with gangsters. THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, which led the court fight against the statute, deserves high credit for the service it rendered.

If that Minnesota law had been upheld by the United States Supreme court, the constitutional guarantees of freedom of the press would be worthless. No newspaper would dare risk confiscation of its property by criticising official corruption. Nor is any such law needed. As Chief Justice Hughes said in handing down the majority opinion, the press is responsible for its utterances. The law of civil and criminal libel protects the citizen against false charges. The right to suppress a newspaper by injunction is the right to muzzle the expression of public opinion.

It seems incredible that this "gag law" ever should have been upheld by the Minnesota Supreme court. It seems equally incredible that four members of the United States Supreme court should be aligned in support of its constitutionality. Nor could this have happened if they really believed in the doctrine of free speech and a free press. The defense in Minnesota was that judges would not invoke the law against any "reputable" newspaper. What is a reputable newspaper? How long would a newspaper be "reputable" if it spoke its mind vigorously about some of the evils connected with our courts, and the courts had power to put it out of business by injunction?

The United States Supreme court never did a better day's work than in knocking out that law. But by what a slender thread our liberties hang, and what a commentary on some of the decisions under the old reactionary alignment. Had this question come before the Supreme court two years ago, who can doubt that the decision would have been either five to four or six to three the other way?

In this shift we have evidence of a fact that ought to be pounded into the mind of every American citizen. This country is ruled by the Supreme court. The most important work of a President is to appoint members of that court and the most important work of the senate is to pass on those appointments.

BAD FEET.

DURING the Louisiana Purchase exposition held in St. Louis a quarter of a century ago, Dr. P. Hoffman of that city made a study of the feet of certain savage Negro tribes. He compared the lower extremities of these barefoot people with those of certain other sandal wearing folk and also with those of white people who had worn shoes since babyhood. Some of his conclusions are so important that one wonders why a quarter of a century has passed with no results from the study.

Dr. Hoffman found that so-called "flat-foot" is a misnomer. "So are "fallen arch" and "broken arch." People have "weak foot" and "painful foot," as everybody knows, but these do not result from flat-foot, fallen arches, or broken arches. Painful foot results from standing or walking with the toes turned out, and the height of the arch or its shape is not a factor. Some of the best, most comfortable, and most useful feet he saw were those with no arches whatsoever.

The principal fault found with shoes was that they were not broad enough in front. The natural human foot is almost pyramidal. It has a broad base in front at the toes, and then diagonal side lines back to a narrow heel. In walking the foot spreads laterally at the front end. It elongates very little in comparison. Therefore shoes should be very broad in the toe region, nearly as broad in the ball region, and narrow in the heel region.

The feet have the same shape in infancy in both savages and civilized. It is wearing shoes that gives the civilized man an ugly, distorted foot, with crooked, useless toes; that causes painful feet, turning out of the toes, and results in a member on a low plane of usefulness. The foot of the savage is a much better member, and that of the sandal wearer is practically as good as that of the savage. Civilized man, to get back good feet, must wear shoes that are very broad in front, or he must wear sandals. In addition, he must train himself to walk pigeontoed. His standing position must be with the heels far apart and the toes pointing straight ahead.

In the same collection with this report is an X-ray picture of a foot on which there is a bunion, and the front end of the toes are pushed together so that they overlie. At the ball the bones are widely separated. Between the bones of the first toe and those of the second there is an inch of space at the ball joint. In this space there lies a sesamoid bone wedging the toe bones apart. This wedging causes a practical dislocation of the big toe at this ball joint. Narrow toed shoes have done their part in dislocating the toes.

CAUSES OF PINWORMS.

G. B. writes:

1. What causes pinworms found in lower bowels of small children?
2. Are they "catching"?
3. What precautions should be taken to keep others from having them?

REPLY.

1. Eating food containing worm ergs is one cause. Soiled fingers is another.
2. Yes.
3. Be very careful about keeping the hands clean. See that all food is well cooked or well cleaned. Avoid eating soiled "suckers" and other soiled candies and foods, the common use of certain garments and toilet facilities. The mature worm may travel to the outside. Also, she may wander back.

CAUSES OF BALDNESS.

D. A. R. writes: What causes the hair of a young man about twenty years old to fall out? What should be done to prevent it and to stimulate new growth?

REPLY.

There are different kinds of baldness and the causes differ. Some are bald because of inheritance, some because of constitutional disease, some because of scalp disease, and some because of neglect.

If neglect is the cause the remedy consists in frequent washing and systematic, persistent brushing.

METAL POISONING.

Mrs. W. H. writes: In what way can one get a metallic poisoning?

REPLY.

In hundreds of ways. Among them are: Working in a lead factory, a paint factory, or painting, sandpapering old paint, drinking water that contains lead, taking too much calomel, making hats, working with nickel, brass, copper, or arsenic, to mention only a few.

POSSIBLY SHE MIGHT.

Mrs. V. M. writes: Can a woman 27 years of age expect to bear children after one Fallopian tube is removed by operation?

REPLY.

She might.

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

YES, INDEED. BUT ON THE OTHER HAND—

Sen. Norris says he is five hundred times more for Gov. Pinchot for President than he is for Mr. Hoover. . . . Wait, Mr. Pinchot, before cheering. Five hundred times nothing is not such a large majority. . . . Mr. Wilkins' submarine started for the North Pole yesterday and we couldn't feel the proper amount of awe, wonder, and admiration that we should have felt because it was so darned hot we wanted to go along. . . . Mr. Curtis is reported to have left party leaders perplexed as he went home without saying whether he will run for Vice President again or not. Maybe Mr. Curtis doesn't know. . . . Bishop Cannon has sued Congressman Tinkham of Massachusetts for $500,000. He should have sued for $5,000,000,000, because he wouldn't get that either, but it would have made a bigger splash. . . . Jane Addams says Chicago is not so corrupt as some people think. Anyhow, it's not so corrupt as New York people think. Oh, nobody could be so corrupt as all that. . . . They're planning to charge the summer residents around some of the small lakes in Illinois for the use of the lakes. Up to date, however, there will be no charge for air, sunshine, or rain. . . . Wheat went the lowest yesterday in thirty years. Bet a nickel the price of wheat cakes remains the same. . . . Good morning, have you completed your plan to relieve the depression? Oh, by all means do so at once or you'll be pointed out as eccentric, or maybe taken in the wagon to the psychopathic ward.

THE STREET PIANO.

I heard a street piano
Out in the dusk of June
Playing a long forgotten,
An old and lovely tune.

The bolt of time was gently
Withdrawn and the blessed door
Of childhood softly opened
Wide for me once more.

I heard my mother singing
As I returned to play,
And dusk was suffused with the golden
Rising of yesterday.

Strange that a street piano
Can open with a song
The portals of a heaven
Closed so long, so long.

Girls who have a serious look
Scare the men away,
Try the effervescent stuff
If you'd make them stay.

Never mention faithfulness,
Constancy and such,
Kiss them often, dear, instead,
Praise them very much.

Sparkle, scintillate and shine,
Then try being sweet,
Variations have a charm
That is hard to beat.

If your heart gets in the game
Don't you ever show it.
Most men try a fade away
If you let them know it.

Dont be tender, laugh instead,
I won't say it's fun. . . .
But if you would win your man,
That's the way it's done.

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

JUNE 4, 1915.

WASHINGTON. — To supplement and reënforce his official report to the German government on the position of the United States in the present critical situation Count von Bernstorff, German ambassador, is sending a special representative to Berlin. This representative will leave for Germany at once in order that he may reach there on the heels of the note which President Wilson is preparing to send to the German government this week regarding Germany's submarine warfare. The President completed the draft of his note and expects to submit it to the cabinet tomorrow for revision and approval.

LONDON.—With the capture of Przemysl early yesterday, the Austro-German armies achieved the main object of the great thrust which they commenced against the Russian lines in western Galicia just a month ago today.

TRENTON, N. J.—The United States District court for New Jersey handed down a unanimous decision refusing the petition of the federal government to dissolve the United Stated Steel corporation. The court held that in acquiring its foreign and home trade the concern did not violate the Sherman anti-trust act, and refused all of the injunctions prayed for by the department of justice.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

JUNE 4, 1901.

BOSTON, Mass.—The sensation of today's session of the trial of the libel suit of Mrs. Josephine Curtis Woodbury against Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, head of the Christian Scientist church, was the appearance of Judge Septimus J. Hanna, for whom Mrs. Woodbury's counsel had offered a reward. He is manager of Mrs. Eddy's publications. Several prominent members of the church were on the stand and the plaintiff's attorneys endeavored to secure proof from them that the published statement regarding the "Babylonish woman" was beyond doubt aimed at Mrs. Woodbury. In part they were successful, two witnesses admitting that in their opinion the reference to the bad woman of the Bible was intended for the plaintiff, Mrs. Eddy's former close friend.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Official bulletins regarding the condition of Mrs. McKinley were distinctly more favorable than any issued since the return of the presidential party from the west coast. Dr. Osler of Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore, joined the staff of physicians and after his visit President McKinley seemed to feel especially encouraged.

CHICAGO.—It is long since a wedding of such magnificence was witnessed in Chicago as that of Miss Mervyn Winston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Winston, and Dwight Lawrence, which took place at St. James' Episcopal church. The church ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. James S. Stone, was followed by a reception for 600 guests at the Winston residence, 576 North State street.

50 YEARS AGO TODAY

ALBANY, N. Y.—Only one ballot was taken in the senatorial contest in the 11th district to select successors to Senators Conkling and Platt, resigned. The proceedings were dull and uneventful and there was little change in the balloting. Chauncey M. Depew gained in his race for the Platt place. One vote was cast for the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, an antagonist of Conkling.

WASHINGTON.—Attorney General MacVeagh and Postmaster General James are untiring in their efforts to secure evidence sufficient to insure the punishment of the star route robbers and it is believed that their labors will bear fruit. Attorney General MacVeagh is in possession of a great amount of evidence, including photographic copies of former Senator Dorsey's letter to his agents in extending the star routes in the postal service, and is ready to bring the matter before the grand jury.

CHICAGO.—The state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians was held at the Palmer house with President P. W. Gallagher of Peoria in the chair. He was reëlected, as was Francis Cassidy of Joliet, the treasurer. John Prendergast of this city was elected state secretary.

IN DEFENSE OF THE HISTORICAL SOCIETY BUILDING.

Chicago, June 3.—I must protest against the indictment of Mr. Joseph B. Rogers, who has written in condemnation of the erection of the Chicago Historical society building in the southwest corner of Lincoln park, calling it a "desecration" and an "exploitation."

The beautiful building, which is to be superimposed upon what is temporarily an "ugly excavation," will do more than anything I know to enhance the glory of the Lincoln who is immortalized by St. Gaudens. Those who come to pay tribute can turn aside and gain the knowledge that will fortify their faith in the Great Emancipator. The accessibility of the wonderful collections to be displayed under the enlightening guidance of the Historical society will be an invitation to those who need the knowledge to buttress their faith. Sir Thomas Browne long ago wrote: "The wisdom of God receives small honor from those vulgar heads that rudely stare about and with a gross rusticity admire his works; those highly magnify him, whose judicious inquiry into his acts, and deliberate research into his creatures, return the duty of a devout and learned admiration."

It would seem unfortunate to impugn the motives of all those people who have made personal contributions which make this new building possible and all those others as well who have contributed their time and energy without stint. Those responsible for the erection of the Historical society building wish to make their monument a living one where it will be most available for the largest number of people. Certainly this was done in the finest sort of democratic spirit and would have had the approval of the greatest citizen our commonwealth has yet produced. Mr. Rogers may not know that the trustees were guided in their plans by the judgment of the Chicago Plan commission and the Chicago Chamber of Commerce, and that the many civic bodies of unquestioned patriotism concurred in the project.

I cannot help feeling that Mr. Rogers has allowed a minor consideration of hazy sentiment to obscure a matter of greater moment for the very thing he himself must desire.

THE CAT'S NATURE.

Evanston, Ill., June 1.—How "Bird Lover" can call a cat a pet and send it to a police station for "a dose of buckshot" because it did as nature taught it and caught birds is beyond any animal lover. Doubtless "Bird Lover" eats meat, and perhaps goes hunting for ducks, and has his chicken on Sunday. Our cherished robins are meat eaters, and swallow live worms with great pleasure.

I've had two pet cats for 13 years, and neither has ever caught a bird because they are kept in the house and cared for like dogs.

ANIMAL LOVER.

CONTRASTS.

Chicago, May 29.—In Gary a youth was sentenced to from one to ten years for attack on a girl at a party. In Chicago a 58 year old man is given one year after confessing the rape of fifteen or twenty colored girls hardly in the 'teen age in his home. In the sunny south eight little colored boys are condemned to die for attack on some white girl who followed them into a box car.

LYLE LEWIS.

CAPITAL ON STRIKE.

Cleveland, O., May 25.—We hear [illegible] these days to the effect that dividends should be passed and that labor should still be employed on war time conditions.

I am not surprised that politicians, communists, some labor leaders and reformers should advocate this policy because they are directly affected, but that some economists, who should be able to understand the underlying principle, should give countenance or utterance to this doctrine is somewhat disconcerting. Capital goes on a strike just as effectively as labor. Today the savings banks are reducing interest rates and call money is down to 1 per cent. There is no work for money. Capital says if you are not going to protect me or give me any returns, I quit. When capital loafs, labor is also compelled to loaf.

No one individual has sufficient capital to carry forward the large enterprises which give employment to the thousands. The ownership is vested in the thousands of stockholders and bondholders. When a condition is developed that frightens these security holders, capital is withdrawn and the enterprise is denied the capital to carry on, and consequently the doors are closed and labor is paid off. When labor sees the stocks and bonds of its companies going down lower and lower it is a warning to them that their pay envelope is in danger.

Securities represent past labor. The owners are aged for the most part, but they demand just as much consideration as do the laborers of today. They were earned under greater hardship and sacrifices than the dollars of today.

High taxes are the real deterrent to the return of prosperity. Believe it or not, many are receiving two or more fat checks every month of the taxpayers' money. Thousands of others are receiving tax money for which no real service is or ever has been rendered. Taxspenders are the only people who are in clover today.

LOUIS GOSS.

THE HORSES ARE COMING.

Chicago, May 28.—With the opening of the horse show at the South Shore Country club this seems a fitting time to earnestly request the Illinois Central to minimize as far as possible the annoyance of switching along Michigan avenue at the time cars for the conveyance of horses are brought in or at the time they are removed.

Each spring this event means the loss of two nights' sleep to the neighborhood. There seems no plausible reason why the noise could not be cut down to the point where it would not constitute a nuisance.

SOUTH SIDER.

A BAD SMELL.

Chicago, June 1.—I have read with interest J. F. Danielson's letter about the nauseating odor prevalent around the western suburbs. I think it must be the same as is sometimes present in my section of the city, west of Crawford and south of Roosevelt road.

The air has a peculiar grassy, oily odor and I have thought some oil refinery may be the source. I have smelled it also at the Cicero station on the Burlington route, several miles from my neighborhood. Sometimes I have my windows closed, even at night, rather than breathe this offensive air, which is, by the way, unlike the stockyards odor or that noticeable around the drainage canal.

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

BISHOP CANNON SUES TINKHAM FOR HALF MILLION

Result of Wet Leader's "Dare" Statement.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 3.—[Special.]—A $500,000 libel suit was filed today by Bishop James Cannon Jr. in the District of Columbia Supreme court against Representative George H. Tinkham, wet Republican of Massachusetts.

GEO. H. TINKHAM. (A. P. Photo.)

The story behind the court action shows that Bishop Cannon is suing on the strength of a statement which he himself dared the congressman to make.

The suit claims that a signed statement issued by Representative Tinkham last June 19 contains the libel. The statement was issued as the result of a challenge by the bishop that the congressman repeat, without benefit of his official immunity, charges made on the floor of the house.

Representative Tinkham took the bishop up and, according to the suit, gave the following statement to the newspapers over his signature:

"Lest Bishop Cannon shall delude any one into thinking the charge which I made against him in the house of representatives were unfounded, and meeting his challenge that I divest myself of my congressional immunity, I desire to restate over my signature that charges I made in the house of representatives that he is a shameless violator of the federal corrupt practices act, a criminal statute, that he received $65,300 from a New York capitalist, Mr. Jameson, during the 1928 elections, and illegally concealed the receipt of all this money until Feb. 15, 1929, and has not yet accounted for $48,300 of this amount, refusing to do so before the senate lobby investigating committee before which he appeared voluntarily and where he was under oath and could have been cross-examined."

In the suit filed today Bishop Cannon claims that he has always abided by the law.

DO-X BEGINS HOP TO AMERICA, BUT IS FORCED BACK

PORTO PRAIA, Cape Verde Islands, June 3.—(AP)—The German flying boat DO-X, which started for America on Nov. 5, 1930, was forced to postpone its attempt to span the South Atlantic to Brazil today when head winds forced the ship back to its buoy after it finally had succeeded in taking off.

The attempt to leave the water was made early this morning, but it was hours before the ship could get away. Then it remained in the air only a short time before returning.

The DO-X came here last week from Bolama, Portuguese West Africa.

FINDS 'IONIZED AIR' BENEFICIAL FOR T. B. CASES

MOSCOW, June 3.—(AP)—What is termed "negative ionization" is claimed by Prof. A. L. Tchijevsky, soviet scientist, as a new aid, if not a cure, for tuberculosis. Prof. Tchijevsky has been experimenting with ionized air for ten years. He tried it first on humans in 1926.

In a published report today the professor said that "the results obtained have been quite favorable. The health of lung victims "was improved, coughing ceased, the patients increased in weight and the number of Koch bacteria was reduced. In general it was found that negatively ionized air stimulates the organism to a high virility and helps defeat disease.

Prof. Tchijevsky's first experiments, made in 1921, were directed toward ascertaining the result of the artificial ionization of air on the stimulation of the nervous activities of animals. Animals subjected to the influence of negative ionization, he found, grew more rapidly and showed extraordinary virility. Just how far the method can be applied to human tuberculosis treatment has not yet been determined, but Prof. Tchijevsky said he was optimistic of beneficial results for consumptives generally.

GERMAN DUCHESS LOSES $1,000,000 DAMAGE SUIT

NEU STRELITZ, Germany, June 3.—(AP)—The former Grand Duchess Elizabeth of Mecklenburg-Strelitz and her daughters, Marie and Jutta, the latter the wife of former Crown Prince Danilo of Montenegro, today lost their long legal fight for nearly a million dollars which they claimed as damages following upon the revolution of 1918.

They won in a court of arbitration, but the Free State of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, finding such a liability would nearly ruin the country, refused to accept the court's decree.

They then brought action to enforce the decree, but the Strelitz court non-suited them today and quashed the decree with costs against the appellants.

CLOSING OF NAVY STATIONS TOPIC AT HOOVER CAMP

Problem Will Be Taken to Rapidan.

Washington, D. C., June 3.—[Special.]—Closing of minor shore stations operated by the navy will be one of the major subjects discussed at the Rapidan fishing camp Saturday when President Hoover is host to Secretary of the Navy Charles Francis Adams. Assistant Secretaries Jahncke and Ingalls and a number of high ranking admirals. Indications today were that no large stations will be closed unless specific orders to this effect emanate from the White House.

CHARLES F. ADAMS. [Copyright N. & E.]

Consideration is now being given by Secretary Adams to the closing of a number of navy and marine recruiting stations, a few radio stations, and possibly one of the four naval training stations. The fact that so many navy enlisted men are reenlisting combined with previous economies which have cut the enlisted strength of the navy down by approximately 5,000 men has rendered several of the recruiting stations largely useless.

Could Drop Training Station.

The navy at present operates four training stations when only three are needed. It has two on the Atlantic coast, at Hampden Roads and Newport News; one at Great Lakes, Ill., and another at San Diego, Cal. By closing down one of these stations, some of the recruiting stations and radio stations no longer needed, several hundred thousands could be turned back to the treasury.

Indications are that political pressure will prove strong enough to prevent any radical reduction of naval activities at Charleston, S. C., or Portsmouth, N. H. Neither of the stations is needed, but both are maintained in operation because no administration has had the political courage to close them. A move is under foot to dispose of the dry dock and yard at New Orleans and the station at Key West. New Orleans, although on an inoperative basis, costs the government a quarter of a million dollars annually for maintenance.

Admirals in Party.

Included in the Rapidan party will be Rear Admiral A. L. Parsons, chief of the bureau of yards and docks; Admiral William V. Pratt, chief of naval operations; Rear Admiral Ridley McLean, navy budget officer, and Maj. Gen. Ben M. Fuller, commandant of the marine corps.

The navy has cut about $10,000,000 from the 1931 naval appropriations and in addition deferred some cash withdrawals.

IF THE SIREN FEELS LIKE THE WARDEN IT IS VERY ANGRY NOW

Chief of Detectives Norton received a letter yesterday from Maj. H. C. Hill, warden of Joliet penitentiary. It said:

"Friday night, while my car was parked on Wabash avenue, near Washington street, between the hours of 9 and 11, some one stole the siren from it. This was a large police department siren, stamped 'Sterling $933.'

"In view of the fact that sirens are prohibited to any other than official cars, I thought probably it might have been taken to attach to a car which might be used to simulate a squad car. It is also possible, of course, that an ordinary accessory thief did the work.

"If any of your men can pick this siren up on the street, or in some pawnshop, I would be glad to prosecute him [the thief], as I consider this a personal insult to the warden of the penitentiary, and intended to seriously injure his feelings. In other words, it made mad, and I would like to catch the son of a gun that did it. With kindest regards."

JAIL STUDENTS TILL THEY TELL ON BOOTLEGGER

Ann Arbor, Mich., June 3.—[Special.]—A Scio township carpenter, said to have been furnishing liquor to University of Michigan students, was jailed by the Washtenaw county sheriff's department with city police cooperation, and two freshman students, one of them president of his class, who were held in jail to force information from them as to their source of liquor, also are facing charges of violating the liquor laws.

The students, James L. Slocum, 19, of Pittsburgh, president of the freshman literary class, and Laurence L. Heideman, 18, of Laurium, are to appear in justice court to answer to rum law charges June 9. They were released on $500 bond each today. It is said that they gave information regarding the whereabouts and activities of the alleged bootlegger only after they had been kept in jail after first refusing to aid authorities. Frank L. Smith, 39, was arrested as the bootlegger.

SINCLAIR LEWIS

etches another world "Type" for you

THIS time it is the modern loather of things as they are—the restless reacher for imaginary advantages beyond the horizon.

With his usual zest, with his deft and frank character sketching, Mr. Lewis gives us the first short story he has written since he was awarded the Nobel prize.

But this time it is not limited to Americans. The background is international. Starting thirty stories above Manhattan in the duplex living room of a Park Avenue penthouse apartment, the action shifts to England, to an Italian villa on Lake Maggiore, to a suburban German home, and back to New York.

You will call it one of the outstanding short stories of the year, and Mr. Lewis is now writing another for THE SATURDAY EVENING POST.

In it we find a French count disguised as an automobile mechanic in a Los Angeles garage and somewhat baffled by American idioms and idiosyncrasies, an American girl whose heart is in the pictures though her job is in Ye Olde Cheshire Tea Denne, who is disguised as a Balkan princess and is baffled by nothing under the sun, and many other delightful people who play minor parts of major importance in this Franco-American comedy. By BOOTH TARKINGTON

A well-meaning bachelor tries to relieve the plight of a man hemmed in by his wife's relatives and dominated by a sister-in-law with a "female-infallibility-complex." The setting is one of those quiet little cities of the Middle West which Mr. Tarkington knows so well, where Hon. Chanley (Worm) Orde visits an old classmate, Bertram (Bum) Hastie. What happens provides a story with delightful Tarkington humor.

MACHADO LAYS CUBAN UNREST TO ECONOMIC CRISIS

Appeals to People Not to Become Panicky.

BY GEN. GERARDO MACHADO.
President of Cuba.
[Written for the Associated Press.]

HAVANA, June 3.—Cuba at the present moment is facing a great crisis—a crisis greater than at any other time in its history—yet without political origin. Economic distress, which is searing the whole civilized world, has visited with peculiar intensity this island republic because of its unique position as a one crop country, and the Latin mind is perhaps quicker than any other to attribute economic ills to administration faults.

When I became president of Cuba six years ago I realized that the task might be a thankless one. During the wartime inflation period, when sugar was king, the people of Cuba acquired expensive tastes because they could afford them, but every economist knows that temporary prosperity is generally false prosperity and that its momentary brilliance makes the shadows which come afterwards seem deeper than before.

Says He's Too Tolerant.

My political enemies started making capital of the economic straits we have encountered. The petition for my resignation was but one of the least important of the moves made by the more timorous.

My greatest sin in directing the government of Cuba is that I have been too tolerant. My enemies, nevertheless, have pictured me as a dictator with an insatiable lust for power. This is not true and they know it. I am a patriot, a man of liberal ideals, and as such I could never attain the heights of egotism a dictatorship implies.

Warns Against Panic.

Cuba at the present time needs to do but one thing; avoid becoming panicky during this period of economic stress and work together to survive it in the best manner possible. All Cubans should work together to prevent agitation evolving into chaos.

What this nation is going through now the whole world is experiencing in a lesser degree. Cuba enjoyed the music during the famous "dance of the millions;" now it must be content to listen to slower and sadder strains for a while until the period of convalescence, already started, can be completed and Cuba's economic ills be cured.

STATE FILES SUITS IN RENEWED BATTLE OVER LAKE ZURICH

State's Attorney A. V. Smith of Lake county yesterday renewed the state's legal battle to keep Lake Zurich and other lakes in Lake county free for public use.

JUDGE SHURTLEFF.

At the prosecutor's request, Judge Edward D. Shurtleff, sitting at Woodstock, entered an order for a new temporary injunction restraining property owners at Lake Zurich from interfering with the public use of the lake. This new injunction replaced a previous injunction which was entered in 1929 and expired yesterday.

Following this action State's Attorney Smith filed a new suit at Waukegan seeking to wrest title of the land underlying the lake from Lake Zurich property owners and securing the title for the state. The chief defendants are August Froelich, former mayor of the village of Lake Zurich, and Mrs. Marguerite Pearce, a resident, each holding large parcels of property. There are also 45 other defendants.

A previous legal battle over ownership of the lake properties was won by Mrs. Pearce and Mr. Froelich when Judge Shurtleff held that their title to the land at the bottom of the lake was good. At that time the court pointed out that the suit should not have been brought by the summer colonists at the lake but by the state's attorney alone. This led to the prosecutor's action yesterday.

WOMAN DIES OF STAB WOUND.

Mrs. Mae Williams, 37 years old, wife of Maurice Williams, an official of the Artcraft Improvement company, 3407 North Crawford avenue, died in the Illinois sanitarium yesterday from an illness developing from a stab wound inflicted by herself May 1 while despondent over ill health.

EGYPT SEETHES; FEAR RIOTING BY FOES OF PREMIER

May Try Violence to Break Up Parliament.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CAIRO, Egypt, June 3.—With the senatorial elections to follow a week after those last Monday for the chamber of deputies, a state of high tension exists in Cairo. It is feared Nahas Pasha and other Wafd [Liberal party] opposition leaders will set loose a storm of violence to prevent parliament from assembling, thus discrediting Premier Sidky Pasha's government and force British intervention to restore order. In all respects Egypt's political horizon seems more clouded now than before the elections.

To keep the Wafd leaders from going out into the country to stir up their constituents, troops are still kept at the Cairo station, preventing any Wafd orators from leaving town.

Plans Appeal to London.

At the same time Mohammed Mahmoud Pasha, Wafd leader, is leaving for London tomorrow to protest against Sidky Pasha's government on the ground that it has gained popular ill will and is therefore a menace to order. He will plead for the relinquishment of any support given to the government by the British.

Sidky Pasha declared today that he is highly pleased with the outcome of the elections and well prepared to cope with any trouble that the Wafd leaders might raise.

"Egypt today is quiet and orderly after the elections, which shows how much the Wafd is losing in its appeal to the Egyptian people," he said. "They have had enough of political maneuvering and want capable and efficient administration of the country's interests, which my government is able to give them, along with the newly elected parliament. I hope the true situation here will be understood by foreign opinion."

Parliament Opens June 23.

Parliament will be convened on June 23, Sidky Pasha said. It will be opened by King Fuad, whose speech from the throne is now being prepared. It will be in session about a month. The premier said he has not yet considered what subjects will be brought up for first consideration.

When asked whether among the early measures would be one to bring about resumption of negotiations for a treaty with the British, Sidky Pasha replied.

"I cannot say. That is on the slate, but I cannot say when the problem will be definitely approached."

The prime minister spoke just after a cabinet meeting, and the minister of war and minister of communications were still in his office. They are Tewfik Pasha Doss and Tewfik Pasha Rifat.

Jokes About Revolution.

"Well, you expected to find a revolution in Egypt over the elections," said Tewfik Pasha Doss jokingly. "Next time let us know and we will try to fix up something.

And the Wafd leads may help him do this in all seriousness if they can ever get out of town past Sidky Pasha's soldiers. They indicate around the Wafd club here that they are not going to sit still and do nothing. Tonight Nahas Pasha, Wafd president, issued another proclamation calling the elections a fraud.

EVIDENCE GIVEN TO JURY IN NEW CANAL INQUIRY

Evidence was submitted yesterday to the grand jury on which it is expected a new indictment may be voted against Timothy J. Crowe, former president of the sanitary board, and nine men who served under him.

The evidence was presented by Assistant State's Attorney Jo Calvin Webb, and consisted entirely of transcripts of testimony heard by previous juries, and on which the original indictment charging a graft conspiracy was returned.

If a new indictment is to be effective, prosecutors say, they must be returned within six days, because of the statute of limitations. Renewed action in the case was prompted by Judge Joseph B. David's ruling this week that the old indictment was valid, except for three counts which he quashed.

Temperature Rises to 85; More Warm Weather Today

After a sultry afternoon in which the mercury rose to 85 degrees at 5 p. m., the weather man last night predicted continued warm weather for today, with some likelihood of showers. Tomorrow will be unsettled and cooler, Forecaster C. A. Donnel said, with showers early in the day.

ERMANS CLAIM FRENCH PLANES SPY ON FORTS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, June 3.—Three French naval hydroplanes today flew low over the fortified islands of Borkum, Norderney and Juist. The Berlin press tonight charges that this was a "planned investigation of Germany's coastal defenses."

A French military plane was forced down by motor trouble near Enkenbach, Palatinate, this afternoon. The two occupants, who were detained, claim they lost they way, but observers allege that two other French planes also flew over the district and returned to France.

The government will lodge a protest at Paris.

CONVICT CORBETT OF BEATING UP FLYER IN 3 HOURS

Realtor Faces Prison for Attack on Aviator.

New York, June 3.—[Special.]—It took a jury in Bronx County court today three hours and twenty-three minutes to find James Morgan Corbett, Boston real estate man, guilty of assault in the third degree.

Corbett, charged by James Quinn, aviator, with leading an attack upon him at a cottage in the Upper Bronx last year, stood quietly before County Judge James M. Barrett while the jurors filed in. He gulped once while the foreman, David Weiss, reported the verdict.

Will Be Sentenced June 19.

Corbett was remanded for sentence June 19, on which day his three codefendants, Arthur Hamel, Edward Kline, and Edward Kendall, all of whom pleaded guilty on Monday, will also be sentenced. Attorney Edward J. Darragh said he would reserve motions for bail and a new trial until that time.

In charging the jury, Judge Barrett ordered them to ignore the domestic difficulties of Corbett in reaching their decision. Quinn was once named corespondent by the realtor in a divorce suit.

Corbett is liable to sentence to the penitentiary for as long as three years. Hamel, Kendall and Kline, who pleaded guilty to the original charge, face terms of from two and one-half to five years.

Wife "Somewhere in N. Y."

After the conviction, Martin Frank, assistant district attorney who conducted the prosecution, revealed that he had undertaken a "thorough search" for Mrs. Corbett, the former Philomena Silva, whose whereabouts remain a mystery. He said it had been learned that she was "somewhere in the vicinity of Greater New York," engaged as a governess or teacher in a private family.

Corbett had declared his sole motive in hiring the bungalow at Throgs Neck was to get information about his missing wife.

'ASKS DIVORCE

MRS. HELEN E. KEEBLER.

Gilbert E. Keebler, head of the E. F. Keebler & Co., real estate, was sued for divorce in the Superior court yesterday by Mrs. Helen E. Keebler, 1320 North State parkway. Mrs. Keebler charges cruelty and alleges that on one occasion her husband pushed her off the porch of their summer home at Great Lakes.

The Keeblers were married April 15, 1926, at Pasadena, Cal., and separated last Feb. 18, according to the bill. They have a son, Gilbert E. Jr., 2 years old. Mrs. Keebler asks the court to grand her the custody of the child and suitable alimony.

Keebler is the son of the late Edward F. Keebler, who founded the firm bearing his name in 1883. The company specializes in renting and property management.

Slaying Case Against Union Agent Delayed

Frank Mast, assistant state's attorney, was granted a delay until June 11 by Judge Matthew D. Hartigan in Felony court yesterday to allow the prosecutor time to prepare evidence against Benjamin J. Weber, business agent for the window washers' union, charged with the killing of Daniel Agoa, secretary of the Window and Building Cleaners' Contracting association. The state is preparing to prosecute the business agent, even though a coroner's jury freed Weber on the ground that the slaying was in self-defense. Weber's bond was set at $10,000.

MAN CONVICTED OF KILLING DANCE HALL HOSTESS

New York, June 4 (Thursday).—[Special.]—Rudolph C. Duringer, the 23 year old Ossining truck man accused of deliberately shooting Virginia Brannen, a dance hall hostess, and throwing her over a wall to die, early this morning was found guilty of murder in the first degree.

Justice Albert Cohn, who presided at his trial, did not set a date for the death sentence which the law requires him to impose.

The jury had been out eight hours and forty minutes. The question whether Duringer actually deliberated the murder, even if for a few moments, apparently accounted for the long delay in reaching a verdict. When the jurors returned to the courtroom for the second time one juror asked if a distinction could be made between a few seconds' deliberation and a shooting on the spur of the moment.

Justice Cohn said such a distinction existed and that it should be made in considering the verdict.

Fires Gun; Barricades Home Against Police

Threats to use tear gas bombs forced the surrender last night of Charles E. Parcill, 45 years old, 5257 Crystal street, after he had barricaded his home. Parcill, owner of a billiard hall at Madison street and Harlem avenue, Forest Park, returned home last night and got into a dispute with his wife, Rose, according to police. He fired a shot into the ceiling. Neighbors notified the Austin station and twenty policemen responded. Parcill was locked up on a disorderly conduct charge.

SERVICE BOARD FIRES COP FOR GARAGESHOOTING

Policeman Herbert L. Davis, who staged a private wild west act on May 14 when he entered a garage and started shooting at the feet of the night attendant, was dismissed from the force yesterday on charges of intoxication by the civil service commission.

Two other patrolmen and a station engineer were dismissed, making a total of seven members of the police department who have been dismissed in the two weeks since Richard J. Collins took office as president of the new commission and announced a cleanup policy.

Davis, assigned to the Stanton avenue station, admitted that he had fired his revolver in the garage at 3635 Indiana avenue, but denied the charges of the attendant, William Barnes, that he had used Barnes as a target.

The other two policemen dismissed yesterday were also found guilty of intoxication on duty. They are Patrolmen Maurice J. Broderick of the Irving Park district and William H. McDaniel of the Brighton Park district. William H. Clowry, station engineer, was dismissed for absenting himself from duty without leave.

This Is the Season When Thomas Grows Hair Faster Than at Any Other Time

"It is a well known phenomenon that in the summer the growth of hair is more rapid," says Dr. Arnold Lorand, Vienna Dermatologist.

THAT Hair grows faster in the summer than at any other season is an established scientific fact. You can take advantage of this seasonal peculiarity by starting Thomas' hair and scalp treatment at once.

Your hair will respond more quickly to this famous proved method of treatment now than at any other time. Within an unusually short time your dandruff will disappear, hairfall will stop, and new hair will actually be visible on the thin and bald spots. Call at the Thomas' office and talk your problem over with the specialist in charge. He will gladly examine your scalp without charge or obligation and frankly tell you what Thomas' treatment can do for you.

Why Be Like This? When This Can Be Yours?

Examination Free

This is also the season when Nature forces you to shed more matured hair than any other time. To have a good head of hair, your scalp must immediately replace that hair which you are losing with new, live, vigorous hair.

Your scalp cannot possibly do this if you have dandruff, if your hair is abnormally dry or too oily, or if your scalp itches. You should, therefore, learn for yourself if your scalp is or is not capable of replacing the hair which is being shed. To learn these important facts about your hair, consult a skilled Thomas' scalp expert today. He will advise you, without charge or obligation, as to the exact condition of your hair and scalp. He will show you how this reliable, dignified treatment ends dandruff, stops abnormal hair loss and regrows hair on the thin or bald spots. Come in today and learn the truth about your hair.

THE "hair root" (papilla) rarely dies. Even in long-standing cases of baldness this inactive source of hair growth is alive and ready to respond to proper scientific stimulation. Thomas' treatment skillfully supplies this necessary stimulation and makes it possible for hair to push through the scalp and again grow normally.

Local scalp disorders—such as extreme dryness or oiliness, dandruff, or irritable itching—which cause the "hair roots" to become inactive, are readily overcome by Thomas' treatment. Sixteen years of success and more than a quarter-million satisfied clients recommend Thomas' scalp treatment. It is physiologically sound—it produces positive benefits. Thomas' can help you, too, to end dandruff, stop falling hair, or to regrow hair on the thin or bald spots. Call today for a free scalp examination. Learn for yourself how this reliable dignified scalp service is benefiting others and exactly how it can help you.

Your Scalp Is Entitled to 121,630 HAIRS

Does It Have Them?

If you are a blonde your scalp should have 140,000 hairs; if a red-head, 90,000 will suffice, while a brunette needs 120,000 to meet present day requirements. The average healthy head of hair should have 121,630 hairs.

Nature provides your scalp with the necessary structure to grow this quantity of hair, but you yourself must help this hair-growing structure to function properly. If you have dandruff, if your hair is falling, or if your scalp is itchy you are surely on the road to baldness.

Let Thomas help your scalp make its quota. Thomas will overcome your falling hair and actually promote hair growth on the thin and bald spots. Each day Thomas is helping more than 1,600 persons to retain or regain their normal heads of hair—and can do the same for you. Call today for a free scalp examination.

This man is a Thomas' scalp specialist. He KNOWS the symptoms of the 14 external causes of baldness and KNOWS how each should be treated. Come in today and let him examine your scalp—without charge and frankly tell you what Thomas' treatment can do to help you have a good head of hair.

EXPERTS SURVEY INDUSTRY SITES IN CANAL CRUISE

Big Factory Development on Waterway Seen.

WALTER MILLS.

Eighteen members of the Chicago sanitary district's real estate advisory board and one commissioner of the port of New Orleans made an inspection trip yesterday along the sanitary canal between Chicago and Joliet. The purpose of the tour, which was made in the district's yacht, Robert R., was to survey sites upon which it will be advantageous for industries to build plants when the lakes to the gulf waterway is completed within the next two years.

The sanitary district owns the land on either side of the canal as far down as the Brandon Road locks just south of Joliet and it hopes to sell sites to iron and steel companies and other concerns which may desire to build factories along the banks.

Predicts Factory Development.

As the yacht moved southwest through the canal, Walter Mills, chairman of the real estate advisory commission, predicted that some of the greatest industries of the country would build plants on the property, which is now little more than a burden to the taxpayers. He forecast that all along the valley between Chicago and Joliet, steel mills would rise and send their products down the waterway to new markets in the south.

Mr. Mills pointed out that at present it is difficult for Chicago steel manufacturers to sell their products along the gulf coast because it costs $11.40 a ton to ship by rail to New Orleans. Pittsburgh companies send their steel to the same place by barge for $4 a ton. When the new waterway is completed, Mr. Mills said, the tables will be turned, with Chicagoans transporting their products at a cost considerably less than that for their eastern rivals.

Between the Chicago and the Mississippi there will be nine locks, five in the canal and four in the Illinois river, whereas between Pittsburgh and the Mississippi there are 50 locks. Chicago is 460 miles by water from New Orleans, while Pittsburgh is 1,533. These facts, said Mr. Mills, should make it possible for Chicago to wrest the gulf coast steel trade away from the east.

Sees Much Foreign Trade.

G. M. Ahrons, the commissioner of the port of New Orleans, who went on the trip, expressed his belief that a great deal of trade from Europe and the orient would come to Chicago by way of the new waterway instead of to New York. The port charges at New Orleans are considerably lower than those along the Atlantic seaboard, and Mr. Ahrons' forecast that cargoes of marble from Italy, wood pulp from Norway, and rare foods from Japan will come up the Mississippi and the canal to Chicago.

When the party reached the dam at Lockport, it disembarked and inspected the mammoth lock which needs only a few pieces of machinery before it is ready to ease large ships over a 41 foot drop or lift them up to the crest of the dam. This is the first of the five locks along the canal, others being at Brandon Road, Dresden Island, Marseilles, and Starved Rock.

Party Taken to Locks.

After W. B. Sullivan, sanitary district engineer, had explained all the details of construction, Joliet business men met the tourists and took them in automobiles to the Brandon Road locks. The federal government has taken over this project and is rushing it to completion.

The sanitary district's real estate advisory commission, which was organized to promote the marketing of the district's property, is made up of two men from the Association of Commerce, two representing Illinois manufacturers, two from the Chicago Real Estate board, two from the Cook County Real Estate board and one from each of the railroads which cut through the sanitary district's property.

HEARING TO DECIDE KIRKLAND SENTENCE IS SET FOR JUNE 8

Valparaiso, Ind., June 3.—[Special.]—Judge Grant Crumpacker today set Monday, June 8, as the date for hearing arguments on whether Virgil Kirkland should be sentenced to 5 to 21 years in the state prison instead of one to ten in the state reformatory for assault and battery in connection with the alleged ravishment and murder of Arlene Draves, Gary High school girl.

Kirkland was brought back to the Porter county jail from the state reformatory at Pendleton yesterday, but because another case is now on trial before Judge Crumpacker the court said he would not be able to hear the Kirkland arguments this week. Judge Crumpacker told Robert G. Estill, the Lake county prosecutor who prosecuted Kirkland, to invite Attorney General James Ogden to attend the arguments.

Judge Crumpacker sentenced Kirkland to the shorter term, following his conviction last week, but the state contends the judge erred and should have imposed the 5 to 21 year terms.

Dr. Orlando Scott, medical counsel for Kirkland's defense, was fined $20 and costs, amounting to $50, by Mayor Harold J. Schenck last night on a charge of intoxication. Dr. Scott was arrested the night the jury returned the assault and battery verdict.

ROBBER OUTWITS POLICE 14 TIMES IN LOOP HOLDUPS

The police have been playing hide and seek in the loop with a bandit who specializes in robberies of candy shops, it was learned yesterday when the fourteenth robbery of the kind since May 1 was reported.

The robbery yesterday was in the Fannie May shop at 17 South Wabash avenue. The description given of the tall, thin man who took $10 from the cashier, Miss Jessie Vancil, 5719 Newport avenue, was the same given for the gunman concerned in the thirteen previous robberies.

The first robberies were in the daytime, and ten policemen were assigned to hide in candy shops during those hours. The robber shifted his calls to evening, and the assignments of police guards were also shifted. Yesterday's robbery, shortly after noon, showed that the bandit had again changed his time of operation.

Husband Takes Himself Away and Bathtub, Too

Mrs. Lillian Floring of La Grange appeared yesterday before Superior Judge Rudolph Desort and complained that her husband, Herman, had stolen the bathtub from their home. The theft occurred, the wife explained, when she and her husband separated. Judge Desort ordered the tub returned to Mrs. Floring and instructed Floring to pay her $7 a week pending settlement of her suit for divorce. The couple were married in 1919.

N. Y. Holds Man Wanted Here in Stock Fraud Case

Chicago police received word last night that New York police were holding Howard Leonard, 30 years old, who is wanted here to answer charges brought by Emma Danielson, 5727 South Wells street, that in October, 1928, he defrauded her of $10,000 through the sale of worthless stock. Leonard was held in $15,000 bail after an arraignment in New York yesterday. The bail was made operative for thirty days, awaiting arrival of extradition papers from Chicago.

PLAN PARADE OF MEAT ANIMALS TO BOOST DEMAND

Lowest Prices in Years Threaten Ruin.

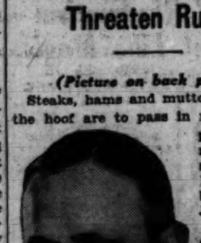
Steaks, hams and mutton chops on the hoof are to pass in review in a parade of meat animals along Michigan boulevard on June 18.



R. C. POLLOCK.

A spectacle of cattle, hogs, and sheep such as hasn't been seen on Chicago's lakefront since 1900, when the first stock show was held there, is in prospect. Plans for the show were launched yesterday at the Palmer house, where national and local leaders in agriculture, industry, banking and transportation met to seek a way out of the "critical situation" brought about by the lowest beef and pork prices in two decades.

Officials Offer Assistance.

"Meat prices have come down, and we want the consumers as well as industry and big business to know it," declared R. C. Pollock of the national live stock and meat board, who presided. Offers of assistance to live stock producers in retrieving losses that threaten half the American farm income were offered by officials representing the 54 organizations in the conference.

A telegram explaining the situation was dispatched to President Hoover, who is expected to be in the middle west at the time of the show. The President was invited to review the parade and to lend his aid to the attempts to improve the agricultural situation.

That similar parades of live stock, accompanied by massmeetings, will be scheduled in other cities after the pattern of the Chicago affair was indicated by messages received at the meeting yesterday.

Rescues Boy from River by Catching Him with Hook

While playing with several companions, Donald Hasslinger, 9 years old, of 1943 Hervey street, fell into the north branch of the river at Webster avenue last evening. Screams of his playmates brought Edward Delahanty, tender of the Chicago and North Western railway bridge fifty feet away. Delahanty caught the boy's clothes with a hook on the end of a pole. Rescue squad No. 3 of the fire department, commanded by Lieut. Eugene Canning, revived the lad.

Joseph Kwisniewski, 43 years old, was found asphyxiated yesterday in his rooms in the rear of a bakery at 1738 West 18th street, where he worked. The police believe he committed suicide by leaving the gas burners open.

EDISON SERVICE . . WHAT IT IS . . WHAT IT DOES

POWER SUPPLY FOR CHICAGO

Edison Service Equals 1,740,000 "King's Horses"

SINCE civilization began, mankind has used its best brains to escape the burden of physical toil. Power that will relieve the bone and sinew of the race from the routine tasks of existence has been the highest aim of the highest minds.

Earlier civilizations.—Babylonian, Egyptian, Greek, Roman—used slaves for Power. So did the Middle Ages, and most modern nations. But even in the earliest times superior minds wanted units of greater Power than human slaves. Naturally, they turned to animals. The humble ox was probably first to feel the yoke. Next came the horse. Then Asia tried elephants for super-Power, and Africa camels. But Europe—and after it, America—stuck to the horse.

Horses became so important in Europe that the strength of a kingdom was calculated in the number of them a ruler could command. "The King's Horses" became the yardstick of "The King's Power". It was because the horse was the recognized unit of Power that mechanical power, when it was invented (Water Power first, Steam Power next, and Electric Power last and best), was measured in horse-power.

Through EDISON SERVICE, Chicago has 1,740,000 horse-power of electrical energy ready for instant use. It is ready to light the city, turn the wheels of factories, operate transportation lines, perform a hundred tasks in the homes, stores, factories, and offices, by the pressure of a button. Few kingdoms in all history have had, throughout their realms, enough "King's Horses" to do the work required of EDISON SERVICE for Chicago alone. If the "King's Horses" had to do this work, it would require a barn of more than seven times the area of Jackson Park to stable them, and the feed bill for one year would be more than $120,000,000.

This 1,740,000 horse-power is the constant supply of Electric Power offered to Chicago by EDISON SERVICE.

COMMONWEALTH EDISON COMPANY

A Home-Owned, Home-Managed Institution

In 1892 the number of employes of Edison Service was 400. By 1910 that number had grown to 3,100. The average number of employes during 1930 was slightly more than 11,000. Our employes are residents of Chicago and taxpayers. Many of them own their own homes. The very large amount of money paid them in salaries and wages is re-spent in Chicago as it is earned.

Miss Strobel Scores in New Novel of Love

"A Woman of Fashion" Is Living Story.

BY FANNY BUTCHER.

"A WOMAN OF FASHION" is the second novel by Marion Strobel whose first, "Saturday Afternoon," was so much the groping of a poet in an unfamiliar technique that some of her critics hoped that she would give up the novel and return to her original creative work. It was, at times, beautifully written, but it wasn't at all a picture of life or a record of human emotion. It lacked vitality or what we must call "the breath of life" for want of a more exact phrase to describe a certain flatness. It was decorative rather than living writing.

Marion Strobel has proved permanently by "A Woman of Fashion" that those of her critics who thought she was not destined to be a novelist were wrong. "A Woman of Fashion" has none of the faults which its predecessor had. It is not a groping book in any sense. It has the sureness of an experienced novelist in its technique and its plot weaving. The people in it are living human beings, not lay figures upon which garlands of lovely words are draped. And it has a definite poignancy of emotion vivifying the foreground of an excellent picture of a social background. "A Woman of Fashion" is a novel about people who hold your interest without a waver. It has "It." You will probably read it from cover to cover at a sitting, just as I did, because it matters to you what is around the corner of the next page. That is the surest test of a novel's allure. If you put a novel aside with nothing more than a gentle regret, or hear the telephone bell interrupting your reading without a vigorous "damn," or think, "Tomorrow night I must finish that book," you aren't being vamped by a siren among novels. "A Woman of Fashion" puts you in no such indifferent mind. You may be able to amble through the first fifty or so pages, but once the heroine ceases to be primarily a woman of fashion and becomes a woman in love her story grips you.

It is the story of a war widow whom her husband had called "a frozen fountain," a woman of great beauty and that indefinable charm that the world calls "style" and an untouched and untouchable virginity. Life, marriage had never really touched her. She had never really known what love could be. And then suddenly she did know, and that hardest thing to put into a novel, the actual breathing of life into a soul that love does do at rare times in life and that novels too often talk about but do not make understable fact, Marion Strobel does in "A Woman of Fashion."

"A Woman of Fashion" is a story of deep, passionate love—in marriage, for poorer and for worse, but never lessening in intensity, a love that the author has managed to make terrifically real despite its inception in a scene which rather stretches the credulity of the reader.

And not only the love of the heroine for her husband, but the remoteness of the surgeon, her father-in-law, the honesty and niceness of her young sister-in-law, the plainness and the charm of her two very young stepsisters-in-law, the frank selfishness of the girls who are her fellow models in a fashionable dress shop, the eager and gentle hospitableness of the woman artist who offers her the wedding luncheon, the scared escape of her own father and mother from their inordinately beautiful daughter, all of these emotions Marion Strobel has caught with real vitality in "A Woman of Fashion." Everybody and everything in it—after the first fifty pages or so, is alive and real.

And the book has another quality which one would never have suspected it would have from "Saturday Afternoon." It is very amusing. To be entertaining is one thing in a book, but to be amusingly entertaining is a still greater blessing, and "A Woman of Fashion" is that. In most of the little things that happen in the book there is real chuckling humor. The conversation is gay. The situations have occasional farcical moments. Even the saddest moments and the one or two grim ones are not lugubrious.

"Saturday Afternoon" was an "arty" book, both in conception and in execution. "A Woman of Fashion" has no posing in it, either in plot or in style. Marion Strobel writes with the pen of a poet. She has a feeling for words and for the patterns which they make. But never in "A Woman of Fashion" does she lose herself and her story in the maze of beautiful writing, as poets are often inclined to do, just from the sheer joy of creating lovely word patterns. A less "arty" book than "A Woman of Fashion" would be hard to find. In it there is the real art of story telling done artistically.

It should be with real pride that Chicago claims its author. Marion Strobel is the wife of Dr. James Herbert Mitchell, and she has lived here all of her life.

Cardinal Dedicates Mundelein College Before Large Crowd

The dedicatory service for Mundelein college, Sheridan road at the lake, was conducted yesterday by Cardinal Mundelein in the presence of 3,000 dignitaries of the Catholic church, students, and friends. The school is a fifteen story structure for girls, on the Loyola university campus, and has been in operation since last September, conducted by the Sisters of Charity of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

After musical selections by college groups the cardinal pushed a button, which illuminated the pipe organ which he had given to the college. Cardinal Mundelein in his address said that the college was founded in part because of "the emergence of women from the home into business and the professional world, and they should be trained as leaders." The dedication was closed with a solemn benediction of the blessed sacrament.

Congressional Library Gets Books of Late Czar

Washington, D. C., June 3.—(AP)—Books once thumbed by Russian czars now rest on Congressional library shelves. The purchase of 1,632 volumes from the winter palace library of Nicholas II., the late ruler, was announced today by Librarian Herbert Putnam. They were brought to America by a New York bookseller and acquired by the library. Though most of them bear the bookplate of the last czar, one volume dates back to Peter the Great. The collection is unique, Putnam said, because almost all the volumes were presentation copies.

A Lady Dares and She Wins in This Movie

Billie Dove Pleases; Story Is Second Rate.

"THE LADY DARED."
The lady cared,
SO—the lady dared!
Produced by Warner Brothers.
Directed by William Beaudine.
Presented at the Orpheum theater.

THE CAST.

Margaret Townsend.....Billy Dove
Charles Townsend.....Sidney Blackmer
Jack Norton.....Conway Tearle
Julianne Boone-Fleming....Judith Voselli
Seton Boone-Fleming..Cosmo Kyrle-Bellew
Forrell.....Lloyd Ingraham
Butler.....Ivan Simpson
Chambermaid.....Mathilde Comont

By Mae Tinée.

Good morning!

The lady dared, for two reasons. Her reputation was at stake and she wanted her husband to win that promotion.

WHAT she dared, you'll have to learn from the picture.

The scenes of this story are laid in a South American city. Sidney Blackmer is seen as the American consul stationed there. Billie Dove is his wife. Conway Tearle's life is black, but, O, he has a little white heart! And what a confession the good woman he has "met too late" wrings from him!

At soul he is a man to trust,
He only sins because he must.

These three, Billie and Sidney and Conway, have the plum rôles. Judith Voselli and Cosmo Kyrle-Bellew, as a pair of hard boiled adventurers, run them close seconds. Lloyd Ingraham Ivan Simpson, and Mathilde Comont do well with the minor parts with which they were intrusted.

Billie Dove is, as usual, charming to the eye. Her work is pleasing, though not brilliant. Mr. Tearle, now deserving of the term "heavy set," didn't think much of the scenario, and shows it. Mr. Blackmer is reminiscent of a precocious little boy acting in a school play. Judith Voselli and Cosmo Kyrle-Bellew prove capable.

Direction and photography, sets, scenery, sound, etc., are certainly adequate to the story, which is second rate.

See you tomorrow!

Presbyterians Close Convention; Receive New Pledge of Union

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 3.—(AP)—The general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States voted to hold its 1932 meeting in Denver, Colo., and adjourned the session here today.

The general assembly appeared unmoved by the action of the southern church, in voting to discontinue negotiations for organic union with other Presbyterian denominations. The action of the southern group was described, however, as the work of "reactionaries" within the southern church by Dr. James E. Clarke, editor of the Presbyterian Advance, of Nashville, Tenn. Within a few moments after his statement was made, Dr. Lewis S. Mudge of Philadelphia, moderator of the assembly, announced that word from officials of the United Presbyterian Church, in session at Youngstown, O., said they welcomed moves to organic union.

The assembly formally commended "the effort on the part of a group of substantial citizens throughout the country to establish and maintain a national daily newspaper to be published in New York."

Kansas City, Mo., June 3.—(AP)—The executive committee today declined to place before the Northern Baptist convention, in session here, resolutions objecting to pronouncements of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ on birth control, international relations, and labor strikes.

In making known its decision the committee stated "its conviction of the importance of some symbol of the essential unity of Protestantism, and that in this juncture the federal council is most suitable as such a symbol."

The objections were voiced by the Rhode Island state convention, which urged the general convention to examine its relations to the council, of which it is a member, declaring that council "seems to have departed considerably from its original purpose."

Mary Pickford Offers a Wisecrack About Separation Rumors

Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford dispelled rumors of a possible separation that have been going around lately when they stepped off a train here yesterday morning arm in arm and looking very happily married.

Mary smiled and patted Doug's arm while she declared: "Of course we're separated. Can't you see that I'm in Kalamazoo and he's in California?"

Doug said he might release pictures of his hunting trip in Indo-China. The two are on their way back to Hollywood after some months abroad.

Lunch Funds Gone; Women Feed Los Angeles Pupils

Los Angeles, Cal., June 3.—(AP)—Thousands of women put up lunches and sent them to 10,000 school children here today after the announcement yesterday of the Tenth district Parent-Teachers congress that its funds had been exhausted with expenditures of more than $200,000. Mrs. James K. Lyttle, president of the Tenth district, revealed that under rules of the community chest, which contributes a part of the lunch and welfare money, no public appeal for funds is permitted until the next community chest drive in September. A city-wide response today gave the Parent-Teacher welfare workers hopes that sufficient milk and lunches might be provided to feed the hungry children until school closes.

Witherspoon to Supervise Opera Affairs

Will Be Named Director of Artistic Work.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

What would seem to be a rather drastic change in the artistic policy of the Civic Opera company was indicated yesterday in a statement from Samuel Insull, president of the organization, announcing that Herbert Witherspoon is immediately to become a member of the company in charge of its artistic affairs.

Herbert M. Johnson will continue as business manager of the company, the statement adds, and will also have charge of the company's post-season tours in place of Clark A. Shaw, who recently resigned from that position.

"At the next meeting of the board of trustees," said Mr. Insull, "it is my intention to recommend the election of these two as officers of the company: Herbert M. Johnson to be vice president in charge of business; Herbert Witherspoon to be vice president in charge of opera.

"Since the resignation of Mr. Polacco," added Mr. Insull, "the company has not had a general musical director, and it is not intended to reëstablish the position under that name. Instead, Mr. Witherspoon's selection to take charge of opera will give him a wide latitude on what may be called the production side of the institution—the personnel of the company, the selection of operas to be produced, the manner of presentation, and all that goes to make up a season of opera in Chicago and on tour."

Mr. Witherspoon has been a resident of Chicago for several years, having come here from New York, where he had made a home and reputation as operatic artist of note, as instructor, lecturer, and author. His operatic experience was extensive. He was a member of Henry W. Savage's Castle Square opera for two seasons, beginning in 1897, resigning at the end of the term for purposes of further study, and from 1903 to 1917 a singer of first basso rôles with the Metropolitan Opera company. During these periods he appeared in between seventy-five and eighty operas and made his special reputation in the works of Wagner.

For a number of seasons he made recital tours throughout the United States in addition to his operatic appearances. He came to Chicago in 1925 as president of the Chicago Musical college, where he remained for four years. He then established his own studio, where he has divided his time between teaching and nation-wide lecture tours. In all of his activities he has been a scholar and a personality in music. Three seasons ago he established the musical organization known as the Bohemians of Chicago, patterned after the association of the same name in New York. He is the author of two treatises on the art of singing, the president of the Chicago Concert Band association, and the founder of the American Academy of Teachers of Singing.

Another late blooming spring musical event came into being at Kimball hall last night when Dorothy Bloom, pianist, and Mildred Orne, soprano, both classifying in the genus of young artists, gave a joint recital. But though young they were both artists with something to say to their public. Miss Bloom is not only an excellent technician, but with a musical personality that sometimes broke through customary restraints and generally exhibited something interesting, even in Bach and Beethoven, two composers whose message is by custom firmly fixed. Miss Orne, pleasant of voice and accomplished in languages, is also a musician whose sound sense and warm emotion made the operation of hearing her an entirely pleasurable task.

Movie Gossip from Hollywood

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., June 3.—[Special.]—After a year's battle against tuberculosis, Renee Adoree has made sufficient progress in a sanitarium at Prescott, Ariz., to permit her to receive one visitor at her bedside each month from Hollywood. The actress herself has not been out of bed for seven months. Her physicians recently sent back an optimistic report which predicts her gradual return to normal if she continues to do what the doctors tell her.

One of the best known motion picture producers in Hollywood has made Miss Adoree's case his personal concern. He is paying the heavy expense of her long treatment. Miss Adoree herself was destitute when she was removed to Prescott, having disposed of jewels, clothes and prized possessions in the effort to care for herself in Los Angeles. Strangely enough, the producer who is Miss Adoree's present good samaritan never was a close friend of the actress when she was well and famous. His sympathies were enlisted by a mutual friend, another actress, after Renee became ill and poor.

Greta Garbo's contract with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer expires in about seven months, and her employers are in the dark as to whether Greta will or will not decide to quit pictures. Greta is one girl in Hollywood who shrouds her thoughts and intentions. The only hint she has given so far is that she will go to Europe when her contract is up.

The golden days are back at United Artists, for the cast in "The Greeks Had a Name for It," which Lowell Sherman is directing and acting in, includes those headlined blondes, Ina Claire, Carole Lombard, and Joan Blondell. Miss Blondell replaces Jean Harlow, who at first was supposed to put the main feminine sizzle in the piece. David Manners gets one of the chief male parts.

Clara Kimball Young, who has been living quietly in Beverly Hills following her marriage to a Toronto doctor, emerges from domesticity to play a subordinate rôle in "Women Go On Forever," which Walter Lang is directing for James Cruze productions. The cast includes Marian Nixon [Mrs. Ed Hillman].

Paul Cavanaugh, who did the other man with Constance Bennett in "Born To Love," today was assigned the part opposite Ann Harding in her new Pathe vehicle "Devotion."

"The Pickup," by Louis Weitzenkorn, in Lily Damita's new starring vehicle. R. K. O. will make it. Damita has had an offer from Casino de Paris to return to the famous French theater where she was a dancing girl when first brought to Hollywood two and a half years ago, and take the same kind of a permanent starring rôle which Mistinguette and Chevalier occupied there. She does not know if she will accept. If she does it will have to be under some kind of an arrangement with Samuel Goldwyn, who discovered Lily, brought her here and had the foresight to tie up her services for some years to come.

Joe Farnham, veteran film writer whose plots, scenario adaptations or titles appeared in such hits as "Unholy Three," "The Big Parade," "The Big House" and "Tell It to the Marines," died last night of heart disease. He was a New York newspaper reporter until he came to Hollywood twelve years ago. He was a founder of the motion picture academy of arts and science.

Dr. Fishbein Warns Against Quacks in Treatment of Deaf

Warnings against seeking the services of quacks and against intermarriage among the congenital deaf were issued to the convention of the American Federation of Organizations for the Hard of Hearing by Dr. Morris Fishbein in the Congress hotel last night. Dr. Fishbein is editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association.

"We must discourage consanguinous marriage where there is a family history of congenital deafness," Dr. Fishbein said. "Where there is such a history of this disease in both parents, there is reason to believe that a considerable number of the children will be affected."

The speaker attacked quacks who presume to cure congenital deafness by electrical belts and bottles of alleged magical waters. He also held that airplane flights have not been established as a cure. "Airplane flights for the healing of deafness have resulted only in the deaths of some fifty children whose deafness was due to congenital disease or severe infection," Dr. Fishbein said.

Vets Re-Live Civil War Days; Parade Today

Recall Battle Thrills at Aurora Convention.

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

The Illinois boys who left their plowshares and their rail splitting to be mustered in as Union soldiers 70 years ago, the youngest of them leaving their McGuffey readers to go as drummer boys, continued yesterday to relive the glory and the bitterness of the long civil war in the state G. A. R. encampment in Aurora.

T. E. O'SHAUGHNESSEY.

Today, the final day of the annual encampment, the annual parade will come as a climax of the three days' convention. Those of them who can will march, but the majority must ride in automobiles.

The stirring names of Bull Run, Fort Sumter, Fredericksburg, Antietam, Chancellorsville, Manassas, Baton Rouge, Atlanta, Gettysburg, Chickamauga, Vicksburg, and Franklin were heard on many a lip yesterday. Famous names of the war, Grant, Sherman, McClellan, Logan, Meade, McDowell; the brave woman, Mother Bickerdyke, head of the volunteer nurses; southern generals, Stonewall Jackson, Lee, Johnston, Beauregard, Hood, and Early were spoken of familiarly.

Meanwhile the double snare of drums and the double squeal of fifes echoed through the streets of Aurora.

"John Brown's body lies a-mouldering in his grave, but his soul goes marching on!" and "Glory, glory, hallelujah; glory, glory hallelujah!" resounded in the streets.

There were other tunes, too, played by T. E. O'Shaughnessey, 2349 Farragut avenue, Chicago, who was a drummer boy with the 53d Illinois infantry when he was 10 years old, and his son, T. E. Jr., world war veteran, who played the fife. "Bruce's Quickstep," "Wrecker's Daughter," "Marching Through Georgia," and others were struck up. Then Tom McNally, who ran away and joined the 2d Rhode Island when he was 13, and reënlisted with the 1st D. C. regiment at Washington when his papa found where he was, took the drum.

No one rolled the snare drum with more vigor than did W. H. H. Baker, 83, of Freeport, who played the dinner call again as he had done when he was 14 years old, before he swapped his drum for a musket and "a round of cartridges."

A chief event of the day was the sixty-fifth annual reunion of the old 36th Illinois regiment in Memorial hall. Thirty members are living, but only six men were able to attend. James M. Kennedy, Aurora, is president. This regiment, made up of Kane county and Fox river valley boys, was the first regiment to enlist after Lincoln called for three year volunteers. The first call had been for men to serve three months.

At the end of the three years, said F. A. Whitney, 85, of Sandwich, the regiment was quartered in the mountains near Knoxville. It was a bitter winter day, the ink was frozen and had to be held over the fire before the men could sign their reënlistment papers. Their food for days had been a few grains of corn each, yet every man except the wounded reënlisted.

Among the wounded was Terris Johnson, Newark, 93 years old, who, he said lay on the battlefield at Perryville, Tenn., three days before his brother found him and drove him in a wagon to a hospital.

Mrs. Mary Sylla Davery, of Elgin, daughter of the late William F. Davery, repeated what her father had told her of the army mules, who during the seige of Knoxville ate harness and wheels in their hunger.

In the corridors of hotels and meeting halls the blue coated men exchanged experiences. J. H. Crowder of Bethany, the only one of five brothers who survived the war, told of coming to the rescue of a pretty woman in Pine Bluff, Ark. Some Union men asked her to make biscuits. Used to slaves, she mixed flour and water and tried to bake it. The men laughed at her, and she was weeping when Crowder arrived. He slipped in the kitchen, unknown to his fellows, and showed her how to make biscuit. Crowder added that it was his township, Bethany, which sent more soldiers to war than it had voters.

Election of officers will be today. J. H. Campbell of Chicago; H. C. First, Rock Island; William N. Morris, Litchfield, and C. O. Brown, Chicago, were nominated for commander yesterday. G. R. Walker of Aurora was the only nominee for senior vice commander; S. M. Titus of Chicago for medical director, and William P. Wright, Chicago, was appointed to succeed himself as trustee.

Polo Matches Will Enliven Lake Forest

BY THALIA

CAN you picture Lake Forest's summer peacefulness disrupted into a perfect fervor of activity?

It seems that the international polo challenge match and its attendant festivities . . . mark them! . . . to take place at Onwentsia and thereabouts in mid-July, will be something absolutely unprecedented. It makes you slightly dizzy to hear about how important and special it's all going to be.

In the first place, the polo itself is to be superlative. With all due respect to the local players, they say it will be the finest playing that has ever been seen in the middle west. The teams participating are two of the outstanding ones in the world, the Santa Paula team from Argentina and the Old Aiken four, composed of eastern college men [3 Yale and 1 Harvard] who have been playing polo since their prep school days at Aiken. The matches are to be on Saturday afternoon, July 11, Wednesday, the 15th, and the following Saturday. The matches are to be open to the public, and the grandstands are being enlarged to take care of the large audiences expected.

Fifteen Committees Plan for Extras.

Just what the extra doings are to be is not yet definitely announced, but that they are to be magnitudinous is evidenced by the fact that Mrs. Howard Linn, chairman of the arrangements, is to have FIFTEEN—no less—committees working on them. The players, besides being so adept at their sport, are all most dashing gentlemen and are to be entertained and shown about in terrific style, as I understand it. The Old Aiken team, composed of Elbridge T. Gerry, James P. Mills, Stewart B. Iglehart, and J. C. Rathborne Jr., are all scions of prominent eastern polo players [Mr. Rathborne was here last winter with the Tally Glee club, of which he is president, and went to Ghita Watson's and Fayette Smith's debut ball] and are frightfully important and attractive. The South Americans likewise will doubtless make thrilling guests. Their names are Alfredo Harrington, Jose Reynal, Manuel Andrada, and Juan Reynal. When they were here last year and defeated the famous Midwick Country club team for the Pacific open championship, they left twenty-five of the horses in this country to be acclimatized. They are to be shipped on here next week, and with six "gauchos" will be quartered at Onwentsia until the arrival of the players. The latter are to arrive in this country with about thirty more steeds on July 1, and shortly afterward will come here.

The Onwentsia polo committee, Maj. Frederic McLaughlin, chairman, Charles F. Glore, and Earle H. Reynolds, is arranging the whole exciting business.

Mrs. Emilius Dudley Closing Her Apartment.

The chances are that Mrs. Emilius C. Dudley and her artist-daughter, Miss Katharine Dudley, will be seeing Chicago in the future only on occasional trips. They're here for a few weeks from Paris, where they have been for the last two years, and are engaged in dismantling their apartment at 249 East Walton place and seeing that the furnishings are packed away in storage. They plan to occupy their Paris apartment for at least a year longer, anyway, and although their plans past that point are not formulated, it's probable that they will continue to live abroad. Miss Dudley is working hard at her painting, and hopes to have a show some time next year. In between sessions of packing, they are seeing their Chicago friends, and are to be here until July 1, sailing soon after that.

The Chicago Vassar club is to give a "post season tea." [Isn't that a cute idea?] for Edith Meiser, a Vassar graduate who is in the cast of the Theatre Guild's "He" at Vassar house on Friday afternoon. Miss Meiser is quite unusually clever, one of the other Vassarites tells me. She has been in lots of theatrical things, and in her spare moments does radio advertising [she is the feminine voice in the Sherlock Holmes programs]. While she is in Chicago she is staying at the Drake, and spending weekends with old college mates. O, yes, and in private life, she is Mrs. Thomas McKnight of New York.

Summer Activities; Some Graduations.

By the bye—Somebody strolling about at Lake Geneva noticed that Jessalin Peterkin's studio in the flower garden of the Daniel Peterkin estate is open and has the appearance of being ready for work [the Peterkins arrived at the lake last week-end] . . . The Henry S. Buntings of Lake Forest are suffering to Virginia Beach, Va., where they have taken a house for the summer. Their son, Van, will join them at Pottstown, and their daughter, Elizabeth, who is attending Holton Arms school, will go on with them from Washington, D. C. . . . The Wilbur Helms of Evanston and their daughters, Virginia and Marjorie, are to leave by motor on June 10 for Princeton to attend the graduation of their son, Standiford, who is to enter Northwestern medical school in the fall. After the commencement they will spend several weeks motoring through New England and Canada.

BRIDE AT HOTEL WEDDING

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Miss Florence Hoffman, daughter of Mrs. Henry Frederick Hoffman of Minneapolis, and George L. Plamondon, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Plamondon of 2300 Lincoln Park West, were married at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the Belden-Stratford hotel. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Msgr. Francis Rempe of St. Clement's church. A reception for relatives and a few intimate friends followed the wedding service. For the simple, brief service the bride wore a Vionnet frock of slipper blue and white and a blue and white tucked ribbon hat with a diminutive blue nose veil. Her flowers were gardenias and lilies of the valley. Her only attendant, Miss Dorothy Hickey, wore a black and white frock, also of Vionnet design, and a corsage of orchids and sweet peas. The groom was attended by his two brothers, A. D. Jr. and William Nelson Plamondon. The newlyweds will sail from Montreal on Saturday on the Empress of Britain for a six weeks' trip abroad.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., June 3.—[Special.]—Mrs. Hoover this afternoon gave an al fresco tea to the members of the Woman's National Press club, receiving them at 5 o'clock. She had the assistance of her secretaries, Mrs. Butler and Miss Mildred Hall.

The British ambassador and Lady Lindsay entertained at dinner tonight at the embassy to celebrate the birthday anniversary of King George V. Lady Lindsay received with the ambassador, but was not present at table. Among the guests were Secretary Stimson, the chief of staff, Gen. MacArthur; the chief of naval operations, Admiral Pratt; the Irish minister, Mr. MacWhite; the undersecretary of state, William R. Castle Jr.; Admiral Bristol, Gen. Connor, Pierre Boal; the charge d'affaires of Canada, Hume Wrong; D. W. Dowe, the official secretary of the Australian commission in New York, and the members of the embassy staff.

Mrs. Walter R. Tuckerman entertained a company at luncheon today at the National Woman's Country club, and had among her guests Mrs. Frederick H. Gillett, Mrs. Mark Bristol, Mrs. Frederick McCormick of Chicago, Mrs. Henry A. Strong, and Mrs. Lewis Stewart.

Mrs. M. A. Richardson of Lake Forest, Ill., and her daughter, Miss Jean Richardson, who have been at the Mayflower a short time, went today to Annapolis for the June week festivities at the Naval academy.

WEDDINGS

Mrs. William J. Cowan of 8200 Ellis avenue announces the marriage yesterday morning of her daughter, Miss Leila Mildred Romesburg, to George P. Johnson of Boston. The ceremony was performed at St. Bride's church. After a month's wedding trip through the east and south, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will return here to live.

Toscanini Has Passport to Leave Milan for Germany

MILAN, Italy, June 3.—(AP)—Arturo Toscanini, noted drector, will leave June 15 for Bayreuth, Germany, members of his family said today, and his passport will be in order. The Bologna incident, they said, in which Toscanini was severely used because he refused to direct the playing of the Fascist national anthem before one of his concerts, apparently has been forgotten. Toscanini said he had recovered from the nervous strain of the Bologna incident and a rheumatic attack which followed it.

Schools Open Exhibition at Art Institute

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

There was a formal opening yesterday afternoon in Blackstone hall of the Art institute of the work which has been done this year in the Chicago public schools from the elementary grades through the senior high school. At one end are grouped the various art expressions of children ranging from 5 years old in kindergarten to the early 'teens in eighth grade. It is a grateful relief to find a spontaneous outpouring of primitive conceptions without the necessity of belittling the bizarre effects achieved with the thought that this is an adult who should know better.

For once we see the childlike where it belongs, in childish work. These primary colors used to such good advantage, clear and unshadowed, these figures larger than the buildings they dwarf, these horses of curious and fateful aspect, these jolly children skipping in wooden glee around the flowered lawn, these are honest pictures of what just such scenes mean to the child. He makes his picture frankly, the thing of first importance to him, being naturally of the largest size. No method, little perspective, no feeling disturbs in any way the natural burst of color and form that materializes his inspiration.

From the magnificent infantile concepts we progress steadily into a more collected and reasoned way of visualized fancy. There are the junior high schools with their fine work in pattern and design; their definite beauty in illustration; their skillful manipulation of black and white; and their, sometimes, beautiful use of oil and water color. We see dress designs, interior decoration, architectural conceptions. In the buildings it is odd to remark how much the influence of good modern architecture, the honest kind which evolved the Palmolive building as a notable example, among others, has been felt. Here we see long lines, height, and the set-back planes.

In sculpture we are taken from the enthusiastic primary grades' rendition in clay of a full orchestra in the swing of making music, to the older grades with their gentle, clever bunnies and their imaginative groups illustrating motherhood and the pioneer.

Among the schools who make the exhibition such a success are Flower Technical high school, Austin high, John Marshall high, Lake View, Fenger, Harrison high, Tilden Technical, Roosevelt high, the Nobel school, and the Christopher school. The Art institute's art school is shown, as far as the Saturday morning children's classes are concerned, in the current exhibit of drawings, sketches and clay modeling in the Children's Museum. The exhibits will continue through the month.

Sarcastic Boy Friend Makes Girl Unhappy; She Asks for Advice

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"My friend is sarcastic. I try not to show that it hurts me. My other friends who hear him can't see how I stand for it. And he just seems to take pride in his ability to say sarcastic things.

"I don't say a word in return for fear I'll lose him entirely. How can I cure him? DELL."

He'll never be cured until some one refuses to take the punishment sitting down, and you might confer a great favor on the youth and his other acquaintances by enlightening him to the effect that it is only a shallow mind that enjoys its own biting phrases.

There is a type of young man, the fresh aleck sort, and of girls, too, who indulge in this sort of word twisting that stings where it falls. And this type is the least popular of beings. Often those addicted to sarcasm get over it just as quickly as it is acquired, because some kind soul takes them aside and presents a frank picture of where it leads. Deprived of the kind friend and severest critic, they go on until their unpopularity is so forced upon them they begin to study it and wake up in time.

Not many offenders keep it up for a lifetime, because the ugliness of the characteristic is brought home, sooner or later. In youth, say about the early twenties, before the character has completely "jelled," you find it in its most scurrilous form. Maybe, if you hinted to the young man that it is an adolescent trait, his dignity as a young man might come to the rescue.

Anyway, don't be a doormat, sister! That never got a girl anywhere. It's all right to be sweet and forgiving, but not if you are the object of biting remarks that embarrass you before others. You have a duty to yourself in demanding that you be treated with respect by your escort. And if he'd be lost to you should you speak up, he'd be lost shortly, anyway. And, as said, your calling down might do a successor a kindness.

Sarcasm is not a sign of a brilliant mind nor a sure trigger wit, as the type believes. It's one of the most patent evidences of ignorance, really, since one hasn't learned anything until one learns that consideration of the other fellow's feelings is the best trump card life offers you to play.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Visits Former Friend.

"Dear Miss Blake: My friend goes to see his former girl. He says she doesn't mean anything to him. Please advise. BROWN EYES."

He must have a "sneaking" regard for her, else why the occasional visit?

Bright Sayings of the Children

Raymond, who is a chubby little fellow of 3, had a bad cold, but was determined to don his cap and coat and play out of doors as usual. It was a chilly, dreary day of early spring. His mother after much persuasion finally convinced him that he must stay indoors, so that his cold would not get any worse.

A few minutes later his aunt remarked, "So, Raymond isn't going out to play today?"

"No," was the prompt reply, "I can't go out today. I might get a cold in my cough." M. V. E.

Something Every Mother Must Look Out For

Many Preparations Labeled "Milk of Magnesia" Are Nothing More Than Mixtures of Magnesia Powder and Water

According to recent laboratory tests, it is now indicated that many preparations on the market labeled "Milk of Magnesia" are nothing more than mixtures of magnesia powder and water. So be careful what you get.

Note that such preparations are clearly labeled "Milk of Magnesia." And, thus, that the name "Milk of Magnesia" on a bottle offers you or your children no certain protection. Watch out.

Your own druggist may not as yet know this situation. And thus, in all innocence, sell you one of these mixtures of plain magnesia powder and water, if you go into his store and ask only for "Milk of Magnesia."

For this reason the public is openly and publicly urged to ask for and accept only genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—as endorsed by doctors—for use in the home. Especially when it is intended for use with children.

Leading doctors the world over endorse Phillips' Milk of Magnesia as one of the finest products known to modern science in protection of the public health.

None of those products made of magnesia powder and water are "like" or the "same" as genuine Phillips'. They can't be. Phillips' is made in a laboratory with more than 50 years of experience in the making of Milk of Magnesia, and some of the methods developed by Phillips are used exclusively in the Phillips' Laboratories.

Hence, for 50 years Phillips' has been recognized everywhere as the world's leading laboratory devoted exclusively to making the finest magnesia products.

What folly, then, in the light of these things, to take chances on some other product of which you know nothing. What an injustice to yourself or your children to let anything but the recognized finest in internal remedies come into your home.

Get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia at any drug store. Ask for it by name! Identify it by the package illustrated in this advertisement—the blue package showing the signature of Charles H. Phillips on the label.

SAFETY
For You and Yours in This Bottle

You can assist others by refusing to accept anything but the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. Do this in the interest of yourself and your children—and in the interest of the public in general.

THE CLICK OF THE GATE

By Alice Campbell

SYNOPSIS.

Clare, fifteen year old daughter of Iris de Bertincourt, disappears mysteriously from her home in a remote section of Paris. Iris has been separated for years from her husband, Marcel, a man of great charm but no moral sense. They are cousins and the possible heirs of their tyrannical Aunt Victoire, the Comtesse de Castelmaurou.

Iris planned to divorce her husband and marry Maj. Alan Charnwood. Charnwood about to depart for Africa, has postponed his trip to search for Clare, assisted by Tommy Rostetter, a journalist.

Iris moves to her aunt's home and learns that her husband is already domiciled there. He seems to have changed in character, and has taken charge of the search for Clare. Iris and Alan plan to meet at Helen Roderick's, the American woman for whom Iris has been working. Alan meets Marcel at Helen's and learns that they are friends, unknown to Iris. He recalls having seen Marcel at Le Touquet, gambling heavily and bobbing with a coarse looking couple. That night Alan sees Marcel entering the home of Suzanne Marly, an actress. Alan receives a wire giving him an extra fortnight's leave in Paris.

A letter is sent to Iris, stating that Clare is being held for ransom. Her aunt offers to pay the sum asked if Marcel and Iris promise to become reconciled. Marcel meets Iris and Alan at Helen's and drives them home. He accompanies Alan to his hotel room. Alan receives a faked message recalling him immediately to Africa. That night an attempt is made to asphyxiate him. He moves to Tommy's apartment. Next morning Alan sets out to trace flowers sent to Iris from Marcel the night Clare disappeared.

INSTALLMENT XI.

THE MYSTERY OF THE ROSES.

Within ten minutes Charnwood had entered the silver portals of Leclerc and was facing a battery of beaded lashes trained on him by the enameled young woman in black satin and jade who rose at his approach.

"Some flowers, monsieur?" she chirped in simpering English. "Orchids, perhaps? These mauve ones are fresh this morning."

He chose a few blossoms which the saleswoman's carmine-tipped fingers laid to rest between layers of tissue paper.

"By the way, madame," he began with studied casualness, "I wonder if you can help me over a little matter? It is about some roses sent to a friend of mine last Tuesday week. Would it be possible to recall the purchase?" They were ordered by Monsieur Marcel de Bertincourt and delivered to his wife at number eleven Passage de l'Oratoire, left bank."

The proprietor stepped forth from behind a screen of mirrors and surveyed Charnwood with a pair of fishy eyes.

"Monsieur?" came the vaguely insolent murmur. "If it was not you who had the flowers sent, monsieur, you can hardly expect us to discuss the matter. Any complaint must come from Monsieur de Bertincourt."

All at once Charnwood understood. For more than a week past the De Bertincourt name had been on every one's lips. These people were frightened at the mere thought of being drawn into the meshes of criminal procedure.

"Let me explain," he said hastily. "What I want to know has nothing to do with Monsieur or Madame de Bertincourt, only with the man who took the flowers to the address in question. You cannot object to telling me which of your employés it was?"

The bored eyebrows lifted in amused scorn—relief, too, it seemed.

"Man, monsieur? But we do not employ men, only little girls. See, I will show you." With a sharpness contradicting his nonchalance, he called over his shoulder, "Jacqueline!"

"Carried them away!" Charwood gave a start. "You are positive of this, madame?"

The summons was answered by a puppet-like midinette in gray alpaca who wriggled her small body, took a handful of pins out of her mouth, and stared at the customer with round eyes.

"But I don't understand," muttered Charnwood, nonplused. "The flowers I refer to were brought by a man—a tall man, not in uniform."

"Then he did not come from us, monsieur. That is certain.'"

"The box was yours. Can you suggest any explanation?"

Monsieur Leclerc looked fatigued. "The date, monsieur?"

"Tuesday, the seventh."

"Jacqueline, the ledger."

The puppet produced a heavy book in which her employer searched listlessly, page after page.

"Ah, viola!" he exclaimed at last. "Here is the entry. Two dozen roses, booked to M. de Bertincourt's account. But there is no record of an address—none whatever."

Another deadlock. Was the inquiry to end in midair?

"Monsieur! Ecoutes—je me rapelle quelque chose!"

It was the saleswoman who spoke, touching her superior on the sleeve. The pair engaged in whispered consultation, after which Leclerc closed the ledger, his face clearing.

"Now I see all, monsieur. Madame tells me she recalls the purchase. It seems that M. de Bertincourt came in hurriedly just before we closed, selected the roses, and carried them away with him."

"Carried them away!" Charnwood gave a start. "You are positive of this, madame?"

"But absolutely, monsieur! M. de Bertincourt refused to allow me to send the flowers. I put them into a box and he drove off with them in his own car. . . . Pardon, monsieur! You are forgetting your chrysanthemums. Seventy-five francs fifty that will be. I thank you."

On the pavement outside Charnwood put his hand to his collar with a choking sensation.

"Great God! Am I dreaming this? But why? In heaven's name, why?"

He had found no answer to this question when, eyes bulging, he burst in upon Tommy's petit déjeuner.

. . . . . .

"It's a long, long time," remarked Tommy, pensively eying the crimson chrysanthemums at his elbow, "since any one has brought me such lovely flowers. I hardly know what to say."

"If it isn't something sensible," blazed Charnwood, "you'll have them down your throat. Did you hear what I said about De Bertincourt and the two dozen roses?"

"Absolutely—but I'm a bit bewildered. Explain to me, if you can, why this man who was on decidedly remote terms with his wife should bombard her with floral offerings?"

"I admit it's a paradox. Iris says he always sends her flowers on their wedding anniversary."

"So it was a wedding anniversary?"

"No, it wasn't. This time it was the anniversary of their financailles—or, to be exact, the eve of that date."

"Stop! This is too complicated." Tommy put out a restraining hand. "Moreover, it reminds me of a farce I once saw where the lady says to her undemonstrative spouse, 'Kiss me because it's Wednesday.'"

"Meaning——?"

"Well, any port in a storm, you know. Otherwise, a trumped-up excuse." Charnwood thought hard. He seemed to be arguing with himself.

"Possibly. Still, it may have had something to do with seeing Clare in the afternoon. Being an impulsive chap——"

"O, frightfully impulsive! So much so, in fact, that he lugged an awkward box round with him till he found a suitable emissary, instead of letting the shop deliver it for him. No, Alan, it won't do—and you know it won't."

"What's your idea, then?" parried Charnwood, fighting his own doubt.

"Let's reason it out. If the roses had come on a recognized occasion, normally sent, one could regard the gift as the continuance of an established custom; but when the donor selects an unusual time, which happens to coincide with your visit, and hits on a roundabout way of getting the flowers delivered, one is tempted to search for a hidden motive. I should say he knew you were there and hired an agent to spy on you."

"Spy on me? What for?"

Come, come, you weren't born yesterday! Suppose he wished to prevent his wife's divorce, what better method than to secure counter evidence against her?"

"No, I don't see much in your theory. If the messenger had schemed for even a glimpse of me—but he went away without knowing any one was there."

"Well, I give it up. What's your explanation?"

"I'm utterly at sea. I daresay De Bertincourt could give a satisfactory account if one asked him."

"I daresay—but will he?" demanded Tommy, suddenly ironical. "Do you fancy you are likely to set eyes on him again before all this is concluded? Do you now?"

The question was a direct challenge. After a brief silence Charnwood replied evasively, "See here, now, I'm not going to go imagining things with so little to build on. He seems on the whole not a bad sort of chap."

"Good. But tell me this: Did he or did he not barge into the room just as his wife was about to make known the name of that florist?"

"Certainly—she broke off when he opened the door."

"What was his manner like?"

"He was terribly frightened because she had gone off with that letter in her possession."

"Was that why he was frightened? Mayn't it have been because he had overheard your conversation and knew it had touched on a dangerous subject?"

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

Theory Failed in Practice.

When a small child I attended a lecture on being kind to dumb animals. On the way home, overflowing with good will, etc., I spied an empty wagon and a dejected looking horse standing at the curb and thought, "Here's my chance."

I crept up behind him and timidly patted him on the flank. He jumped. I tried again. He jumped again, and suddenly a man poked his head out from the back of the wagon and yelled, "Hey, get away from that horse, you."

Walking away with burning cheeks, I decided that from then on I would be kind to strange animals only from a distance. E. R.

Beautiful Teeth Are Often Reward Given the Chewer of Crusts

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Every day one of our pet illusions is due for destruction, it seems. A famous hair specialist not long ago announced that you could wash your hair three times a week and do it no more harm than keeping it clean. He did say, though, you had to dry it well after the washing.

Now comes news of the announcement from Baltimore, from the lips of Dr. W. McKim Marriott of Washington university school of medicine, that the belief that candy and other sweets harm the t eth "belongs with other fallacious theories." What sweets do, Dr. Marriot modified his statement, is to destroy appetite for foods essential to healthy teeth.

At the Maryland State Dental association meeting, the occasion of Dr. Marriott's remarks, the importance of diet over hereditary influences was stressed in connection with good teeth. And the good old primitive foodstuffs that called for a lot of hard chewing were brought into the picture with the revelation that the best teeth in the world belong to the Zulus of Africa, the Maoris of New Zealand and the Eskimo of the polar region.

In some book I was reading not so long ago, I recall a statement about the awful condition of Esquimo women's teeth, due to grinding down leather with them. Maybe they weren't polar region Eskimos. However, there are no teeth like those raised from infancy on hard foods that call for vigorous chewing. A great many of our mothers, true, include the daily crust in the small one's diet. Not as many as could manage this gum and tooth exerciser.

Teeth are brushed in our country, and they're examined twice a year. Yet they do keep on causing trouble. There'd be more trouble, to be sure, if they weren't brushed and examined. But the obvious thing is that there is something else that has to be attended to, too—the chewing of such foods as will exercise both gums and teeth.

Cotton Accessories for Smart Ensembles

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special.]—Cotton, which is triumphing all along the sartorial lines this sumrger, is the leading accessory material, too. Washability is the price of chic nowadays, and the latest aids to variety offered by Paris couturiers do not have to be labeled "Wash with care."

Sketched today are the very last, last words being spoken by washable accessories to smart ensembles, here.

In the upper left hand corner is Jane Regny's fregoli, her name for a handkerchief size bolero, translated into terms of white embroidered Swiss. What could be more charming over a dark or bright colored crêpe frock, maybe with an embroidered Swiss belt to match.

To the right of it is a Chanel buttonhole flower of eyelet embroidered piqué, so smart on the lapel of the navy tailored suit.

In the circle below you see Schiaparelli's separate peplum belt of white starched piqué that buttons with one button in back. It lends snappy freshness to a black wool frock worn with a tie of white linen lace insertion, the kind our mammas called binche lace.

Below this at the left is a Pierrot cuff and collar set seen on a smart debutante in the Ritz recently. The little ruffles of eyelet embroidered handkerchief linen are attached by narrow black velvet ribbons that button with a lingerie button.

Beside this is the draped bib that so many Parisiennes prefer this season. It is in fine cream batiste with scalloped edges bound in batiste. It ties in the back, as you see, but may be laid out flat for ironing.

Martial et Armand make the nun's collar and cuffs in the lower right hand corner of starched linen with a line of double hemstitching. The collar slips over the head and is tied on by linen ends, as are the cuffs.

Food Talk.

Mrs. N. T. B. writes: "How can I keep an ice box dough so that it won't sour in a mechanical ice box? I used to keep the dough in a bowl covered only with a towel and it kept perfectly. But now I find a hard crust forms and this does not make smooth rolls. So I put a plate over the dough and now it sours within a short time."

I suppose the ice box in which Mrs. B. kept the dough in perfect condition was the kind that is kept cool with ice from the ice man. The atmosphere in this type of refrigerator is much moister than that in a mechanical refrigerator. And this is why the dough is moist and free from a dry crust. A plate over the top will keep the dough from drying out but it will also hasten fermentation. Mrs. B may be using too much yeast in proportion to the other ingredients. Doughs that stand for a day or more need less yeast than those that stand only for a few hours. Or she may not be manipulating dough after it is put into the ice box.

One good way to prevent fermentation of an ice box dough is to punch it down two or three times a day. Thrust the hand into the center of the dough, punching downward, then pull in edges toward center and turn the ball of dough over. It is important that the surface of the dough remain moist during the rising if we are to expect an ideal texture in the crust of the baked roll. But I prefer not to cover dough [except with a towel] while it is in the refrigerator, and no matter what type of refrigerator I may happen to be using.

There are two ways of keeping dough moist in a mechanical refrigerator. One is to keep a moist cloth, not a wet one, over the top. This not only slows down the evaporation of moisture from the dough but also supplies moisture to a dry one. The second is to grease the top surface of the dough. A film of oil prevents the evaporation of moisture and so long as this condition is maintained no crust forms.

When a dough does happen to become crusty by accident it may be softened by brushing over the entire surface with wet cheesecloth. Let stand for a few minutes and if the first application of water is not sufficient to soften the crust try another application.

ICE BOX ROLLS.

¾ cup fat [half butter, half lard].
1 cup boiling water.
1 cup cold water.
2 eggs.
¾ cup sugar.
2 cakes compressed yeast.
¼ cup tepid water.
1 tablespoon salt.
7 cups bread flour.

Put the lard and butter into the boiling water. When the fat is melted add the cold water. Beat the eggs thoroughly and add them to the water and shortening. Next add the sugar, the yeast that has been softened in tepid water, the salt and the flour. Mix all of these ingredients well together by stirring with a large spoon, then knead with the hands until smooth. Put the dough into a large greased bowl, and grease the top of the ball of dough. Place in the refrigerator.

When you wish to bake the rolls, cut off balls of the dough about the size of a hickory nut. Roll these balls in melted butter or butter hands before rolling them, and place three balls in each oiled muffin tin. Let rise in a warm place free from drafts for about 2½ hours. Bake in a hot oven [425 degrees F.] for 20 to 25 minutes. A shiny crust may be obtained by brushing the rolls over with a mixture made of the slightly beaten whole egg into which has been put a pinch of salt. Let stand a few minutes after brushing them with this mixture, then put them in the oven.

ST. AUGUSTINE SALAD.

On a bed of romaine, place a ball of cream cheese mixed with canned pears chopped fine and chopped blanched almonds. Place five or six sections of orange over the top of the cheese like a bridge so the cheese is completely covered up and the orange looks like a half orange, round side up. Place two little rosettes of small twig ends of cress at either side. Serve with French dressing.

Untiedt Family Is an Example of Integrity for the Entire Nation

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

Much honor has been done Bryan Untiedt, the boy whose courage, unselfishness and judgment were so remarkable in the school bus disaster in Lamar, Colo. Personally I think it would have been better for the boy if he had less publicity, if the radio talks had been omitted, and if he had not had his thoughts dragged back again and again to the tragedy.

But on reading the paper recently I was stirred with a sense of deep satisfaction by the words of Bryan's parents. Much honor should be done them in the thoughts of all American fathers and mothers because they rejected the offers that were made them to exploit their son and his courage.

It is a fine and beautiful thing to see people keep their vision clear through the brightness of real honor such as President Hoover desired to do him, and the haze of tinsel glory, publicity, movie contracts, and possible that were made them they were giving up at least comparative wealth for the integrity of their boy's character. If you didn't happen to see the news of Mr. and Mrs. Untiedt's pronouncement you might be interested to read it now.

"We do not want him to live on the honor of the nation," said Mrs. Untiedt, mother of six children, one of whom died in the Towner bus tragedy. "We want him to be a real man through his own efforts. Only in that way can he be entirely worthy of the honor President Hoover has bestowed upon him."

Bryan's rancher father added: "I'm not stuck on this hero stuff. Any other real boy would have done the same as Bryan and all the children in the bus were very brave. I don't doubt, however, that the trip to visit President Hoover will mean the future of our son. We believe he now needs time to rest and think over all the great impressions he has gathered, and view the future accordingly."

More power to the parents of Bryan Untiedt and their sturdy integrity!

fresh vegetables CAN BE MADE MORE tasty

SEASONED WITH

sugar

As you make your selection of vegetables remember that their distinctive flavor can be heightened with sugar.

THE combination of sugar and salt improves the flavor of vegetables in a most pleasing way. It emphasizes the mild taste of spinach; mellows the tartness of tomatoes; blends deliciously with the flavor of peas, carrots, string beans, cabbage, asparagus, onions and other vegetables.

In serving raw vegetables in salads, add at least as much sugar as salt to the French dressing. The smooth, mellow result will delight you.

"A dash of sugar to a pinch of salt" is also a fine seasoning for meat dishes, or soups and stews composed of meat and vegetables. Flavor and season with sugar. The Sugar Institute.

$25 MILLIONS U. S. EXPORTS HIT BY CANADA TARIFF

'Definitely Imperiled,' Dr. Klein Asserts.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 3.—[Special.]—Twenty-five million dollars' worth of American exports to Canada are "definitely imperiled" by the new Canadian tariff rates, Dr. Julius Klein, assistant secretary of commerce, declared in a statement tonight.

Dr. Klein's estimate represents slightly less than 4 per cent of our total exports to the dominion in 1930, he said.

"It is obvious from a study of the commodities involved," Dr. Klein declared, "that a considerable portion of the increases have been made in preparation for the forthcoming conference on reciprocal tariffs among the British dominions which is to take place next fall. Canada is obviously not quite naturally putting herself in a favorable position for the negotiations."

Affected by Unemployment.

Dr. Klein asserted that another reason for Canada's increased tariff rates was "suggested" by the dominion's own unemployment situation. "It should be remembered," he said, "that Canada, like all economically new lands, has for years been using high protective tariffs to develop a more evenly balanced economy. Her excessive seasonal variation makes such a policy inevitable as a means of equalizing employment irregularities. Incidentally, for a comparatively new country, her unemployment problem has in recent months been of serious proportions, which again suggests one reason for the new tariff rates."

Dr. Klein compared the extent to which Canada and the United States have adopted protective tariff policies. "The Canadian tariff," he pointed out, "even before the recent changes, yielded a ratio of customs revenue to total imports of nearly 15 per cent as against 13.5 per cent in the case of the United States in 1930."

Compared per Capita.

"Furthermore," he continued, "as an additional measure of Canada's protective policy it may be noted that per receipts of dutiable imports per capita in 1929 was $76.49, as against $12.71 for the United States."

The assistant commerce secretary also called attention to the vast American investments in the dominion and pointed out that the total was over a billion more than British holdings in Canada. American investments involving between three and a half and four billion dollars in Canada "afford some measure of our stake in the stability and strength of the Canadian economic situation," he declared. British holdings, according to Dr. Klein, total less than two and a half billions.

YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Another Wasted Stamp

STIMSON TO SAIL ON TRIP ABROAD LATE THIS MONTH

Secretary Asserts It's 'Merely a Vacation.'

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 3.—[Special.]—Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson will leave the United States late this month for an extended European vacation trip during which he plans to study international problems and get better acquainted with European statesmen. The itinerary of his trip will include Italy, France, probably Germany, and England.

HENRY STIMSON. [(C) Harris & Ewing Photo.]

A desire to clear away some of the obstacles now jeopardizing the chances of success for the league of nations general arms conference to be held at Geneva next February is understood to be one of the principal reasons for the trip. It is reported that Mr. Stimson plans another attemp to heal the breech that has develop during the Anglo-French-British naval agreement negotiations.

May Seek to Delay Parley.

In some quarters it is reported Mr. Stimson will discuss with European statesmen the advisability of postponing the league conference until a more propitious date.

In announcing that he would spend probably two months abroad, Secretary Stimson said he felt that the information he would gain by visiting Great Britain, France, Italy and Germany would be of real value to him in the future conduct of the foreign relations of the government.

Europe Sees It Differently.

White House officials said they saw nothing unusual in the trip, stating that on many occasions in the past American secretaries of state had combined their vaction periods with trips to foreign countries.

It is believed here that foreign nations will attach the greatest importance to Mr. Stimson's European visit in view of the known great interest on the part of the Hoover administration in arms reduction. With the 1932 league conference just around the corner and with the chances for success unusually dark at this time, Mr. Stimson's visit is certain to be clothed with great significance.

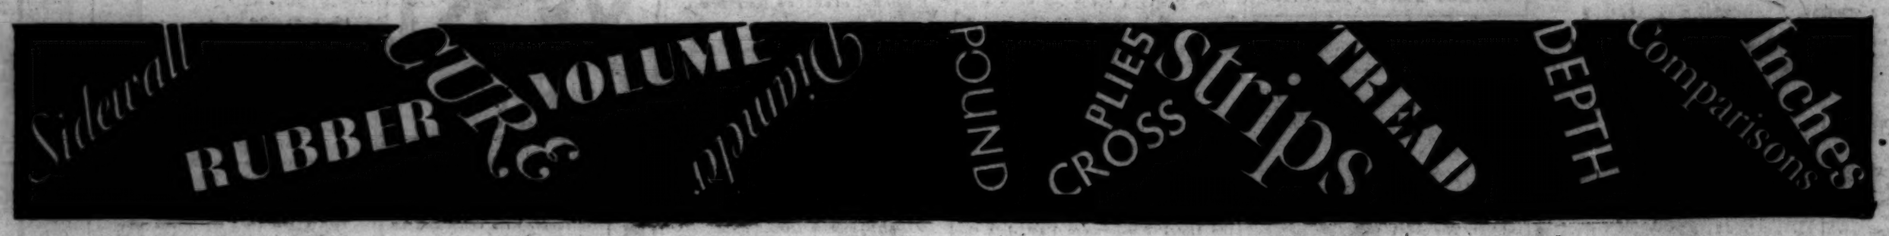
Let's cut through this welter of words



WHEN you set out to buy tires, what do you expect to get for your money?

What nearly everyone really wants is most miles and the utmost in safety at the lowest possible price.

That being your objective, which tire should you buy?

If the experience of 20,000,000 motorists means anything, you should certainly buy Goodyears.

But if you try to puzzle through the welter of statistics on thicknesses, weights and diameters you lose the main issue and are as much at sea as ever.

A difference of two or three one-thousandths of an inch in the width of a tire carcass is no guarantee against blowouts.

Longer wear is not a matter of logarithms.

It is the honest product of materials and craftsmanship.

The one and only reliable guide for you to follow is the seasoned preference of the public.

And that preference is overwhelmingly for Goodyear.

This fact expressed year after year by Goodyear's great leadership is concretely told again in the findings of an impartial investigation by the Bureau of Business Research of a great University that asked 205,000 car owners this simple question:

QUESTION: "Regardless of price, convenience, etc., what make of tire do you consider the BEST tire made?"

HOW CAR OWNERS VOTED ON THE QUESTION
"WHAT TIRE IS BEST?"
Based on a National Tire Survey in 1930 by a large University

It will be noted that 30.7% of the car owners of America prefer Goodyear Tires. This preference is more than twice that of any other make of tire.
This tire survey was based on a scientifically mailed questionnaire to car owners in every state in the country and proportioned in turn to cities and rural communities.

There's the only buying guide that means anything to you car owners.

With Goodyear quality priced so low, why not avail yourself of the long mileage, safety and the good looks that have made Goodyear reputation?

CUBS' 9TH INNING ATTACK ROUTS ROBINS, 9-8

KNIVES FLY AS AMERICANS WHIP ITALIAN BOXING TEAM

INVADING SQUAD QUITS RING WHEN FIGHTER LOSES

Gallery Rains Missiles on Judges.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 3.—The Fascisti don't seem able to take it. The Italian boxing team stormed out of the arena at Madison Square Garden in a dramatic huff when their flyweight boxer, Edelweis Rodriguez, lost a decision to Louis Salica of New York in the opening bout of a program conducted by the Metropolitan A. A. U. and the house went into the most riotous uproar seen in a public assembly in New York since the long parliament of the Democratic party at the old Garden, downtown, in 1924.

Order finally was restored and the bouts resumed, the American team winning five bouts to two, but the uproar remained the predominant feature of the entertainment.

Two knives were thrown from the upper sections of the auditorium, one of them a pocket knife which the impetuous remonstrant in his wrath had forgotten to open, the other a Sicilian social blade which flashed past the arm of a feminine customer and fell on the concrete floor. Mr. Walter Trumbull, the journalist, who was sitting nearby, reports that he saw this one fall and identifies the lady who had the close shave as Mrs. Charles Francis Coe.

Defeat Overcomes Edelweis.

As the announcer pointed to the little New York fighter at the end of a hard, fast three round bout, the Italian flyweight champion, who is flyweight champion of Europe as well, emitted a shrill squawk of anguish and hurled himself to the canvas with a resounding flop while his trainer, a half-bald young man with owls-rimmed spectacles set on a prominent nose, leaped into the ring and waved his arms to the galleries in a furious protest. For a moment, all this hysteria seemed rather comic, for the American boy had clearly won the first two rounds of the fight and though he might have been held even in the third, his margin was quite apparent.

As Edelweis sprawled whimpering and heaving on the soiled canvas of the ring and his trainer shrieked like a Neapolitan hackman, the galleries began to rain wads of paper, the rinds of antipasto cigar butts and fragments of hot dogs, and in the downpour came the cutlery.

Fascism Grows Articulate.

The shrieks of outraged Fascism swelled to the rafters and for 15 minutes the air was so stiff with the voice of Italian sportsmanship that it was impossible to resume the program, if, indeed, the Fascist boxing team could be induced to take a defeat without picking up their marbles entirely.

The Italian trainer, whose name turned out to be Edouardo Garenza, presently gentled his fighter down the steps from the ring and escorted him back into the caverns where the dressing rooms are, then returned to shrill his protests to a number of Latin citizens, who were sitting at the ringside. Then he flounced back to join his team in the wings as the squawking rose shriller and shriller and the timekeeper yanked the lanyard of his big, noisy gong in a futile effort to make it heard above the yelping.

Judges Even It Up.

A long delay ensued. The Italians agreed to continue, and the American boxing judges, apparently wishing to avert a war, then robbed the next American fighter, Flavio De Bonis, giving the decision to Vincenzo Delloria of Milan in the bantamweight event. De Bonis scored a victory for civilization, however, for though he had reason to feel sure he had won, he hurled himself into no emotional tailspins when the verdict went against him and shook the hand of Delloria, grinning jovially.

The third fight went to Tony Scarpati, the New York Golden Gloves boxer and national featherweight champion. He beat Argento Portalone, a provincial champion of Italy, by a margin that Mussolini himself must have recognized and this young man by a firm effort of the will retained his self-control, averting war again.

Steve Salek of Boston, a left hander, had a difficult time consoling his opponent, a proud Roman named Mario Bianchini, at the end of their bout in the lightweight class, for Salek won and Bianchini seemed very unhappy. The Fascist sportsman did not offer his hand so Salek had to reach for it and though the American smilingly assured him that his life didn't go with the defeat, Bianchini stood leaning over the top rope for an impressive spell, blinking his orbs in a forlorn expression.

As the welterweight fight, next on the program, wore along, it seemed that there could be nothing for Mussolini to do but steam up the fleet and send it over to shell the New York skyline. In this one, Eddie Flynn, a smiling young man from New Orleans holder of the American welterweight title, dealt an artistic belting to Cesare Bosio of Milan and this being the American's fourth victory in a program of seven bouts, the Fascisti were beaten beyond any power of their two last fighters to redeem the national

FARRELL AND 2 BRITONS GET 72 IN BRITISH OPEN

Tommy Armour Cards 73 and Sarazen 74.

BY EUGENE SPECK.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland, June 3.—The fight for the British open golf championship opened at Carnoustie today with no more than a bare inkling of who will be the winner. A margin of one stroke placed three players in a tie at the head of the championship field of 109 who played the first 18 holes today.

Johnny Farrell, former United States open champion, turned in 72 in this morning's gale and led the field for a half hour until Henry Cotton, making his first appearance as a formidable British contender, came in with a large gallery at his heels with the same figure. Later W. T. Twine, another British pro, shot 72 to go into a three way tie.

Tommy Armour Has 73.

Behind him was Tommy Armour, holder of the American professional title, with 73. Gene Sarazen, another former American open titlist, was the only Yank in the 74 bracket. There he was grouped with William Large, Percy Alliss, British pro entered from Berlin; Marcel Dallemagne, of St. Germain, France; A. J. Lacey and W. G. Oke.

MacDonald Smith started badly and was not able to recover on his way in. He finished with 75. In this tier were Joe Kirkwood, Chicago; Tomas Genta, Buenos Aires, and Raymond Whitcombe, brother of the Ryder cup players. Willie Hunter was bracketed a notch below with Bill Davies, José Jurando and Marcus Churio of Buenos Aires, and Aubrey Boomer.

The other two Americans within the seventies were Joe Turnesa and Horton Smith. Both took 77. With them were Archie Compston and Abe Mitchell, British Ryder cup players.

Nor' Easter Spoils Course.

This morning's golf was spoiled by a strong northeaster. Of the 56 who went out this morning, 27 scored 80 or more. Most of the low cards were earned after the gale abated this afternoon. The winds annihilated Tony Manero, New Jersey. He took 82, which was shared by Larry Montes from Manila.

Manero's golf was little worse than that of eight British professionals who will play the American team in the Ryder match at Columbus this year. Besides Davies, Compston and Mitchell —George Duncan and Syd Easterbrook scored 78 and Ernest Whitcombe 79. Charles Whitcombe and Fred Robson took 80.

Farrell burned up the course like a prairie fire this morning. He was out in 33, gathering three 3s and the rest were 4s. He played 4s to the fourth, where he dropped a ten yard putt, and collected another birdie at the long sixth. He sank another birdie at the seventh.

Mac Catches 2 Birds.

Mac Smith had a bad out nine, playing 2s for the first six holes. He collected himself coming in and got a birdie 3 at the tenth and a birdie two at the short eleventh by a long putt.

Chicagoland Sport Congress to Be Athletic Melting Pot

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The fjords and hills of old Norway will be well represented when thousands of men, women and children athletes gather at Soldiers' field on Sunday afternoon, June 21, to participate in the Chicagoland Sports congress, sponsored by THE TRIBUNE. Both the Norwegian-American Athletic association and the United Daughters of Norway will take part in the congress, the largest demonstration of mass athletics ever produced in the United States.

This first sport congress is designed to bring together, at one time and in one place, Chicagoland athletic organizations whose membership is composed of Americans of various descents. Among the groups which will play important rôles are the American Sokol union, the American Turnerbund, and the Polish Falcons, as well as Norwegian, Ukrainian, and Assyrian clubs.

Calisthenic Drills Are Keynote.

The program of events includes a series of calisthenic drills and gymnastic exhibitions, in which clocklike precision is the keynote. Brawn will have its minutes in a giant tug of war which will engage hundreds of men straining and tugging on opposite ends of a single cable of rope, while the fleet footed will be represented in relay races with dozens of teams running. A huge parade, in which all of the various societies and clubs will take part, will precede the congress, while the final event will assemble every athlete on the field for a mass drill.

The Norwegian-American Athletic association will send a group of 30 men and 20 women for a calisthenic drill and exhibitions on gymnastic apparatus. The United Daughters of Norway will be represented by a drill team of 48 girls proficient in marching tactics.

N. W. Presidents Organize.

The Norwegian-American A. A., one of the oldest athletic clubs in Chicago, first came into being in 1885, when a number of northwest side residents organized what was known as the Norwegian-American Turnerforeng. Turner societies are plentiful in Norway, and these northwest siders had the turner idea alone in mind when they banded together to form their turnerforeng. One of the original founders of the club, the name of which was changed to the Norwegian-American A. A., is still a member of the club. He is Ferdinand C. Hannibal, 66 years old, 4415 Irving Park boulevard. Turning formed the sole activity of the club for many years, but since its foundation it has built up a program which includes ice skating, track and field, soccer, baseball, basketball, boxing and wrestling.

CHAMPION

The original club had its headquarters in a building at Noble and Erie streets. For the last eight years it has been located in the old Stove school building at 3433 Wabansia avenue, but the rapid growth of the organization has made the construction of a new clubhouse and gymnasium imperative.

Plan New Building.

Plans have been made for a new building within the next three years on the present property of Andrew Ellingsen, president of the association. He states that the members are enthusiastic about the project, which will include clubrooms, lodge halls, and a gymnasium with a seating capacity of 1,000.

Last year the North American indoor ice skating championships at the Chicago Stadium, which attracted the best skaters in the east, Canada, and the central states, were sponsored by the association. Members point with pride to the fact that Sonja Henie, of Oslo, Norway, world's champion women's figure skater, became an honorary life member of the Norwegian-American during her visit here last year.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 3.—Those champion Athletics always are at least one run ahead of the other fellows. The White Sox, with Ted Lyons apparently at his best, gave them another stiff argument this afternoon, but in the end it availed nothing. When the music can in right field started grinding out its daily dose of ear splitting post-game music the score was Philadelphia 2, Chicago 1. That makes five in a row the title holders have won from the Sox this season.

The chief cause of today's scarcity of Sox runs was Robert Moses Grove, whose left arm is of such a rubbery nature that he never worries about the orthodox four days of rest between starts. The tall fellow was very fast today and at times caused the Sox no end of trouble. At other times they hit him hard, but sparkling fielding stunts were pulled off behind him, and between the pitching and fielding the Chicagoans could accumulate only six hits. Lyons gave up seven, and one happened to be a homer by Jim Foxx.

Takes Two Strikes, Then Swings.

When the hefty Foxx came to bat in the second inning nobody suspected his evil purpose. Lyons whipped over two strikes on him. This made Ted think it could be done a third time, but instead Foxx took a swing at the ball and it drifted lazily over the low right field wall. Prior to this Lyons had given up one hit, which was a single by Williams with two out in the first inning. Simmons forced him. Incidentally, Foxx's home runs was his ninth of the season.

There was nothing to cause Grove any annoyance until the third, when the Sox came through with their first pair of hits. After Jeffries had fanned Grube hit a single to right. Lyons fouled out, but Blue was good for a single to center. Then Watwood thumped one solidly, but Williams, who is getting balls that Boley, the regular shortstop, would tip his hat to, flagged it on the fly.

Simmons and Foxx collaborated to put Lyons on the spot in the fourth, but Ted wriggled free. Simmons singled to left with one out and Foxx duplicated the hit. Miller bounced sharply to Jeffries, who touched third to force Simmons and almost succeeded in doubling the batter at first. Fonseca came up with McNair's hopper to end the inning.

Sox Tie Score in Fifth.

Williams' inclination toward wild throws enabled the Sox to tie the score in the fifth. He grabbed Jeffries' grounder in deep short and tried to throw out the speedy ex-collegian. The ball hit the grandstand and pending its recovery Jeff hurried down to second. Grube hammered one so solidly that it handcuffed Bishop and went on its way for a single, Jeff

Bill Jurges, Nobody in the Minors, Big League Success

Bill Jurges, the Cubs' third baseman, wasn't such a hot number in the minors. He batted .288 for Reading in the International league last season and in 142 games at shortstop fielded .936, making 54 errors, to lead the 18 shortstops in the league in the business of making fielding mistakes. He was No. 12 in the rating of those 18 shortstops.

The experts didn't pay so much attention to Bill Jurges at Catalina this spring, until Manager Rogers Hornsby started gurgling about him being "one of the most promising young infielders in 10 years."

Manager Hornsby had Bill Jurges in the lineup in almost every spring exhibition and the experts sang loudly the young man's praises. Then a few days before the season, Manager Hornsby confused the experts by benching the fellow he'd praised so extravagantly. He said that Lester Bell's arm was well. It was Rog against the world, but Rog was, and still is, boss.

Public Starts Guessing.

Many of the observers thought they could see plays Bell missed that they knew Jurges would slay, and some of them predicted that despite his stubbornness, Hornsby eventually would have to use Jurges in the infield, either at third or at short to let English switch to third.

This ballyhooing of Jurges was not a pleasant personal job for some of the paid commentators. Les Bell is one of the most pleasant personalities among the Cubs. Jurges used to be a teller in a Brooklyn bank, or maybe he was a box office man. Anyhow, most of his conversations are conducted in Brooklyn monosyllables.

Any outsider that pulled for Jurges instead of Bell wasn't swayed by social aspects; those who pulled for the employment of Jurges in the regular lineup should be credited with baseball sincerity.

Mr. Jurges Has an Arm.

Bill Jurges didn't get a tumble as a starting performer until the Pirate game on May 24, when Bell was suffering from an injured leg. Les' leg got well in a day or two, but Jurges has been in there accepting tough chances and throwing rifle shots that cause those waves of approval you can hear sweeping over the crowd when the customers are especially pleased.

Bill has decided several games with his bat and he has had several long hits that played a part in scoring activities. His speed and pep have appeared to have an exhilarating effect on the more blasé members of the cast.

Jurges is graceful and executes maneuvers with an ease that many good ball players have to practice for years. And Hornsby says the chap will hit major league pitching better than he could minor league throwing. He's already shown he has no intention of piling up 54 errors in the infield.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Another jolly old rough and tumble baseball contest was put on yesterday by the Cubs and those Brooklyn Robins, and this time it was our boys who got tough and won in the ninth. The score was 9 to 8 and the winning marker was socked home by Rolly Hemsley, our sprightly new catcher. Rolly did his stuff after the Robins' defense had put old Jack Quinn in a pretty jam through an error in judgment and two fumbles.

The contest was a terrific ordeal for the customers. They saw a handsome 5 to 1 lead on Dazzy Vance wither and fade away. They saw the Robins grab the lead, 6 to 5, in the first of the sixth, and saw the Cubs tie it again in the last of the sixth. In the eighth they saw the Cubs wither again and the Robins take an 8 to 6 lead. But in the Chicago half of the eighth our heroes made one run—Hack Wilson produced it—and in the ninth those two cheering runs and the ball game.

Brooklyn Boys Get Scared.

In addition to winning their first game of the year from the Robins the Cub morale should be greatly improved, for in the ninth Brooklyn knees were all a-tremble as of old.

The Cub triumph was made despite some pretty rough slugging by Uncle Robbie's chattels. That quaint gent, Babe Herman, didn't do a thing but make his No. 8 homer with one on, a double and two singles in five times at bat, and Johnny Frederick didn't contribute any comfort with two pernicious doubles.

Since it was Rolly Hemsley who supplied the winning punch, we'll talk about him first. In the sixth, with the Cubs trailing 6 to 5, the young man beat out an infield single with one out, and then, after two were out, he stole second and dashed on to third when Lopez threw the ball past second. He scored the tying run on Grimm's single.

Cuyler, Grimm Do Their Bit.

In the eighth, with Wilson on first, he tapped in front of the plate and reached first while Hack was beating Lopez's throw to second. The pair moved forward on Jurges' sacrifice and Wilson scored while Slade was throwing out Grimm.

In the ninth, with the tying run home and the bases full, Hemsley shot a line drive to left center which normally would have been a double and possibly a triple, but it went for a single because the winning run scored from third.

But we don't mean to say Hemsley was the outstanding hero. There was Kiki Cuyler, who scored the last three of five Cub runs in the second on a homer, and it was Kiki who scored the tying run in the ninth after he had dropped a Texas league double in a coterie of fielders who were being polite to each other in right center.

Let us not forget Charley Grimm, who drove in three runs, scored one himself, and hit safely the first three of his four times at bat.

Beck Goes to Reds.

The teams will resume their work this afternoon with Sweetland a hangover choice to pitch for the Cubs, with the ancient Adolfo Luque the Robin nominee.

Clyde Beck, for six years prior to this season utility infielder for the Cubs, has gone to the Cincinnati Reds on waivers, it was announced yesterday.

The Robins waited until two were out before they started the manufacture of the run they made in the first inning. The tally was accomplished on successive singles by Herman, Bissonette and Lopez, after which O'Doul bounced to Grimm for the third out.

The visitors seemed in a fair way to add at least one more run when Slade led off with a double in the second inning, but Thompson and Vance were called out on strikes and Slade was trapped trying to sneak to third.

Stephenson inspired the Cub uprising in the second inning when he doubled for the first hit off Vance. Wilson ran the count to three balls

Cameronian, Favorite, Wins English Derby

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 3.—Cameronian upheld predictions but upset the Epsom Derby tradition when he galloped past the post with Jockey Fox in the saddle to win before one of the greatest crowds ever assembled at the Epsom Downs racetrack this afternoon.

J. A. Dewar's colt is the first favorite in four years to win the English classic, but his backers thought so much of him that just before deadline bookies reduced his odds to 3 to 1.

Close behind him was a comparative outsider, Orpen, and third was Sandwich, which today was the most talked of horse. All over London and at the track people whispered, "Watch Sandwich." From his position as a rank outsider two days ago, he gained popularity to such extent that he was at odds of 8 to 1 at post time.

Marshall Field's Jacopo finished seventh and William Woodward's St. Andrew, the only other American entry, twentieth.

Dewar's First Victory.

The gloom of bookmakers was shared by many so-called wise horsemen who had passed the word around that Cameronian could not stand up

Minneapolic, Minn., June 3.—(AP)—Dr. Henry L. Dr. Williams coached at Minnesota for 23 years and evolved the famous Minnesota shift, which revolutionized football.

N.C.A.A. Field Events Will See Attack on Records

BY WILFRID SMITH.

The races on the program of a track meet customarily receive more attention than the field events. Intensive publicity over a period of years, which has centered particularly on the 100 yard dash, may be the reason, or it may be that the average fan prefers to watch group competition rather than the routine of individual effort in field events.

In the national collegiate track and field meet, preliminaries of which start tomorrow afternoon at Stagg field, the greatest stars of the country will strive for field championships, and most of the six contests will be closely contested. In several the entrants may approach the American records.

Here Is Form Sheet.

Consider the list of field events, the records for each, and the capabilities of the contestants:

Pole vault world record, 14 feet 1½ inches, established by Lee Barnes of Southern California in 1928. Barnes also holds the American record, while the American collegiate mark of 14 feet, held by Sabin Carr of Yale since 1927, was broken last Saturday by William Graber of Southern California with a leap of 14 feet ½ inch.

Vault Champion Enters.

Graber is entered in the national meet at Stagg field. Eight other contestants have jumped 13 feet 4 inches this year. The outstanding contestants, of course, are Tom Warne of Northwestern, the defending champion, and Verne McDermont of Illinois. Warne never has jumped 14 feet in any meet, but at the Drake relays in 1930 he cleared 13 feet 11 inches. Warne won the Big Ten title this year with a jump of 13 feet 9 9-16 inches. McDermont won 1930 Big Ten honors with 13 feet 10⅜ inches.

Javelin throw. World record, 232 feet 11⅝ inches, established by Lundquist of Sweden in 1928. American record is 222 feet 6⅜ inches. American college record of 216 feet 7 inches, set by Bartlett of Albion college, has been broken several times by Kenneth Churchill of California, who won the eastern meet last Saturday with a throw of 220 feet 11¼ inches.

Rhea Ranks Shot Putters.

Shot put—World record of 52 feet 7½ inches, established by Hirschfeld of Germany in 1928. American college record of 52 feet ¼ inch was made last year by Rothert of Stanford in the national collegiate meet. Hugh Rhea of Nebraska, who won the Texas relay title with 51 feet 2⅛ inches, and Sammy Behr, Big Ten champion in 1930, with 49 feet 1½ inches, are ranked in that order. Clarence Munn of Minnesota, present Big Ten champion and winner at the Penn relays, has a mark of 48 feet 8⅛ inches.

High Jump—World record of 6 feet 8¼ inches, set by Osborne of Illinois in the 1924 Olympic games. American college mark of 6 feet 7¼ inches is held by Haggard of Texas. Eleven entries in Saturday's meet have cleared 6 feet 3 inches or more.

Jones Leads High Jumpers.

Darrell Jones of Ball State Teachers, Muncie, Ind., set a new Indiana mark this spring at Purdue with a jump of 6 feet 5 5-16 inches. Stewart of Southern California did 6 feet 4 inches last week at Pennsylvania. Spencer of Geneva college, National A. A. U. champion, and Ted Shaw

Sentman Not Coming

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., June 3.—(AP)—Lee Sentman, Illinois' star hurdler, will not be able to compete at the national intercollegiate track and field meet at Stagg field because of examinations, he said tonight. He is co-holder of the world's record for the 120 yard high hurdles and national 220 yard low hurdle champion.

Becker Learns His "Big Bass" Is Fierce Pike

BY BOB BECKER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Planting Ground Lake, Wis., June 4.—Although this chain of lakes (Town Line, Planting Ground, Round, Little Fork, Big Fork, etc.) belongs primarily to the muskellunge and the wall eyed pike, sometimes fishermen connect with whopping big small mouth bass. This morning Adam, the navigator of our little fishing ship, was sure that one of these big bass had forgotten to look at the calendar and by mistake had hit our lure. [The bass season does not open until late in June.]

This is what happened: We had left camp on Town Line lake with the outboard motor singing merrily. Then we edged through the channel into Planting Ground, where the beavers have dropped about a dozen poplar trees for food, and continued to a sand and gravel bar just a short distance away from the mouth of the channel. Here a small school of wall eyes was located about 100 feet from the sandy shore line, but they didn't strike very snappily. Apparently the fish were loafing around an old fallen tree and we drifted past this cover several times, not caring a lot what happened because it was as warm as August and delightful on the water.

However, we picked up three fair sized fish and then a vicious wallop was given the lure on the end of our line. A regular sock and zip! immediately the fish ran our line.

"I'll bet you've hooked a bass because that don't look like a pike strike. Too bad," said Adam as he watched the rushes of this fish. We also were pretty sure it was a small mouth and prepared to handle him gently because it is not yet time to take these fish from Wisconsin waters.

Finally this plucky scrapper was worked close to the boat, close enough for us to lean over and see him in the water. It was a bruiser of a northern pike [Esox lucius], his undershot jaw clamped on the lure. Once the identity of the fish was determined we gave him all the rod had and brought him in, a fat 30 inch fish.

There are some large specimens of this species in these waters, as is pretty much the case in other chains of lakes in Wisconsin. However, not many anglers go after old Esox. Muskies and pike are the big bets, and over last week-end the early season fishermen dined heavily on filet of pike because the fish were right on the job.

Among the successful Chicago anglers who outwitted the wall-eyes up here was E. C. Wortham, whose string was topped by a 4 pounder. He found the pike holding some kind of a meeting in the thoroughfare between Laurel and Medicine, and before the fish scattered collected a fine string.

FURNITURE MEN PLAY FOR GOLF HONORS TODAY

Furniture men of the United States, in Chicago for the national furniture style show, now in progress at the American Furniture mart, will compete for golf honors, instead of business today. The Chicago Furniture Field day will be held at Brae Loch Golf and Sports club, near Libertyville.

In addition to golf there will be tennis, horseshoes, swimming, and other sports. A special feature will be a tug of war between picked teams representing buyers from retail furniture stores and manufacturers' salesmen. The field day is sponsored by four furniture organizations: The Manufacturers' Agents club, Furniture Club of America, National Retail Furniture association, and the American Furniture mart.

under the grueling mile and a half up and down hill course. They also claimed the victor had a leg ailment. But when the race was over there was no question of the Scotch horse's superiority.

The winner's share of the purse was approximately $75,000. It was the first time Dewar, wealthy Scotch distiller and nephew of Lord Dewar, had ever entered a horse in the event. His uncle had tried a lifetime to win it and had willed Cameronian to his nephew. Freddie Fox, although England's leading jockey last year, had never ridden a Derby winner. It was also the first time in history that the winner of the Two Thousand Guineas race had also won the Derby.

Grindleton, a rank outsider, was leading at the half mile post after a perfect start. Close on his heels followed Gallini, a hot tip over night. At Tattenham Corner, about the halfway mark, Gallini had moved into first place and Cameronian was moving up fast right behind him. Both horses held on to their positions as they rounded the bend into the home stretch.

Fight It Out in Stretch.

A mighty shout of "Come on, Cameronian!" went up as the thoroughbreds started down the stretch and Cameronian and Orpen fought it out for the lead. Orpen dropped back and came again, with Sandwich alongside him, to challenge the leader, but neither was good enough to stand the pace of the fast stepping Cameronian.

The race was run in 2:36 3-5, which was considered excellent time.

There was no depression at the Derby today. All was elation, and the most hard-headed statistician would agree that the crowd was the greatest in Derby history. England was enjoying its greatest holiday. Everybody was there, from King George and Queen Mary to the humblest cockney and the office boy attending the annual burial of his grandmother. The grand stand was packed to capacity, the fans lining the course dozens deep.

At 10 o'clock the place took on great activity with the smell of hot coffee, fried fish, and innumerable other delectable dishes waiting to tax the gastronomic systems of racegoers.

"Sure Things" Sell Fast.

Tipsters dressed like jockeys harangued the crowds with tips on "sure things" inclosed in sealed envelopes. "The price is only 50 cents," they shouted. "Drop me a line and get your money back if they don't come in." Dozens of these pocketed shillings until their riding breeches were bulging with cash. THE TRIBUNE reporter bought an envelope on the second race. He was given a horse called Evaporate, and that is just what the tipster did when Evaporate lingered too long over the buttercup covered track.

King George got a great cheer when he entered the royal box, and the occasion was all the more impressive because it was also his birthday and the first time in several years he has been able to attend the race.

A detachment of London bobbies helped keep order and there were few disturbances. One came just after the Derby. It seems that the cry "They're off!" gave three bookies the idea that this was a good time to go home. Two of them carried out the idea, but wary cockneys detained the third and did all sorts of things to his physiognomy before the police rescued him and took him to a doctor.

Tannery Shows Mike Hall a Few Things About Winning

BY FRENCH LANE.

Tannery, the Kentucky son of Ballot-Blemished which has been cursed as often as he has been cheered, came marching home in the Kensington handicap at Washington Park yesterday.

There were plenty of cheers for Tannery as he skipped down the stretch showing his flying heels all the way to old Mike Hall, Lady Gibson, Royal Julian, and the Agua Caliente Derby winner, Up. He was the even money favorite.

And the horse which has caused his owner, E. F. Pritchard, so many heartaches and has cost his public a fortune, ran a mighty race. Mike Hall in his palmiest day might not have beaten him. Old Mike moved up as a menace in the stretch, but then he decided he wanted none of Tannery's game in this contest. He was content to gallop along three lengths back of Tannery and finish in second place.

Tannery reeled off the first mile in 1:38 1-5, and by the time he finished that task the others, including even the old router, Mike Hall, were willing to call it a bad day's work. Tannery went on for the next 70 yards and won as he pleased.

If Tannery holds to his form he's going to make all the handicappers in the west look to their laurels. He may not be a weight packer, for he had only 111 pounds up in the Kensington, but he carried that load as if 10 or 15 more pounds would not step him.

There were plenty of fireworks in the June Time purse at five furlongs. Tellico, winner and odds on favorite, was disqualified. Jockey Willie Garner, who rode him, had his license suspended. Bill Weant, Kentucky owner of Judge Primrose in the same race, was fined $100 for not having his horse in the paddock on time. The Judge had to be scratched just before the parade to the post started.

The race was a thriller. Three game and fast colts, Tellico, Marcasite, and Prince Hotspur, came thundering down the stretch inches apart. They finished inches apart with Tellico's nose in front. But during the torrid stretch struggle Jockey Willie Garner reached over and grabbed Jockey Charley Allen, who was riding Marcasite, by the knee. The stewards decided it wasn't a love pat nor a pat on the back, but just a yank at Jockey Allen's knee which nearly threw Marcasite off his stride.

Allen told the judges about it, but he really didn't have to, for it all happened right in front of them. The disqualification moved Marcasite, owned by the Middleburg stable of New York, into first place. It put Prince Hotspur second and moved Deenie into third place. With the money all down on Tellico, Marcasite paid $12.78 to win, $4.36 to place, and $4.98 to show.

Coming and going . . . John Wells, chairman of the board at Arlington Park, leaves for New York to witness the renewal of the Suburban Handicap at Belmont Saturday . . . H. T. Mrs. William Zeigler Jr. coming from New York Saturday to see her Sunny Lassie run in the Illinois Oaks.

While Cousin Jo and Sunny Lassie are commanding most of the attention in the renewal of the Illinois Oaks there are other fashionable fillies which will seek the prize. The list includes Dixiana stables' Lady Dean, George Collins' Thistle Billie, H. P. Gardiner's Betty Derr, Hamberg Place's Claret, J. P. Headley's Jacqueena, S. W. Labrots' Anne Arundel, Jake Lowenstein's Doris Jean, J. W. Parrish's Town Limit, Taree D's Cast and C. V. Whitney's Chene. There is every indication that Cousin Jo will be the favorite, probably at odds on.

Horse racing would be a great game if all the horses ran to form like Dick O'Hara. Good old Dick made his first start of the year in the South Shore purse yesterday and gave Pat Joyce's Emerald Green Jacket its first airing of the season. And good old Dick, always consistent, finished last.

PITTSBURGHER, Theodore E. Mueller's high-class 3-year-old, winner at Lexington, Churchill Downs and Washington Park, will face the starter in the AMERICAN DERBY, Saturday, June 20.

FIELD'S FOE IN BOUT HERE ONE OF 3 GREAT CUBANS

Kid Chocolate, the Cuban featherweight sensation, and Ignacio Ara, the Havana 152 pounder who knocked out Jim Dundee in one round in Cuba, are the other two. Saguero has met Ara twice and each has won a bout. Saguero won the Cuban welter title from Hilario Martinez.

Saguero showed how he compiled a winning streak of 71 victories in 75 engagements, which includes 40 knockouts, by flooring two sparring partners yesterday afternoon at Mullen's boxing gymnasium. Fields can be hit with a right hand and they are wagering that Saguero's right hand will land Jackie next week. Young Jack Thompson won the welterweight championship of the world from Fields with a right hand attack. Tommy Freeman had the Chicago born boxer on the canvas with right hands and so did Young Corbett. Still another right hand puncher, Jimmy McLarnin, knocked out Fields.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

CUBS AND SOX.

DEAR WAKE: May I reply with a few words to "White Sox Fan," who recently wrote to your column. In the first place, the south siders have been accustomed to a second division outfit, with little or nothing else since the lamented 1919 series. Many of their players are young fellows just breaking in.

On the other hand, the Cubs are for the most part a veteran outfit of high priced men who ought to play good ball. They have not finished out of the money since 1925 and won the pennant in 1929. Is it not right that we should expect good work from them?

Booing is poor sportsmanship, north or south. Let's all swear off. There is room for two ball clubs of different type in Chicago. Let us save our partisanship for the city series, which I, for one, hope will not be played because of a world series to take its place. Minnesota Cub.

Sox fans must remember that we north siders who admired Joe McCarthy, and I am one of them, are torn between a sense of loyalty to our old manager and our desire to stand by the Cubs. But let it never be said we are quitters. If we were we would not be Cub fans now after defeat in the world series of 1929 and failure to repeat a pennant victory in 1930. Furthermore, most of us feel only sympathy and respect for the Sox. Feminine Fan.

Do you know of any law in the state of Illinois which makes mandatory the attendance at Wrigley field of the white livered "sports" who throw lemons at Hack Wilson and boo Hornsby during a losing streak? Wm. D. Kow.

New Golf Ball.

Pursuant to our promise, The Wake tried out the new golf ball until rain drove us to the clubhouse. We present, therefore, our conclusions, subject to revision after more adequate investigation. This new ball, we found, was short off the tee in nearly every instance and did not reach the distance expected. On second shots it had a tendency to find the rough in its erratic flight. On approaching it usually was short, but possessed a hawklike faculty for locating traps. It required an average of three putts on the greens. Morsover, it does not float. Lest this be construed as unmitigated criticism, we now recall that these same defects existed in the official ball previously in use. If we get any more "inside" information we'll be glad to impart it.

First Hand Information.

HTW: I noticed an article in your column stating that Bill Lathrop, once of the White Sox and now in business in Janesville, Wis., pitched three games in 24 hours. It was not quite correct. I saw this fellow pitch those games. Here are the facts: He pitched at 4 o'clock one afternoon, a second game at 9 o'clock the next morning, a third game at 1 o'clock and a fourth game at 4 o'clock. The first game was tied and the next three were won. Whether or not this means anything I don't know, but I saw it done. In fact, I was the fellow who did the pitching. Wm. G. Lathrop.

Knives Fly as Americans Whip Italians

disaster. The ringside customers were beginning to glance backward and upward apprehensively for the knives and antipasto rinds of vengeance.

As a boxing team the Italians did not seem equal to the modest squad of French youths who boxed the Chicago and New York Golden Gloves team in Chicago on May 12 and in the matter of behavior the disparity was even more plain.

Longinotti Remains Calm.

Frank Fullam of New York almost knocked out the Italian middleweight, Aldo Longinotti, in the second round of their fight and the score against the Italians went to the dangerous figure of five defeats and one dubious victory when the American won this decision. Longinotti took his defeat with startling grace and civility and drew a few cheers from the New Yorkers downstairs.

In the heavyweight class, the A. A. U. put in the local champion of Westchester county, N. Y., Michael Vitrano, against Luigi Rovati, the national champion of Italy.

Rovati won the heavyweight fight, so the final score was five to two against the Fascist boxers. As the bouts ended the call went out for minute men to ballyhoo a loan for the impending war between the United States and Italy.

The crowd numbered about 10,000 and as the evening began you would not have said that the Metropolitan A. A. U. had failed in its duty to provide plenty of badges and officials to wear them. There were 78, all told, even including three dentists to repair any bridge work that might have been sprung from its abutments, but the great lack, when the emergency developed, was not dentists nor assistant announcers, but half a dozen New York policemen with nude fists, or, at most, night sticks, to admonish the high strung element up near the roof.

Cubs' Late Punch Beats Robins, 9 to 8

and two strikes and then fanned with a grunt and a flourish. Hemsley grounded to Bissonette for the second out, Stevie taking third. Jurges walked; then Grimm dumped one in short left center, Stevie scoring and Jurges taking third.

Blake beat out a roller to Bissonette, Jurges scoring and Grimm pulling up at second. It was at this point that Mr. Cuyler socked his homer, a beautiful drive well over the right field screen. The effort, of course, was good for three runs and lifted the total to five just before English supplied the belated third out with a fly.

In the third the Robins proceeded to whittle two runs off the Cub advantage. Frederick pushed off with his first double and went to third while English was throwing out Gilbert. Frederick scored ahead of Herman when the Babe knocked his homer into the right field bleachers.

Herman Hits Homer.

The Cub advantage was further reduced in the fourth. O'Doul singled and Slade struck out. O'Doul went to second on a wild pitch, whence he scored on a single by Thompson.

The Robins made two runs in the sixth to take a lead which did not last through the inning. O'Doul singled with one out and Slade walked. O'Doul took third while Thompson forced Slade and the bases were full when Vance walked. Frederick knocked his second double, scoring O'Doul and Thompson.

The Cubs tied the score in their end of the sixth in this manner. Hemsley beat out an infield single, stole second and raced on to third when Lopez threw the ball into center field. He came home on Grimm's third successive single.

Here's the detail of the goings on in the aforementioned Robin eighth with Teachout pitching. Thompson beat out a bunt and reached second ahead of Teachout's throw on Vance's intended sacrifice. Frederick popped to Hemsley in front of the plate, and Gilbert walked, filling the bases. Herman singled to left, scoring Thompson. Bissonette flied to Cuyler, but Teachout passed Lopez, forcing Vance to score.

You've been told how Wilson, restored to his old place in center, scored a run in the eighth, and only the detail of the Cub ninth remains to be recited. Cuyler got to second when Frederick, Thompson and Herman stood back on his fly. English grounded to Gilbert, who juggled the ball, Woody reaching first and Ki holding second. The two runners advanced on Hornsby's sacrifice, after which Stephenson was given an intentional pass, filling the bases.

Wilson bounced to Thompson and a game ending double play seemed imminent. But Fresco booted the ball, Cuyler ran in with the tying run and the bases were full.

De Hart Hubbard of Michigan set the college mark of 25 feet 10⅞ inches in the national meet in 1925. Ed Gordon of Iowa, defending national collegiate champion, jumped 25 feet last year and is credited with 25 feet 4⅝ inches at the 1931 Kansas relays.

Dick Barber of Southern California leaped 25 feet 3½ inches to win the eastern intercollegiates. Tomson of Nebraska jumped 25 feet 6¼ inches to win the Big Six title. Eleven entries this week have cleared 24 feet.

Discus throw—World record of 163 feet 8¾ inches, established by Krenz in 1929. Krenz broke this in the 1930 eastern collegiates with a throw of 167 feet 5⅜ inches, but at the national collegiates in 1930 Paul Jessup of Washington had a mark of 169 feet 8⅞ inches. The international federation has not passed on his record, which probably will be accepted.

Bob Jones of Stanford is the best college discus thrower. His mark last Saturday was 159 feet 2¼ inches. Kabat of Wisconsin, Big Ten champion, has a mark of 150 feet 10½ inches.

scoring. Lyons cut the rally short by poking into a double play.

There would have been another Sox run in the next session, but with Blue on second after a single and bunt, Foxx made a blind stab of a drive down the line by Fothergill.

Foxx and Miller were put out in the seventh before the champions began the maneuvers which brought them one run and a 2 to 1 lead. McNair, another one of the second stringers employed during the epidemic of charley horses among the Macks, tripled to the board in right center. Lyons elected to pitch to Heving and the bulky catcher drove a grounder back at Ted. It slid off his hand and by the time Fonseca could pick it up Heving was at first and McNair over the plate. Then Grove singled and Bishop walked, but Blue stopped further damage by knocking down Haas' drive back of the bag.

Lyons Hits; Others Fail.

Lyons tried to give his mates a start in the eighth, but it fizzled like the others. He singled past Bishop with one out. Blue, with two hits already to his credit, lifted a foul which Heving pulled in close to the stand. Then Manager Bush decided to let Appling bat for Watwood, who doesn't like southpaw pitching. The change didn't confuse Grove. He fanned Appling.

A slight ray of hope broke through again in the ninth. After two were out, Cissell drew the only pass surrendered by Grove. Spider Bill then stole second, but the show ended a moment later when Miller backed to the fence for Eichrodt's long fly.

Thomas and Earnshaw will handle the pitching tomorrow.

NEW YORK RALLY ENDS BEAR RAID ON INSULL ISSUES

Early Chicago Losses Are Reduced Before Close.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

When the final bell halted trading on the Chicago Exchange yesterday the quotations board presented a hodge-podge of price recessions and gains but failed to reflect the confusing trends which had taken place during the session.

Shortly before midday when the New York market was enjoying one of the sharpest rallies which has taken place during the current phase of the bear market, leading shares here were shriveling under a selling fire which at times approached white heat.

A Commonwealth Edison broke through its previous resistance level of 230 and went reeling down 10 points it appeared as if the professionals had finally found the range of the Insull stocks. Insull Utility tumbled 5 to scrape a new bottom at 20 and other issues in the group were being similarly harassed.

Shorts Feel Pressure.

But when things looked their worst here the New York tape was streaming out a story of briskly advancing stocks. Short sellers here reversed positions, but not in time to avoid a good deal of squeezing.

As the covering progressed Edison recovered half its loss and Insull snapped back to within a fraction of 25. Other issues followed. That market sponsors of the Insull stocks had lowered the supporting bids in their stocks was apparent, but it was a question if the turn of affairs in New York had been anticipated by them.

Other stocks generally spared in the early selling responded immediately to the happy state of affairs on the big board. The rally was not as sharp here, however, because of the relatively smaller short interest which furnished the basis for the upturn in New York. U. S. Radio was conspicuous during the proceedings when it shot up 3 points partially retrieving its recent losses.

E. L. Bruce Up Nearly 8 Points.

Quiet accumulation in E. L. Bruce which has been under way for a week or more, reached a climax when the price darted forward nearly 8 points on a thin market. The showing was achieved on a turnover of only 1,100 shares.

Another feature of the trading was the heavy turnover in Insull Utility debentures, which fluctuated in sympathy with the company's stock. On early weakness in the stock the debentures broke over 2 points to 75, but were bid up a point before the close. The trade in this security represented bonds of a par value of $32,000.

STEEL SCRAPING BOTTOM, TRADE REVIEWS SHOW

Season Influences Curtail Demand.

BY O. A. MATHER.

With another decline in operations of the steel industry in the last week, about the best comment that the mid-week reviews can offer is that the slow recession into the usual summer quietude indicates that production is scraping bottom. One of the reviews places current output at 42 per cent of capacity, compared with 44 per cent in the week; while another estimates operations at just above 40 per cent, a fractional recession.

"Seasonal influences and a fresh wave of pessimism, engendered by the performance of the securities markets, are having their effect on iron and steel demand," the Iron Age says. "The fact that production is still declining is not surprising; the impressive feature of the current situation is that the recession in output is so gradual.

Forget Volume Economies.

"Apparently there is little remaining margin between current consumption and rock bottom requirements, and meanwhile exaggerated caution is resulting in the piling up of deferred needs which, when released, should tend to make the eventual upturn in demand more pronounced.

"Producers have abandoned hope of the economies that come from volume and are more determined in their efforts to obtain prices in keeping with costs. Finished steel prices, as measured by the composite price, now average 3.102 cents a pound, or only $3.68 a ton above the low point reached in the last severe depression [1.981 cents a pound on Feb. 28, 1922.] Scrap prices have undergone a general decline of 25 to 50 cents a ton.

"A prime cause of the present decline in steel production is the slackening of activity in the motor car industry. Automotive demand for steel this month is expected to show further curtailment, since retail sales of cars have been adversely affected by the recent stock market slump.

Pig Iron Output Slows.

"Pig iron production in May showed a decline of 4½ per cent. While this was the first reduction in output since December, it was foreshadowed by the down turn of steel ingot production in April and the continued recession of steel works operations during the last month."

Industrial operations, as measured by consumption of electrical power, are holding about on a level heel. Production of electricity during the week ended May 30 was only slightly less than in the preceding week, despite the Memorial day holiday. Compared with a year ago, output showed a decline of 3.8 per cent, which compared with a recession of 4.4 per cent in the previous week from the like period in 1930.

Power production for May was 3½ per cent below May, 1930. This is the same figure that was shown for April and is 2 per cent better than the low point of 5½ per cent shown in January.

Cites Erosion Menace to Productivity of U. S. Land

BY SCRUTATOR.

Back of all artificial attempts to bring relief to the farmer there are natural physical and economic forces at work which eventually are destined to solve the problem of crop surpluses.

One of these is sheet erosion, the continuous process which steals a part of the topsoil each time there is a heavy enough rainfall for water to run downhill.

Erosion may do more than reduce crop surpluses. Unless checked it threatens in time to destroy vast areas of the most productive land in America.

Land impoverished from overcropping can usually be made to produce profitable yields through fertilization and soil improving crops, but land worn out by erosion is essentially hopeless. It is not merely depreciated. It is gone—washed away into swamps, mixed with sand on stream bottoms or carried out to sea.

Experiment Stations.

During the last two years the United States department of agriculture has established eight regional experiment stations where a thorough study of erosion problems is being made. They will eventuallly number about twenty and are established on farms where erosion is a serious regional problem.

The extent of the damage being done by erosion was brought out yesterday by H. H. Bennett, soil scientist of the department of agriculture, at the annual meeting of the American Forestry association at Ashville, N. C.

"Excessive washing has virtually destroyed more than 17,000,000 acres of formerly tilled land in this country," he said, "but there is a vastly larger area whose surface soil is slowly but constantly being washed thinner and thinner by every rain. The washing away of the topsoil is rapidly lessening the productivity of our land."

Yields Not Increasing.

The extent of the damage being done by this wearing away of the more fertile part of the land is indicated by the fact that in spite of all the benefits of research and extension service country-wide yields are not increasing. In many sections crop yields are actually decreasing.

Before the land was extensively cultivated erosion did little damage. But with the rapid clearing away of the forests and plowing up of grazing land the protective covering of vegetation was removed and the earth exposed to the wearing away by the elements. Under its new environment the soil, wherever there is any considerable slope, has become one of the most changeable and readily destructive of all our major natural resources.

"Under these unnatural, man-induced conditions," says Mr. Bennett, "in many parts of the United States the entire topsoil is frequently washed off down to relatively unproductive subsoil within periods of 25 to 40 or 50 years.

"Probably no other nation or people of historic or prehistoric times has wasted its agricultural lands more rapidly than the United States."

Estimates of Damage.

Estimates have been made that in the Piedmont plateau, extending from Alabma to New Jersey and comprising about fifty million acres, between 60 and 65 per cent of the land which is or has been under cultivation has lost from 4 to 14 inches of topsoil and subsoil.

In the Tennessee valley area the topsoil is largely gone from most of the older sloping fields and the slopes are no longer characteristically smooth. Most of them are now broken by deep and shallow gullies.

The rolling black lands of central Texas, says Mr. Bennett, are doomed to destruction unless a great deal more is done to protect their slopes.

He suggests better land utilization, better protection of cultivated slopes with terraces or other means and the use of certain lands for forests as preventives of soil erosion.

MONTGOMERY WARD SALES

Sales of Montgomery Ward & Co. last month were somewhat less than either in April or in May, 1930. May sales totaled $18,547,245, compared with $20,558,449 in April and $25,050,304 in May, 1930. The decline from a year ago was $6,503,059, or 25.96 per cent.

This large decrease was attributed by Montgomery Ward officials to the fact that sales in May last year were abnormal because the company was then liquidating inventories by unusual sales efforts. As a result sales passed the usual seasonal curve and showed a gain of 26 per cent over May, 1929. It was said that had sales in May last year followed the current trend in 1930 they would have been about equal last month with those for May, 1930.

Sales for the five months thus far this year have totaled $88,572,030, compared with $106,195,803 for the corresponding period in 1930, a decline of $17,623,773, or 16.60 per cent. Most of this decrease results from lower prices of merchandise and commodities.

Copper Sells at 8c Pound; Lowest Price on Record

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 3.—Copper sold today at 8 cents a pound for domestic shipment following sales yesterday at 8⅛ cents. The official price, however, was still 8½ cents. That is the lowest price at which the metal has ever sold, according to available records.

REQUIREMENTS FOR MARGINS REDUCED TO 20 PCT. IN GOTHAM

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 3.—Most of the large Wall street banks have reduced margin requirements on regular street loans from 25 to 20 per cent, it was announced today.

The action was regarded in the financial district as a constructive move, inasmuch as it will permit brokers to obtain a higher percentage of cash on stock collateral and will enable them to reduce margin requirements to customers. The reduction comes as a result of the steady decline in security prices and is a reverse of the action taken in 1929, when margins were repeatedly advanced as stocks soared to record heights.

In announcing the reduction to customers the Guaranty Trust company said the move had been made because it was believed the market had approached a level in quoted values where a 20 per cent margin in loans could be considered conservative.

The Chase National and the National City joined in reducing their margin requirements to the same extent.

The reduction on street loans applies to regular day to day loans to brokers made on the floor of the stock exchange or direct, and is not confined merely to loans to customers of the bank, which are always subject to special consideration.

Urge Company to Operate East Texas Oil Field

Dallas, Texas, June 3.—(AP)—Formation of a huge corporation to take over operation of the new east Texas oil field was urged today by Robert R. Penn of Dallas in addressing the production division of the American Petroleum Institute. Penn is vice president of the A. P. I. in charge of the production division and member of the Texas state central proration committee.

"The east Texas field has depressed the price of the average barrel of crude oil at least 40 cents per barrel already," Penn said. "That means a loss of $960,000 per day on the average production of the country. There can be only one answer. That is complete unitization of the east Texas field.

Under Independent Control.

"The logical solution is the formation of a corporation to be controlled by the independent operators. Such a corporation could agree with the larger companies, which own larger percentages of the field, to operate all of the properties jointly under management of the independent corporation. Thus the corporation of the independents could handle the entire operating property, delivering the oil in agreed proportions to the various companies."

Stock of this corporation, he said, would be listed on the New York exchange.

Asks Special Session.

Tulsa, Okla., June 3.—(AP)—Senator George McGill [Dem., Kas.] telegraphed President Hoover from Wichita urging that a special session of congress be called. He said the federal government is the only agency which can deal adequately with the oil situation.

The Texas company and the Humble Oil and Refining company announced they would discontinue posting prices for the new east Texas field. The huge production from this field, which is only six months old, is blamed by oil men for overproduction resulting in the latest price cut.

The new price schedule of 25 to 37 cents a barrel, initiated Monday by the Stanolind Crude Oil Purchasing company, was made unanimous today among the major purchasers.

Belief that this week's reduction in midcontinent crude oil prices, now the lowest since 1906, will prove an aid in starting the petroleum industry on the road to better times was expressed here today by Harry F. Sinclair.

Favors Import Embargo.

Coffeyville, Kas., June 3.—(AP)—Harold McGugin, Republican congressman from the third Kansas district, petitioned President Hoover today for an executive order placing an embargo against the importation of foreign oil.

"If the next sixty days continues as the last sixty days," McGugin said, "the midcontinent oil industry individually and corporation owned, will be on the courthouse steps for sale."

INSULL INTEREST TO GET EASTERN UTILITY CONCERN

Upon completion of the pending reorganization of Atlantic Public Utilities, Inc., the company and its principal subsidiaries will be acquired by the Insull interests, according to bankers who are active in the reorganization plan.

The properties acquired will be allocated, it is said, to the various companies of the National Electric Power company, principal holding company for Insull properties in the east. Properties of the Atlantic system are located in New England, West Virginia and Kentucky.

Receivers were named for Atlantic Public Utilities, Inc., about a year ago and under an agreement of reorganization announced last month it was stated that the Insull interests had agreed to purchase the senior issue of bonds together with the equity stock of the new companies to be set up.

General Theatres Takes No Action on Dividend

No action has been taken by the directors of General Theatres Equipment on the quarterly dividend which was due June 1 on the preferred stock voting trust certificates. Heretofore the certificates have been on a $3 annual basis, the last quarterly dividend of 75 cents being paid March 1. It was stated at the offices of the company here that there has been no recent meeting of directors at which dividend action was considered.

Ten Years Ago in Finance

Montgomery Ward & Co. sales for May, 1921, were $5,320,855 compared with $8,329,557 in May, 1920, a decrease of 36.12 per cent.

Prime commercial paper was quoted at 6½ to 7 per cent; domestic bar silver at 99¼ cents, foreign, 57⅞; call money average rate, 7 per cent.

Wire nail, sugar, and auto price reductions are all made in one day.

The Chicago Stock Exchange plans to list public utility securities in larger volume. The project is endorsed by Samuel Insull.

U. S. Steel shares close at 79¾ on the New York Stock Exchange on sales of only 200 shares. American Telephone closes at 104¾.

Liberty 3½'s break to a new low record in the New York bond market, selling down to 86.

July wheat rises to new peak of $1.40 a bushel. A large export business is reported by the grain trade.

BY FRED HARVEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 3.—A rousing stock market rally—the first in many weary weeks—and the widest since Nov. 15, 1928—brought cheer and abundant profit to speculative Wall street today. Prices went mushrooming from 1 to 8 points all over the board and the pace of buying struck a clip lively enough to distance the ticker by several minutes—a phenomena not seen before in about two months.

Overnight news from Washington that the government had decided to drop its suit to prevent the Vacuum-Standard Oil of New York merger and the announcement that most of the big banks of the city had agreed to reduce their marginal requirements for brokers' loans were chief factors of the sudden right-about in trading sentiment.

Shorts Forced to Cover.

Then, too, the market's oversold condition, which has been becoming more and more apparent in the last few days, acted as an internal stimulant, causing a rush of short covering that sent values kiting rapidly once the course had ben definitely turned toward higher levels. Buying of this character assumed really urgent proportions in the late dealings, particularly in some of the "blue chip" targets of recent bear operations like United States Steel, American Telephone, General Motors, American Can, General Electric, Atchison, New York Central and Union Pacific.

Bidding in U. S. Steel occurred at intervals a point or more above the prices ruling on the tape and the same condition ruled in some of the others. The ease with which these stocks rushed forward showed vividly just how briskly shorts were being forced

Growing over 3 times as fast

During the last ten years, deposits of all reporting banks in the United States increased 55 per cent. In the same period, the deposits of the Harris Trust and Savings Bank increased 199 per cent—over three times as much.*

The management of the Harris Trust and Savings Bank has remained the same. There have been no consolidations.

The tripling of deposits (from $33,000,000 to $100,000,000) was due largely, we believe, to our close co-operation with our customers in the development of their business. We can prosper only as they grow and prosper. Realizing this fact, our officers are always ready to take all the time necessary to discuss with you any business or personal problem to which you think they can contribute anything of value.

*Deposits of all reporting banks in the United States increased from $38,503,728,000 on June 30, 1921, to $59,652,998,000 on June 30, 1930 (latest available figures). Deposits of the Harris Trust and Savings Bank were $33,996,513 on June 30, 1921, and $101,740,536 on June 30, 1930

Estimated receipts at Chicago today: Cattle, 6,000; hogs, 20,000; sheep, 12,000.

There was a better tone in all live stock markets yesterday when supplies fell short again. Cattle are selling 50c to $1.00 above the low time last week, while hogs show uneven gains of 10@40c compared with last Thursday, the low spot this year. Lambs show little gain, but quality is better and bulk of sales higher, due to the larger proportion of choice grades in recent arrivals.

A decrease of 24 per cent in cattle receipts at leading markets this week and prospects of light supplies the rest of the week shifted most of the advantage to the selling side yesterday. Salesmen have hopes of bringing the $9.00 quotation into play today. Yesterday's peak at $8.75 was paid for 1,063 lb yearlings. Prime weighty beeves reached $8.00@8.25 and the bulk of sales moved up to $7.00@8.00.

At the low time last week the top price sank to $7.50. Since then supplies have been held down to a minimum. The total at 20 markets for the first half of this week at 107,000 compares with 140,000 a week ago and shows a decrease of 35 per cent compared with a year ago. Outside demand is holding up well. During the first three days of this week shippers bought 37 per cent of Chicago cattle receipts, against 34 per cent a week ago, 28 per cent a year ago, and 29 per cent two years ago.

September Hogs $7.00.

The market for hog futures showed more life yesterday, although buying was confined to September contracts. Trading in other months was at a standstill again. Contracts for four carloads of medium and heavy hogs averaging 210@310 lbs, were sold for delivery during the first half of next September at $7.00 or 10c above the last sale of similar contracts. Light weights for September were bid $6.75. On the "to arrive" market, light weights for today's delivery were bid $6.25 and mediums were bid $6.20, but there were no offers to sell at these prices.

Medium and weighty butcher hogs showed most of the strength again yesterday, resulting in a marked narrowing of the price range. The "spread" between the top and average prices amounted to only 30c, the smallest since the middle of last December. In February the two prices were $1.00 apart and early last week showed a spread of 55c. Unevenness yesterday ranged from steady to 15c higher, plain quality light weights showing little change.

Buying of "lard" hogs by almost all interests has been a feature of the trade lately. Hundreds of 400@500 lb packing sows sold at $4.50@5.00. The clearance in all branches was good and few of the 4,000 left were being offered for sale when another light supply was posted for today's session.

Choice Lambs in Demand.

Best grades of fat lambs were in good demand at steady prices, while others moved slowly on a "catch as catch can" trade later in the day. Ten carloads of the best Idaho range lambs this season sold to Armour, Swift and Wilson at $10.50 straight. One carload to a city butcher reached $10.60. The quality of these lambs was above average. Most closely sorted natives sold around $10.00, a few to shippers reaching $10.25. Aged sheep and yearlings were unchanged. Several loads of yearlings, previously classed as shorn lambs, sold at $8.00@ $.60.

RAILWAY ISSUES LEAD RALLY IN MARKET ON BONDS

New York, June 3.—(AP)—The bond market staged a rally during the second half of the session today and closing levels among the active issues were irregularly higher.

Net gains of 1 point or more were scored by such rail issues as St. Paul 5s of 2000, the adjustment 5s and the general 4s, Chicago and North Western series A 4½s, Rock Island refunding 4s, Erie general 4s and refunding and improvement 5s, Great Northern 7s, Missouri Pacific series A 5½s, general 4s and several other series of 5 per cent bonds, New York Central 4½s of 2013 and refunding 5s of that year, Oregon, Washington 4s of 1961, Pennsylvania debenture 4½s, Southern Pacific 4½s and several issues of the St. Louis-San Francisco.

SEE IMPROVEMENT.

Reports of San Francisco department stores for the first two weeks in May indicate moderate improvement, according to the Midwest Issues Business Outlook, published by the Wells-Fargo Bank and Union Trust company of San Francisco.

SHIPPING BOARD AUTHORIZES SALE OF DIAMOND LINE

Washington, D. C., June 3.—(AP)—The shipping board today authorized the sale of one of the most important of the thirteen steamship lines still remaining in the government's possession.

The American Diamond line, consisting of twelve steel ships built during the war and now plying between North Atlantic ports and Rotterdam and Antwerp, was sold to the Black Diamond Steamship corporation of New York, its present managing operator, for $1,600,181.

The action was in accord with recommendations of a special commission of business men appointed by President Hoover to study conditions in the North Atlantic freight traffic and designate the most satisfactory disposal of the lines.

The sale is subject to a guarantee of performance of a proposed ocean mail contract involving reconditioning five of the ships to increase their speed to 13 knots and building five new 16 knot ships at an estimated cash outlay by the corporation of $5,000,000. The new ships would be produced at intervals during the ten year life of the contract.

ORDERS EXPAND.

A substantial increase in orders for aluminum and brass castings thus far this year is reported by the Doehler Die Castings corporation.

POLISH WOMEN'S GROUP TO ERECT FIVE STORY HOME

Makes Study of Land Uses in Evanston.

Construction is scheduled to start shortly on a five story and basement building at 1309-15 North Ashland avenue as the national headquarters of the Polish Women's National Alliance of America. The new structure will replace the old home of the organization, which is now being wrecked.

Slupkowski and Piontek, architects, designed the building, which is to cost around $250,000. Construction will be of reinforced concrete and steel, with a street elevation of brick and Indiana limestone. The site is 72x121 feet. The organization has 175,000 members. Temporary quarters will be located at 1318 North Ashland avenue.

Studies Evanston Land.

If all Evanstonians preferred to dwell in single family homes rather than in apartments it would take twelve and a half times as much land as is now used in the university suburb to accommodate them, is the conclusion reached by Prof. Albert Greene Hinman of the land economics and real estate department of Northwestern university in a recently completed study.

Prof. Hinman states that the apartment is an established type of home in Evanston and that there is reason to expect it to become of increasing rather than decreasing significance. He estimates that 236,751 front feet of additional land area will be required in Evanston for housing between now and 1940.

Flat Reorganization.

As a step in the reorganization of the apartment house property at 627-49 Roscoe street the Foreman State Trust and Savings bank has transferred title as trustee to Adolph Fisher, who represents a bondholders' committee. The ground, 157½x133 feet, is improved with a three story apartment house containing sixty two, three, and four room flats. Pritzker and Pritzker were attorneys.

The six flats at 5427 Ingleside avenue were sold by James Tashky to George A. Jewett for a reported $36,500, subject to $17,000. Cash was paid for the equity. P. Q. Cook was broker and Morris K. Levison was attorney.

EBBING TIDE TURNS AT LAST ON N. Y. CURB; PRICES RISE ON RALLY

New York, June 3.—(AP)—Stock prices in the curb market rallied briskly today as the ebbing tide turned after two weeks of steadily declining prices.

The broad advance of the oils was the feature of the recovery which brought gains ranging from good fractions to 11 points. The extreme advance was registered by Vacuum, which was heavily bought following the announcement yesterday that the government did not contemplate carrying its fight any further against the proposed $900,000,000 merger of Vacuum and Standard of New York into the newly formed General Petroleum company.

Apparently the street, which had regarded the suit as a test case, interpreted the action as favorable to other possible mergers in the Standard group, for petroleum shares generally joined in the upturn. Advances in other sections were of more modest proportions.

Standard of Indiana advanced nearly 3, Gulf moved up 4, Humble, 3; Saxet, 1, and Cities Service and Imperial nearly a point. General Petroleum, traded on a when issued basis, quickly advanced 2 points to 15, its closing figure. Vacuum, which opened at 29¼, up 5⅝, sold as high as 34⅞ and closed at 34½, a net gain of 11¼. Standard of Ohio slumped 3, but closed unchanged.

REORGANIZATION PLAN GIVEN FOR CANADA POWER

Montreal, Que., June 3.—(AP)—Charles A. Dunning, chairman of the securities committee of the Canada Power and Paper corporation, today outlined the plan of capital reorganization for the company. The company, securities of which, together with constituent companies, are held by between 29,000 and 30,000 persons, is one of the largest producers of newsprint paper in the world.

Solution of its difficulties is said to have an important bearing upon rehabilitation of newsprint as a whole.

Mr. Dunning's plan calls for the formation of a new company, with a capitalization of first mortgage bonds [including first mortgage sterling debenture stock] and one class of shares, which will take over the undertakings and assets of the corporation and most of its constituent companies. The new bonds and debenture stock will be on an income basis for five years, and the new securities will be made available for exchange for the existing securities. No new money is being asked for.

Authorized capitalization of the new company, under the plan, will consist of $100,000,000 first mortgage bonds, including first mortgage sterling debenture stock, and 2,000,000 shares without par value. Of the bonds, $65,000,000 will be authorized for immediate issue as 30 year 5½ per cent bonds and sterling debenture stock, which will be on an income basis for five years but will bear fixed interest thereafter.

Hammonds Again Are Active in Gold Mining

Through the purchase of a controlling interest in the Golden Chariot-War Eagle Mines company by Engineers Exportation Syndicate, Inc., John Hayes Hammond, his son, Warren Hammond, W. R. Wade, and associates have again become actively interested in gold mining. Mr. Hammond is vice president of the engineers syndicate, and his son, Harris Hammond, is president of the syndicate. The properties of the mining company are located near Silver City, Idaho.
